PARIS SHIES AT BRITISH-ITALIAN PEACE SCHEME

France Insists Her Allies Be Protected.

The Day in Europe

BERLIN—Chancellor Hitler's government announces it will ask the new reichstag, which convenes today, to abdicate in favor of a dictatorship for four years or "for the duration of the present German government." Police, supported by Nazis, raid home of Prof. Albert Einstein in search of arms. Details on Page 3.

LONDON.—Great Britain breaks off negotiations with Russia for trade treaty until Moscow gives "satisfaction" for arrest of six British nationals on charges of sabotage. Details on Page 2.

PARIS, March 20.—(AP)—A treaty, valid for ten years, is envisaged in Premier Mussolini's peace plan. This was semi-officially announced here tonight.

This pact, described as embracing "all nations concerned," would be renewable for a second period of ten years unless denounced a year previous to its expiration.

It further implies a right to revise extisting peace treaties within the stipulations of the league of nations covenant. Recognition of Germany's claims to arms equality, granted by the disarmament conference in Geneva in December, also is understood to be confirmed in the proposal.

France Wary of Plan.

In a three-hour session tonight, the French cabinet debated the peace suggestions and decided to defer decision until tomorrow, when Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain, who is on his way here from his week-end conference with Mussolini, is expected to reveal the full details of the proposal to Premier Daladier and Foreign Minister Paul-Boncour.

While Daladier and Paul-Boncour are expected cordially to discuss the Mussolini plan with MacDonald and Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, they are expected also to ask more time to study some of the features which appear to them to need serious modifications.

A government spokesman said the project contained the seed of a possible European agreement, but the French would insist that it be kept within the framework of the league of nations and that the rights of the smaller powers be protected against infringement. He said France's relations with Poland and the little entente [France's allies] made it necessary that the government protect their interests. He said France did not wish to have the four great powers—Great Britain, France, Italy and Germany—seem to be dictating the law to Europe.

MacDONALD QUITS ROME

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, March 20.—After two days of conferences with Premier Mussolini, Prime Minister MacDonald and Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon tonight are on their way to Paris for a luncheon engagement at the British embassy there tomorrow with Premier Daladier. The British statesmen will lay the Mussolini plan to preserve peace in Europe before France.

Mussolini was all smiles and in rare good humor at the railway station when he saw MacDonald off, and it was remarked that Henri de Jouvenal, French ambassador, was also in the farewell party at the station.

In a statement before his departure, MacDonald denied that the Mussolini project involved any particular four European powers. He was of the opinion that his trip to Rome had been profitable and that he had found here a spirit of comprehension of Europe's problems which chimed with the British viewpoint. He said that no treaty was involved in the four power collaboration project.

Wants Agreement Among All.

"The idea is for complete agreement among all, not an understanding between two, three, four, five or six powers to impose an agreement on the rest," MacDonald said. "We are not even drawing up a list of the powers involved. You must bear in mind the present situation—what are its dangers and what are its opportunities. That is what we examined.

"Our aim is to pacify Europe. We are not against patriotism. That has its place. It is no use trying to recreate mankind. We take men as we find them. We must bind nationalis-

TALKS TO CHIEFS OF CONGRESS AT WHITE HOUSE

Message on Work for Idle Today.

BY JOHN BORTTIGER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 20.—[Special.]—A broad picture of his whole program for reviving the nation from depression was presented by President Roosevelt to leaders of both parties in congress.

The President emphasized to the congressmen that he expected them to enact laws for the entire program by the first of May. He told them plainly that he intended to stand firmly for the principles he is enunciating and would not approve major changes.

After the meeting, held in the President's study at the White House, this formal statement was issued on the President's behalf:

"A most interesting discussion was held between the President and a number of senators and members of the house of representatives. The discussion covered many phases of the economic problem.

Talk on Farm Relief.

"The subjects discussed included, among others, farm relief through efforts to raise crop prices and legislation to prevent the foreclosure of mortgages on both homes and farms; a program to improve and coodinate railroad operations; another program relating to the general problems of transportation and the immediate unemployment relief efforts divided into three parts—immediate work in national and state forests, government aid to states and a future program of public works.

"In the field of banking, correction of existing abuses was discussed."

Speaker Rainey, upon leaving the White House at the conclusion of the conference revealed that the President tomorrow will submit to congress a message dealing with unemployment relief, and that a bill will be introduced simultaneously giving the President authority to send men from the ranks of the unemployed into army camps, and to divert them from the camps to work in the national and state forests.

No Agreement on Cost.

The speaker said no decision had been reached as to how much money must be appropriated for the purpose, and left the impression that in the beginning a modest start would be made, the number of men put to work being increased as additional funds could be found.

The farm relief bill will be passed by the house tomorrow, Speaker Rainey declared firmly, and he expressed confidence that the senate also would approve the measure substantially as the administration had drawn it.

"We're also going to reduce the interest on farm mortgages," the speaker said, in his discussion of the Roosevelt program as it was given by the President tonight. Asked how the congress would go about reducing farm loan interest, Mr. Rainey said: "I don't know how we'll do it but we will do it—maybe by bond issues or something."

"We're going to give the farmers a chance to save their lands and homes," he added.

In the presidential relief message going to congress tomorrow the President will not make recommendations for extending the facilities of the R. F. C. to grant further loans to states for direct relief works.

Those in Conference.

Among the congressional leaders participating in the White House conference were Vice President Garner, Senators Charles L. McNary of Oregon, Republican leader; George W. Norris [Rad., Neb.], Burton K. Wheeler [Dem., Mont.], Key Pittman [Dem., Nev.], and Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.]; Speaker Rainey and Congressmen Joseph W. Byrns [Dem., Tenn.], John McDuffie [Dem., Ala.], Bertrand H. Snell [Rep., N. Y.], the Republican leader; Marvin Jones [Dem., Tex.], chairman of the committee on agriculture; James P. Buchanan [Dem., Tex.], chairman of the committee on appropriations, and Heartsill Ragon of Arkansas, acting for the committee on ways and means. Lewis Douglas, the director of the budget, also attended the conference.

Seeks Test of Support.

Some of the President's advisers were fearful that congress, in its treatment of the farm bill, was showing signs of wanting to resist the swift rush of the Roosevelt new deal and the President was particularly interested in tonight's conference, to ascertain if there was a general weakening of support for his measures.

The President was given warm as-

BEER GANGSTER TURNS BANDIT AND IS SLAIN

The decline and fall of a once prosperous beer runner came to light last night after Edward H. Felch, a former Alaskan bear hunter, trained his bear rifle on two bandits who had just robbed him and shot and killed one of them. The killing ocurred outside of Felch's gasoline station at 8454 Vincennes avenue.

Papers in the dead robber's pockets led to his identification as Robert B. Keating, 35 years old, of 7446 Eggleston avenue, former beer runner, and brother of the notorious Francis Keating, now serving a sentence in federal prison for the Evergreen Park mail robbery some years back.

Pair Hold Up Oil Station.

Shortly before 7 o'clock last night Robert Keating and another man drove up to Felch's filling station. The other man alighted, held up Felch in the office, and took $11. He failed to see in a corner a repeating rifle and automatic pistol which Felch had placed there after a robbery at the station last Friday.

When the robber departed, Felch picked up his rifle and followed him outside. Felch, who is 30 years old, is considered an expert shot, having had seven years' experience in Alaska, during which he brought down dozens of bears. The rifle was one he had used in Alaska. As the two robbers started away Felch fired seven rifle shots into the rear of their car. One struck Keating in the back of the head, killing him. The second bandit jumped from the car and fled on foot.

Once Ally of Danny Stanton.

Identification of the slain robber as Keating revealed his fall from the once prosperous beer racket. Not long ago, police said, he was an important cog in the beer activities of Danny Stanton and Ralph Shelton. In those days Keating flashed rolls of bills, drove expensive cars, and lived in luxury.

Keating, the once prosperous beer runner, carried in his pocket a charity card issued by the Illinois relief commission.

Court Rules It's No Crime to Kiss a "Provoking Girl"

BUENOS AIRES, March 20.—It is not a punishable offense in Argentina to kiss a woman without her consent, provided her comportment is "provoking," according to a court decision today.

EVANSTON CAN DRINK BEER BUT WILL BAR SALE

Evanston, the national home of the Women's Christian Temperance union, informally prepared last night for the advent of 3.2 per cent beer among its citizens, but with this proviso:

Beer must not be bought or sold in Evanston.

At the council meeting it was voted to instruct Corporation Counsel William Lister to draw up a beer ordinance to be voted on April 3, two days before the expected legal return of beer.

This ordinance, to follow the pattern of the pre-war malt ordinance in Evanston, will allow the transportation and possession of beer in the city. Purchase of the beverage, however, must be made outside Evanston. A suggestion that a beer depot be established in the city was frowned upon.

Spectator Turns Defendant When Bottle Strikes Floor

Jefferson City, Mo., March 20.—(AP)—While Clem Timmons was listening in federal court to liquor law violating cases today, a bottle slipped from his pocket. Spectator became defendant immediately. Arresting officers told Judge Albert L. Reeves the bottle contained whisky. Timmons was fined and sentenced to three months in jail for contempt of court.

Dramatic Race to Hospital Saves Mother

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

One of those tense dramas of the medical world, enacted at dawn yesterday, ended last night with Mrs. Juliana Kozubet rescued from impending death, and her newborn nine pound son sleeping in a room at the Chicago Lying-In hospital. And on the north side of Chicago Leonard Bergstrom, senior medical student at the University of Wisconsin, was recovering from bruises and the loss of the pint of blood he contributed to save the mother's life.

Mother's Life in Danger.

Mrs. Kozubet's seventh child was born at her home, 2137 North Hoyne avenue, early yesterday morning. She suffered a hemorrhage, and her physicians, Drs. Frances Foster and Beatrice Tucker of the Chicago Maternity center, 1336 Newberry avenue, were convinced that she must be rushed to a hospital for a transfusion, or death was imminent. An ambulance was called, and the trip begun to the Lying-In hospital. At Hoyne and Armitage avenues, another car smashed head-on into the ambulance.

Injured Student Gives Blood.

Bergstrom was carrying the two hour old baby. Both he and Dr. Tucker were bruised and shaken, and Mrs. Kozubet's condition was made even more dangerous by shock, although she was not injured. On arriving at the hospital, no one could be found at that hour whose blood was of the same type as the patient's, except Bergstrom. He thereupon submitted to the transfusion.

Last night both Bergstrom and Dr. Tucker were patients at the Maternity center, and Mrs. Kozubet, at the Lying-In hospital, was declared to be out of danger. She is 39 years old and the wife of Valenti Kozubet.

MOTHER OF SIX WALKS 30 MILES FOR HER TRIAL

Springfield, Ill., March 20.—(AP)—Mrs. Anna Kubelka, 55, of Madison, mother of six children, walked 30 miles to Springfield to plead guilty in federal court today to charges of violating the national prohibition law.

After hearing the woman's story Federal Judge Charles G. Briggle proposed a collection of money in the court room, so she would not have to walk home. He sentenced her to one day's custody in care of the marshal.

Mrs. Kubelka told the judge she had no way to support the children except

HALF A BILLION ECONOMY BILL BECOMES LAW

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 20.—[Special.]—Barely a fortnight after taking the oath of office, President Roosevelt today delivered the first installment of his promise to the people of a new deal when he signed the epochal five hundred million dollar economy bill.

The achievement shattered all records. Never before in peace times had a President obtained the enactment so promptly of a major measure on his program. Never before had the cost of the federal government been cut a half a billion dollars in a single flourish of the snickersnee. Never before had war veterans been voted off the pension rolls.

Uses 5 Cent Pen.

This governmental miracle was completed while the President was lunching at his desk with Henry Morgenthau Jr., his newly appointed chairman of the farm board. One of his secretaries, Stephen T. Early, brought in the engrossed bill and handed the President a five cent pen. Mr. Roosevelt turned from his bowl of soup and, after several ineffectual scratchings with Early's economy pen referred to by an onlooker as "a postoffice pen," got his signature affixed in due form. The President leaned back with a sigh of satisfaction and requested his secretary to send the historic pen to Lewis Douglas, director of the budget.

The revision downward of war veterans' payments is to become effective July 1 next, according to the present plans of the administration. The reduction of pay of government employés will go into effect April 1.

Estimate of Economies.

According to administration estimates, the following economies will be achieved by the act signed today:

1. Elimination of nonservice connected disability allowances to world war veterans	$201,652,000
2. Reduction of pay of the bureaucracy	125,000,000
3. Reduction of Spanish-American war pensions	95,000,000
4. Establishment of uniform schedules for disability payments to veterans	40,000,000
5. Limitation on retroactive payments	25,000,000
6. Miscellaneous	22,000,000
Total	$508,652,000

With these economies effected the new administration will have made a big start toward the redemption of the Democratic platform pledge to reduce the cost of the federal government by not less than 25 per cent.

May be Other Savings.

Whether economies in addition to those provided in the act signed today will aggregate as much as half a billion dollars will be disclosed when the administration is ready to announce its program for reorganization of the executive branch of the government. Under legislation enacted by the last congress the President is authorized to consolidate and abolish bureaus, boards, and commissions. Preliminary estimates were that about 200 millions could be saved by such reorganization.

With beer yielding an estimated 125 millions and the extended gasoline tax 137 millions the administration expects the economies effected to meet the prospective billion dollar deficit in the fiscal year 1934 and thereby assure the balancing of the budget without recourse to other or higher taxes.

Prospective Deficit.

The following tabulation shows a prospective deficit for 1934 of $984,579,864:

Estimated expenditures for the fiscal year 1934 on the basis of bills enacted into law, plus the independent offices bill as it reached the White House and the District of Columbia bill conference report	$3,886,470,000
Deduct public debt retirements	535,070,300
Net total from treasury	3,351,399,700
Receipts for 1934 as estimated in budget in December	2,949,162,713
Less foreign debt payments included in above but probably not in sight	328,742,877
	$2,620,419,836
Franchise tax receipts, etc., which under law must be applied to debt reduction	3,600,000
Net receipts	2,616,819,836
Probable shrinkage since December in income taxes, customs, miscellaneous taxes, etc., as result of bank situation and other unfavorable factors	250,000,000
Total receipts	$2,366,819,836

Administration leaders have been making predictions for some time that the budget will be balanced.

Kansas House Hits Senate Action for Repeal Session

Topeka, Kas., March 20.—(AP)—The Kansas house late today killed a senate resolution to set up the machinery for Kansas' ratification or rejection of the proposal to repeal the 18th amendment. The vote was 64 to 54.

SENATE AGREES TO ALCOHOLIC CONTENT OF 3.2

President May Sign Bill Tonight.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 20.—[Special.]—Beer with a pre-prohibition kick of 4 per cent by volume will go on sale in Illinois and twenty-two other states early in April, probably on Wednesday, April 5.

This was assured today when the senate adopted the conference report on the Cullen-Harrison bill legalizing the sale of beer, wine, cider and fruit juices providing the alcoholic content does not exceed 3.2 per cent by weight or 4 per cent by volume.

The house is slated to approve the report shortly after noon tomorrow. It will rush the revised bill to the White House. President Roosevelt almost certainly will sign it tomorrow night.

Sale Restrictions Removed.

As the beer and wine bill was finally approved by the senate, no restrictions are placed on the sale of the beverages legalized in states where state and local laws do not interfere. The senate receded from its demand for the Borah amendment banning sales to children under 18 years of age. It also receded from its insistence on an alcoholic limitation of 3.05 per cent. The vote by which the conference report was adopted was 43 to 36.

Heralded as a boon to the thirsty and a badly needed tonic for the treasury, the compromise beer and wine bill cleared its final major legislative obstacle with comparative ease. Senator William E. Borah [Rad., Idaho], spokesman for the die-hard drys, chided the wets a bit for surrendering to the house on the amendment banning sales to children and was answered by a dozen eager Democratic wets.

Within forty minutes after senate and house conferees had agreed upon the compromise report the roll was called, the vote announced, and the drys' last rally was over.

As the compromise report represented an almost complete victory for the house, wet leaders in that legislative branch said it would be approved without a doubt and without delay.

Revenue for Treasury.

According to the figures produced by the wets during the exhaustive hearings that marked the legislative journey of the beer bill its final enactment into law will stimulate the building industry, start a stream of new revenue into the treasury, boost the demand for farm crops, increase employment and cheer up the thirsty.

The brewers estimate that at least 40 million barrels of beer will be brewed and sold the first year. Their spokesmen stated that not less than 360 millions would have to be expended by the brewers and associated industries during the first year on new plants and materials. Labor spokesmen before the house ways and means committee asserted that legalized beer would give jobs to 1,000,000 persons now idle.

Many Industries to Benefit.

Industries to be benefited include the railroads, glass manufacturers, barrel makers, wooden box manufacturers, electrical manufacturers, makers of glass and wooden containers, bottlers and makers of bottling machinery, crown makers and manufacturers of trucks. Officials representing the railroads testified at the house ways and means committee hearings that the roads would be benefited by as much as 100 million dollars by legalization of beer.

The amount of revenue to be derived will depend upon the amount of beer, wine and other beverages consumed by a thirsty public. If 30 million barrels of beer are consumed the first year, the $5 a barrel tax would yield 150 million dollars. If the brewers' estimate of 40 million is right the yield would be 200 millions.

At present beer and wine may be sold in twenty-three states as soon as it is legalized federally. Their total population runs close to 75 million.

House Adjourns Too Soon.

Only the action of the house in adjourning early in the afternoon prevented the beer bill from being enacted into law today. The senate and house conferees reached agreement on the differences between the bills as passed by the two houses within a few minutes after meeting at noon. The final agreement repre-scored a sweeping victory for the house as the senate receded upon two amendments while the house receded upon but one.

As the bills were passed originally, the senate measure called for a 3.05 per cent brew. It also included wine and banned sales to persons under 18 years of age. The house bill called for a 3.2 per cent beer and did not include wine. Neither did it place any restrictions on sales. The senate conferees agreed to surrender on the Borah amendment banning sales to children and the amendment limiting the alcoholic content to 3.05. The house conferees agreed to accept wine.

The inclusion of wine in the bill represented a signal victory for Senator William G. McAdoo, freshman Democratic senator from California. A former champion of the drys, Mr. McAdoo first persuaded senate leaders to put wine in the bill. Then today he was able to persuade the senate conferees to give up their two main amendments in order to obtain house consent to the inclusion of wine.

The Roll Call.

The senate vote on the conference report was as follows:

FOR 3.2 BEER, 43.

DEMOCRATS—Ashurst, Barkley, Bone, Brown, Bulkley, Bulow, Byrnes, Clark, Coolidge, Copeland, Dieterich, Dill, Duffy, Erickson, Harrison, King, Lewis, Lonergan, Long, McAdoo, McCarran, McKellar, Murphy, Overton, Pittman, Reynolds, Robinson of Arkansas, Thomas of Utah, Tydings, Van Nuys, Wagner, Walsh, and Wheeler.—33.

REPUBLICANS—Barbour, Carey, Couzens, Johnson, La Follette, McNary, Metcalf, Reed, Steiwer, and Walcott—10.

AGAINST 3.2 BEER, 36.

DEMOCRATS—Adams, Black, Bratton, Byrd, Caraway, Connally, Costigan, Fletcher, George, Glass, Hayden, McGill, Neely, Pope Russell, Sheppard, Smith, Stephens, and Thomas of Oklahoma—19.

REPUBLICANS—Austin, Borah, Capper, Dickinson, Fess, Frazier, Hale, Hatfield, Keyes, Norbeck, Norris, Nye, Patterson, Robinson of Indiana, Townsend, Vandenberg, and White—17.

Senator Gore [D., Okla.] voted "present."

Paired against were Bailey, Bankhead, Logan, Democrats, and Dale, Goldsborough, Hastings, Republicans—total 6.

Absent and unpaired were: Trammell [D., Fla.], Cutting [R., N. M.], and Schall [R., Minn.].

RUSH MICHIGAN LAW

Lansing, Mich., March 20.—[Special.]—A bill designed to permit Michigan to take advantage of federal legislation legalizing beer is being drafted by Patrick H. O'Brien, attorney general, he announced today.

The measure, which will permit issuance of licenses by cities, villages, and townships to establishments qualified to sell beer at retail, is considered of a temporary nature, the attorney general said, and will not necessarily embody recommendations of the governor's prohibition advisory commission.

The commission was designated to draft legislation as a substitute for the present state prohibition law in line with the voters' action last November in replacing the prohibition amendment to the state constitution with an amendment providing for a liquor control commission.

Gov. William A. Comstock said today he expected an early report from his special commission, but it is improbable that any effort will be made to base legislation on the report until after April 3 when the state is scheduled to vote on calling a ratification convention to act on the repeal amendment to the United States constitution.

INDIANA SHOWS SPEED

Indianapolis, Ind., March 20.—[Special.]—The special convention to select delegates to vote on repeal of the eighteenth amendment will be held in Indiana in May, according to Gov. Paul V. McNutt. He said tonight he planned to issue a proclamation this week fixing the date of the election.

Under the act passed by the recent state legislature setting up machinery for the special delegate convention, the governor must call the election within four months of the date of receipt of the proposed amendment from the secretary of state. Therefore the election must be held before June 22.

In the proclamation the governor must fix the delegate allotment of each county. Each county is entitled to one delegate and also an additional delegate for each 10,000 population "or major fraction in excess of 10,000."

BEGIN TRIAL OF SUIT AGAINST MRS. M'LAUGHLIN

A jury in Circuit Judge Ralph J. Dady's court at Waukegan yesterday began hearing testimony in the suit for $10,000 damages brought by William Schroeder, Lake county farmer, against Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin, wife of Maj. Frederic McLaughlin of Lake Forest.

Schroeder charges Mrs. McLaughlin with false arrest and malicious prosecution. She caused his arrest in May, 1931, for alleged ill treatment of the hogs on his farm. He was found guilty of cruelty to animals before a justice of the peace but appealed the $10 fine to the Criminal court, where he won a verdict of not guilty.

Mrs. McLaughlin took many notes as Schroeder declared that he had spent $2,500 in litigation because of Mrs. McLaughlin's charges. He asserted that he had fed his hogs proper food and had given them good care.

C. B. Merriam Named to U. S. Home Loan Board

Washington, D. C., March 20.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today nominated C. B. Merriam of Kansas to be a member of the federal home loan bank board for a term of four years dating from last July 22.

COURTNEY ACTS TO GUARD BEER FROM RACKETS

Calls on City Officials for Co-operation.

City officials were called upon yesterday by State's Attorney Courtney to join in a program of legislation intended to keep gangsters out of the legitimate brewing industry. He suggested a series of open meetings to which brewers and others affiliated with the business be invited to join with aldermen in proposing ordinances intended to safeguard the legalized beer trade after April 5.

Prosecutor Courtney had three suggestions of his own to use against racketeers. They are:

1. Publishing the names of all brewery stockholders semi-annually.
2. Submission of affidavits by stockholders of record to prove their ownership.
3. Immediate revocation of brewerles' licenses upon failure to comply with the regulations, punishment for those trying to conceal sale of stock to underworld characters, and drastic action against brewers affiliated with gangsters.

Warns Against Gangsters.

"We're going to have beer and its manufacture or sale is not going to be in the hands of gangsters," said Courtney. "I want it known right here and now that if they begin to muscle in on the brewers, the brewers will lose their licenses.

"Any suspicion of gangster affiliations with a brewery will bring a state investigation and prompt action."

The prosecutor sent letters to Acting Mayor Corr, Corporation Counsel Sexton, and Police Commissioner Allman setting forth those views. All agreed to coöperate with the state's attorney's office. They said that in so doing they would be carrying out the policies and intentions of the late Mayor Cermak, who had promised to make the city safe for legal beer.

Recalls Cermak Orders.

"Mayor Cermak ordered a drive against hoodlums and the so-called beer syndicates in preparation for the legalization of beer," Acting Mayor Corr said.

"His idea was that Chicago as well as all the country would be on probation while legal beer was being sold and while action on the repeal of the eighteenth amendment was pending. He said the behavior of those engaged in the beer business would influence the votes of many regarding repeal.

"My own ideas are the same and we will carry on the campaign to keep the crooks out of the beer business."

5 BOYS FACE QUIZ ABOUT MURDER OF SCHILDHAUER

AUTOMOBILE THEFTS.

Automobiles stolen, 82; recovered, 91; stripped, 16 [from police records for the twenty-four hour period ending at midnight Sunday].

Court cases: Michael Losurdo and Frank De Domenico, held to the grand jury for auto larceny by Judge Donald McKinlay.

Supervising Capt. John Stege said last night he intended to question five youthful bandits held at the Austin station regarding their possible knowledge of the murder of Edwin O. Schildhauer, bandmaster of the Austin High school, who was slain last December. Three of the youths held are juniors at the Austin High school.

Policemen John Stalbus and James Morris of the Austin station arrested the five after they surprised Irvin Mandell, 22 years old, 4328 Washington boulevard, in the act of robbing Benjamin Kubell, attendant at a filling station at 3957 Augusta street. Mandell, said to be the leader, named his companions in more than fifty other robberies.

The others under arrest are Clarence Bobbitt, 17 years old, 5039 Potomac avenue; Robert Alexander, 17 years old, 132 North Long avenue, and Warren Philbin, 17 years old, 209 North Lamon avenue, students at Austin High school, and John Callaghan, 19 years old, 5517 West Monroe street, who was shot during a holdup a week ago.

All said they were led in the robberies by Mandell, who staged parties at his apartment where they entertained girls on the proceeds of their robberies. Capt. Stege said so many victims of crimes were calling yesterday to view the prisoners that he had had no time to question them about the Schildhauer case.

Plums for Party Faithful Are Loaded on Farm Bill

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 20.—[Special.]—To the Roosevelt farm bill with its grant of autocratic control over farm prices, farm production, and the machinery of processing and marketing, the house agricultural committee today added an amendment seeking to turn the army of agents and inspectors called for by the bill into an army of patronage.

The requirement that such employes come under civil service was stricken out at the demand of the members of the Democratic house patronage committee, who freely admit that they see in the farm bill a rich plum tree from which to feed the hungry mob of job seekers now making miserable the lives of members of congress.

Plan to Jam Bill Through.

At the same time the Democratic leadership tossed aside its promise to bring the bill up for debate under liberal rules permitting full debate and a chance to amend. Even before the agricultural committee had concluded its discussion of the measure the rules committee had met and adopted a special rule which will bring the bill before the house tomorrow with only four hours of debate and no opportunity of amendment.

For days Representative Claude A. Fuller [Dem., Ark.], chairman of the patronage committee, has been urging that the civil service clause be stricken out. When it came down to putting the proposition flatly to the agricultural committee, however, Mr. Fuller grew shy. Not so, Representative Adolph Sabath [Dem., Ill.], and it was he who breezed in before the farm committee and gave them the orders that they promptly obeyed.

Increase Executive Pay.

The house committee also did its part to increase the attractiveness of executive places to be put at the disposition of the secretary of agriculture. As originally drawn the bill allowed salaries of more than $7,500, to be paid to no more than ten of the new job holders. As amended by the committee the $7,500 was changed to $10,000.

surances by the Democratic leaders present that they would stand loyally by him, although they might make slight changes in some of his proposals and might present some projects on their own initiative. The President was reported tonight, after the conferenec, highly satisfied with the legislative prospects.

Ready to Coerce Some.

Some of the leaders have been informed privately by Mr. Roosevelt that if it becomes necessary, he will withhold the awarding of the plums of patronage until the whole recon struction program is put through, and that he certainly will carry directly to the people, through the press and radio, any issues in which he regards congress has mistakingly refused to support him.

One of the subjects on which the President was insistent that it should be dealt in the present session was the railroad problem.

U. S. TO ASSIST LEAGUE SETTLE LETICIA DISPUTE

Washington, D. C., March 20.—[Special.]—Secretary of State Cordell Hull today announced that the United States will coöperate with the league of nations in dealing with the dispute between Peru and Colombia over Leticia. Officials said that the league's activities in the matter had not been interpreted as interfering with the Monroe Doctrine. The United States has appointed Minister Hugh R. Wilson at Geneva as American representative on the league committee handling the despite. He will act in an advisory capacity but will not vote.

The league announced Saturday that it had abandoned hope of a conciliatory settlement of the conflict and recommended immediate evacuation of Peruvian troops from Columbian territory. A committee composed of all members of the league, with Brazil and the United States invited to participate, was set up to advance the recommendations.

Repel Colombian Attack.

LIMA, Peru, March 20.—(AP)—A government bulletin said today that the Peruvian forces repelled a Colombian attack late Friday on the Cotuhe river, a tributary of the Putumayo in the disputed border region between the two countries. The battle was reported to have been fought at the town of Buenos Aires, up the Cotuhe river from Tarapaca, where the first Peruvian-Colombian clash occurred Feb. 1.

FRENCH CABINET DELAYS ACTION ON U. S. WAR DEBT

PARIS, March 20.—(AP)—The government will ask that Deputy Rene Richard's resolution, calling for payment of the $19,261,432 debt installment due the United States last December, be referred to the foreign affairs committee of the chamber of deputies. There former Premier Herriot, the chairman, is likely to exercise powerful influence in its favor.

Premier Daladier, it was learned tonight, wants to wait until the resolution has been discussed in committee before taking an official position.

It is likely that the question will be examined at the next cabinet session on Saturday. Daladier, it is thought, is not likely to make payment a matter of confidence, but he is expected to give the movement government support the moment he is satisfied a majority of the chamber favors this course.

House agriculture committee reported administration farm aid measure.

President Roosevelt signed $500,000,000 economy bill allowing him to cut veterans' benefits and federal salaries.

House passed bill to permit state bank and trust companies to borrow from federal reserve banks.

President Roosevelt called congressional leaders to night conference on his legislative program.

Former Gov. John E. Erickson was sworn in as senator from Montana.

WARRANT OUT FOR FORMER MORTON HIGH CONTROLLER

A warrant against Joseph A. Becker, former controller of the J. Sterling Morton High school in Cicero, charging him with the larceny of $868 from the school's petty cash funds, was issued last night by Magistrate Henry Sandusky on the request of Frank A. Svoboda, president of the school board.

Svoboda asserted that Becker had taken the funds and in return had deposited his I. O. U.'s for $850. Magistrate Sandusky turned the warrant over the police for immediate service.

Becker has been missing for three weeks, it is said, and recently an examination of his books was begun by the United States Fidelity and Guarantee company, his surety. Last Friday the Morton board appointed Otto Pergler his successor as controller. Mr. Pargler said yesterday that $9,500 of the school's tax warrants were missing. He asserted that one of the warrants for $500 had been given to a grocer for a bill payment by Becker.

At the Becker home at 5126 West 24th place, Cicero, his wife denied yesterday that he was missing. She said he had been suffering from a nervous breakdown for the last three weeks. It was pointed out yesterday that against Becker's alleged $868 shortage, he has back pay of $585 owing him.

PATTEN THREAT WRITER HELD IN BONDS OF $10,000

Axel Peterson, Evanston gardener who confessed writing five threatening letters demanding $50,000 from Mrs. James A. Patton, widow of the wheat king, was held in bonds of $10,000 yesterday by United States Commissioner Walker pending a formal arraignment on March 27.

At the same time Assistant United States Attorney Edward A. Fisher announced that Peterson probably would be indicted, before the date of arraignment, under the new law which defines the mailing of threatening letters as a felony. This statute is known as "the Lindbergh law." It was enacted by congress following the kidnaping and murder of Charles Lindbergh Jr.

Peterson appeared before Commissioner Walker without an attorney. He said he expected to obtain the services of counsel within a few days. Peterson was arrested in Evanston last Friday night and he confessed to Police Chief William O. Freeman

BRITAIN CUTS OFF ALL COMMERCIAL TIES WITH RUSSIA

Demands "Satisfaction" for Raid on Company.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 20.—Capt. Anthony Eden, undersecretary of foreign affairs, announced in the house of commons today that I. M. Maisky, Russian ambassador, had been informed that negotiations for renewal of the trade treaty with Russia has been definitely broken off until Great Britain obtains satisfaction for the arrest of six nationals in Russia last week on charges of sabotage. Two of the Britons were subsequently released, but the other four are still in prison at Moscow.

Capt. Eden said that full details of the charges against the Britons, who were employed by Metropolitan-Vickers, Ltd., a British electrical company, had not yet been disclosed despite repeated demands by Sir Esmond Ovey, the British ambassador at Moscow.

Denied British Lawyer.

The ambassador was told that the prisoners would be tried publicly by the Russian Supreme court and that they would not be permitted to have an English lawyer but must accept one nominated by the soviets. The British ambassador has been instructed to press the soviets to permit proper legal assistance for the prisoners.

George Lansbury, Labor leader, who has constituted himself an official defender of the soviets in the British parliament, asked Capt. Eden if there was any evidence to justify the statement that the charges against the prisoners are unfounded and whether, when Russians are arrested in this country, foreign counsel is allowed to appear for them.

Col. Josiah Wedgwood, Laborite, asked whether the same assiduity is shown in protecting British nationals in Germany as in Russia. Capt. Eden replied that the same protection is extended to British nationals in all countries.

Russia Resents Pressure.

MOSCOW, March 20.—(AP)—News of the breaking off of Anglo-Russian trade negotiations brought no official reaction tonight. Foreign circles, however, believed the British action might stiffen the Russian attitude, which is based on what is felt here to be an unwarranted attempt by the British government to interfere with the Kremlin's own rights as a sovereign state to enforce its own laws by its own methods.

Strong resentment was caused here by the implied feeling in England that the arrested men will not receive a fair trial, as well as surprise at what was described as British "hysteria."

PREMIER ASKS CANADA TO MAKE HIM DICTATOR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., March 20.—Declaring that "chaos and anarchy" might result from failure of the administration to take to itself adequate powers to deal with any national emergency, the Bennett government in parliament today moved to take to itself the virtual powers of an autocracy.

The move came in the form of an amendment to the unemployment relief act and was prompted directly by the recent closing of American banks. Under the amendment presented, the government will be able to commandeer the financial or physical forces of the nation. When Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, objected to the usurpation of parliament's overseeing powers, Premier Bennett intimated that closure would be resorted to if necessary to extract the authority from parliament.

She Draws Extra Fine for "Taking Poke" at Cop

Santa Monica, Cal., March 20.—[Special.]—Howard Higgins, a motion picture director and two women friends were arrested last midnight. They remained in the Santa Monica jail until they entered court to plead guilty to charges of being intoxicated in an automobile. They paid fines in the police court. Sue Lawson, 32, who has played bits in movies, was fined $25, one of the two arresting officers stating she had "taken a poke" at him. Mary McIntyre was fined $15 and Higgins $10.

tic ideas into the general scheme of which they form a part. We will deal with events as they happen under the new understanding. The peace we have in mind is the peace which will arise out of the satisfaction of those nations who are in a position to disturb it."

MacDonald also said the United States would be kept fully informed concerning the present negotiations.

"We need her, too," he said.

Seen as Bid to U. S.

In this connection, the British visit to Rome was seen by some observers as a bid to the United States and President Roosevelt to take stock of Europe's peaceable proclivities, as manifested here, as a basis for reëxamining the war debts at the coming world economic conference.

The suggestion is advanced that the Rome conversations were to arrest European tendencies which, while not critical, would at least have meant a bad façade for the economic conference, which it is hoped to hold before more war debt payments to the United States become due in June.

One paper says the Mussolini proposal "presents a pacified Europe to America and, therefore, one more worthy of faith." Another paper says that "an understanding between the four powers appears necessary for collaboration with the United States."

Germany Welcomes Plan.

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, March 20.—The German government regards the Mussolini-MacDonald conference as an important step toward a more just and lasting peace in Europe. The proposals of the Italian premier, of which the German ambassador at Rome has been informed, will be received appreciatively here, it is stated in political quarters.

"For all that is known about them so far, they represent an attempt on the part of Premier Mussolini to get down to the roots of Europe's ills by proposing a pact which will eliminate the real sources of disturbance, as against Prime Minister MacDonald's rather theoretical way of dealing with these political problems," it was said.

Mussolini's plan, it is pointed out, recognizes Germany's claim for equality, upon which the Berlin government stands unequivocably.

Britain Awaits Report.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 20.—Prime Minister MacDonald is due back in London Wednesday night after his Roman adventure and on Thursday he will make a statement to the house of commons about both his interview with Premier Mussolini and the success or otherwise of the disarmament plan at Geneva.

Until then British opinion is in suspense for the reason that nothing is known here as to what he agreed with Mussolini or as to whether he agreed to anything.

In Rome he has denied the first stories of a comprehensive four power pact to keep peace but in such terms that it may only mean that such a plan has been mentioned but not agreed upon. One thing which seems to be agreed upon here is that MacDonald, whether his plans mature or fail, has done a good job in the cause of peace by gaining time.

A week ago all talk in Europe was of an early war. Today it is realized that MacDonald has given the powers and politicians something to chew on for the next month or two, and a lot may happen in that time to ease the situation.

It is also possible, of course, that he may have obtained some real advance towards a peace agreement. Some observers here feel that if the suggested agreement with Mussolini for a four power pact is a fact it will have the effect of forcing France into a corner.

HACKETT CHOSEN LABOR MEDIATOR AT WORLD'S FAIR

Col. Horatio B. Hackett, in charge of construction and letting of contracts for the architectural firm of Holabird & Root, has been agreed upon by union officials and World's Fair exhibitors as the mediator for all labor disputes at the exposition, it was learned yesterday. Although he has been informed that his name has been submitted to Gov. Horner for appointment, no official notification has been received, Col. Hackett said.

The plan of having a mediator was the result of a proposed strike of 1,300 union employes at the fair because 11 nonunion technicians were at work on exhibits. The strike was threatened by Michael Boyle, business agent of the Electrical Workers' union, and Patrick Sullivan, president of the Building Trades' council.

"Everything is being worked out satisfactorily" said Sullivan yesterday. "The choice of Col. Hackett is agreeable to all parties, and I don't think there is any danger of strike."

LAWYER MISSING 5 DAYS; SOUGHT ON FRAUD CHARGE

It became known last night that the police are searching for Philip Sultan, 40 years old, an attorney with offices at 172 West Adams street, on charges of larceny by bailee. He has been missing since last Wednesday.

Four warrants, three procured by physicians and one by a woman, have been issued for his arrest. They accuse him of withholding $18,000 in connection with the refinancing of the North Chicago hospital. Attorney Sultan's case was called in felony court last Thursday, and his bond was forfeited when he failed to appear.

The complainants against the lawyer are Dr. D. C. Hoyt, 4219 North Ashland avenue; Dr. Benjamin Morgan, 1670 Ogden avenue; Dr. Horace E. Turner, 4758 Broadway, and Mrs. Pearl Weiss, 6232 Broadway. Members of Attorney Sultan's family said they believed that his absence was due to amnesia. He lives at 6347 Wentworth avenue.

HITLER DEMANDS REICHSTAG MAKE HIM A DICTATOR

Nazis Raid Country Home of Einstein for Arms.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 20.—The new reichstag, which convenes tomorrow, will be instructed by Chancellor Adolf Hitler's government to abdicate in favor of a dictatorship for four years or "for the duration of the present government."

This transpired today with the publication of the draft of an enabling act which virtually empowers the government to promulgate laws even if those laws conflict with the constitution of the German republic.

Under the act laws issued by the chancellor will become effective the day after they are published. One of the clauses entitles the cabinet to make treaties with foreign countries without asking parliamentary approval, and to issue orders and all measures necessary for their enforcement.

Prompt Passage Assured.

Prompt passage of the act is assured. The 81 communist members have been forbidden to participate and some of the Socialist members are in prison.

Hitler's government is ready to celebrate the convening of the reischstag on a scale undreamed of even in the days of the kaiser.

The opening session will be held in the Potsdam garrison church, over the tomb of Frederick the Great and in the presence of President von Hindenburg, members of the Hohenzollern family, the cabinet, and diplomats of all countries.

Von Hindenburg greeted the reichstag today with a proclamation which was placarded throughout the land.

"The reichstag, like none of its predecessors since the end of the great war, pledges fidelity to a state that is national and capable of defending itself," the proclamation said.

The Nazi campaign against Jews struck at Prof. Albert Einstein today. Charging that a huge quantity of arms and ammunition were cached in the famous scientist's country home at Caputh, near Berlin, police, supported by Nazis, raided the residence. The nearest things to arms they found was a bread knife.

[Prof. Einstein, who is on his way to Europe from the United States, said before his departure that he would not return to Germany and live under the Hitler régime.]

Meanwhile, discovery of another plot against the life of Chancellor Hitler was reported at Munich. Authorities at once issued a statement which said:

"The firing of a single shot against any member of the new government, effective or not, will be the signal for unparalleled chaos in Germany and will result in a widespread pogrom, which no authority in the world could prevent."

Accuse Cheka Agents.

According to Munich authorities, three members of the Russian cheka [secret police] were identified as Hitler's would-be assassins. One of the trio spoke German and the others in the Russian or the Czech language, police said. The police statement said:

"They came by auto and placed three hand grenades and some ammunition at the Wagner monument near Hitler's home. Statements by witnesses establish the fact that an attack with hand grenades was planned against the chancellor while he drove by in an automobile. Passersby notified authorities and the three men fled on the arrival of police."

Hitler Leaves for Berlin.

Hitler left Munich for Berlin by plane.

Authorities have announced that the first concentration camp for communists will be opened Wednesday at Dachau, near Munich. It will accommodate 5,000 Reds now in jail, as well as other political prisoners.

Activities against Jewish professional men continue. Jewish judges will not be permitted to sit in Prussian emergency courts or juvenile courts after April 1. They will be allowed only in civil courts, while all Jewish prosecutors will be discharged.

U. S. Consul Aids Woman's Escape.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 20.—Nazi terrorism is so irresponsible in Germany that the American consul at Munich officially advised an American woman who was a victim of one of the raids to escape from the country. He told her he could do nothing to protect her.

The name of the woman cannot be revealed because her husband, who was wounded in the raid, is still in Munich and she must return there eventually. She is a New York Jewess and the wife of a prominent German banker who is the Munich agent of one of the large New York banks.

The woman reached Paris a few days ago after having traveled from Munich to the border in a train compartment in which she had been locked by consulate officials.

YOUTH ADMITS KILLING DOCTOR LURED TO TRAP

Police Job Candidate Causes Arrest.

Thirteen years ago, when he was a child of 4, Joseph Borowy of 2619 West 24th street was scalded when he turned a pan of water over his neck and shoulders. The injury healed poorly and left a large scar.

Now grown to the stature of a man, Borowy feels that the physician who treated him was a bungler. His hatred of the whole profession was so great that he adopted the career of robbing doctors. Yesterday at the detective bureau he confessed that he shot and fatally wounded Dr. B. F. Garnitz, 5159 South Damen avenue, in a holdup on Feb. 24. Dr. Garnitz died on March 11 in the German Deaconess hospital.

Borowy also told the police that he had organized a gang to prey on doctors. Three other youths and two girls, whom he named, have been arrested. Their custom was to call a physician at his home, inform him that there was a serious case of illness at a certain address, and then meet and rob him when he arrived to furnish his services. The gang robbed more than thirty doctors since Jan. 1, Borowy said.

Revealed by Police Candidate.

Last Friday, Fred Janks, 4304 West 21st street, a candidate for a job on the police force, informed Chief of Detectives Schoemaker that the killers of Dr. Garnitz would be found at 2451 West 43d street. Sergt. James Buchanan went there and seized Borowy and the two girls, Mildred Rundle and Blanche Chevatel, both about 18 years old. They were taken to the bureau, where all maintained a pose of innocence until yesterday. Then Borowy weakened and confessed.

He told where his male companions could be found. One, Matthew Novak, was in the County hospital. The second, Charles Kubala, was in another hospital. Both had been injured recently in an automobile accident. The third, Stanley Cash, was picked up in a gangland haunt.

Tells Story of Killing.

"On the job when we killed Dr. Garnitz," said Borowy, a big, rather stupid looking youth, "were myself, Charles Kubala and Matt Novak. We telephoned the doctor and told him to come to 4344 South Artesian avenue, that a woman was about to die there.

"Kubala was to handle his chauffeur if the doctor had one. Mildred Rundle waited around the corner in a car. She liked to go out with us for the kick she got out of it. Novak hid with me in the doorway and we held up the doctor. He resisted us and I had to shoot him. Kubala was across the street waiting and we all ran around to the car. Mildred had the engine running and we got away all right."

Mildred, hard and bitter of tongue, denounced Borowy and Kubala, who also confessed, as squealers.

"I wouldn't tell you what time it is," she told the police.

Borowy recently served a term in the Bridewell for contributing to the delinquency of a child, and Novak and Kubala served terms for automobile theft. Cash was not present when Dr. Garnitz was killed, but was implicated in other holdups of physicians.

JEWISH BODIES WANT PROTEST SENT GERMANY

New York, March 20.—(AP)—The American Jewish committee and the B'nai B'rith, after a special joint meeting tonight, announced they had requested the United States government "to make proper representations to the government of Germany" against the alleged persecution of Jews.

Meanwhile leaders of the Greater New York Federation of Churches and the interfaith committee decided to issue a protest against anti-semitism on behalf of Christians in this country.

The decision was made after they had conferred with former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, Bishop William T. Manning and other prominent laymen and clerics of both Catholic and Protestant faiths.

Palestine Jews Aroused.

JERUSALEM, March 20.—(AP)—Hoisting of Nazi swastika banners over the German consulates at Jerusalem and Tel Aviv has greatly disturbed Jewish public feeling here. Palestine authorities, fearing hostile demonstrations, are guarding the consulates with British police. Steamers this week landed many Jewish families from Germany, including Oscar Kahn, who was a state secretary in 1918.

BRITISH OFFICER CALLED TRAITOR TO HIS COUNTRY

London Tower Prisoner Goes on Trial.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 20.—Faced with ten charges involving the sale of military secrets which might prove useful to an enemy country, Lieut. Norman Baillie-Stewart of the Seaforth Highlanders, one of the proudest regiments of Great Britain, went on trial today before a court martial composed of his brother officers. The 24 year old officer is accused of violating the official secrets act and of selling military secrets to German intelligence operatives.

"I am not mincing words," said Maj. H. Shapcott, the prosecutor, pointing at the tall, good looking Scottish youth. "The prosecution contends that Lieut. Baillie-Stewart sold his country for the sake of £50 or more." [By current exchange £50 is $173.]

German Girl Named.

That sum and another $200 the officer is reputed to have confessed receiving from a mysterious "Marie Louise" after he returned from a trip to Berlin. The lieutenant explained during the preliminary examination, according to Maj. Shapcott, that the receipt of the money was a sequel to an act of intimacy with a pretty German girl in a Berlin park.

The crowd which filled the small drill hall of the duke of York's headquarters at Chelsea, where the trial is being held, became excited when it was disclosed that Germans were involved in the case.

Besides "Marie Louise," the prosecution named Otto Waldemar Obst, of Berlin, who is suspected by army officials of being "the foreign agent within the meaning of the official secrets act."

31 Witnesses Called.

Thirty-one witnesses have been called to testify. Seven will be heard "in camera," among them several foreigners who, the prosecution indicated, might be in danger of their lives when they return home. Four other witnesses will not be identified.

Much of the secret evidence will deal with tanks, armored cars, automatic rifles, modern fortifications and military establishments, information concerning which the lieutenant is accused of selling or trying to sell abroad.

According to the prosecution, Lieut. Baillie-Stewart received leave last August to go to Germany on private business. While there, it is alleged, he tried to reach Germany military authorities. After his return he was placed under observation and a letter signed "Marie Louise," addressed to Baillie-Stewart and containing British bank notes, was intercepted on Nov. 14. Maj. Shapcott stated it was ostensibly in repayment of a loan.

Letter in Officer's Handwriting.

Another intercepted letter was addressed to Obst, which the prosecution claims was in Baillie-Stewart's handwriting. It acknowledged receipt of the money and added:

"When you write me in the future, may I make the suggestion that you use much smaller seals, as such large ones are apt to arouse the curiosity of unscrupulous people. Imagine if some one opened it and had a look inside."

This letter was signed by Alphonse Poiret. The prosecution contends the name Poiret was part of a code.

"You will want to know who Alphonse Poiret is," Maj. Shapcott said. "I shall tell you. It is this accused officer. He has told me that false names were signed to the letters merely as a precaution and not as a code."

It is further charged that Baillie-Stewart made three trips to Holland during week-end leaves to meet "foreign agents" and that last December he received a second sum of money from "Marie Louise."

Lieut. Baillie-Stewart looked pale as he entered the courtroom. He clicked his heels and saluted the officers present. He wore his kilt and Glengarry bonnet. His Sam Browne belt was missing.

The officer was arrested on Jan. 21 and imprisoned in the Tower of London.

HANGS SELF IN HOME.

James Lidrich, 42 years old, 4111 South Elmwood avenue, Stickney, committed suicide by hanging himself from a gas pipe in the basement of his home yesterday.

JOAN CRAWFORD TO SELL HOME AND TAKE REST

Hollywood, Cal., March 20.—(AP)—Joan Crawford, movie actress, listed for sale today the home she and Douglas Fairbanks Jr. have occupied in Brentwood Park, because, she said, memories of their days there since their marriage in 1929 weigh too heavily upon her now that they are estranged.

The couple had tea together yesterday and planned for the future. He packed his personal belongings and moved to a hotel in Beverly Hills. She said she would sell the home, take a smaller house for her many treasured pieces of furniture and objects of art and go to the desert for a rest.

Divorce was not discussed at the meeting, both Miss Crawford and Fairbanks said. She said there was no possibility of reconciliation—that the separation had been planned long before the filing of alienation of affections and false imprisonment suits against Fairbanks last week by Jorgen Dietz, young chemist.

Dietz and his bride, formerly Lucy Doraine, screen actress, were due back today or tomorrow from a honeymoon in Mexico. They were married last week.

Quebec Moves to Abolish Sign Boards on Highways

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., March 20.—Widespread provisions for abolishing many of the unsightly posters and sign boards along the rural highways of Quebec province are contained in a bill which will be introduced into the provincial legislature by J. E. Perrault, minister of roads. The text of the bill was made public today. It aims to prevent the disfigurement of the attractive old Quebec countryside.

J. W. STEVENS IS NEAR DEATH, JUDGE IS TOLD

James W. Stevens, 79 years old, indicted with his two sons, Ernest J. and Raymond W. Stevens, on charges of conspiracy and embezzlement in connection with the failure of the $150,000,000 Illinois Life Insurance company, of which he was chairman, was reported near death last night in his home at 1260 Lake Shore drive.

Announcement of his critical condition was made a few hours earlier in the Criminal court of Judge Philip L. Sullivan, where the elderly financier and his two sons were scheduled to appear for a hearing on a motion of their counsel to quash the indictments. When the case was called Defense Attorney J. Fred Reeve and Dr. William T. Harsha stepped forward. Dr. Harsha addressed the court.

Stroke Suffered Saturday.

"Mr. Stevens suffered a stroke last Saturday," he said. "He has been in a comatose condition most of the time since then and it is quite doubtful that he will recover."

Last night Dr. Harsha said he was unable to predict how long Mr. Stevens might live. He expressed the opinion that worry over the indictments contributed to the cause of the stroke.

Both Ernest and Raymond Stevens were present for the court hearing. They stood behind their attorneys, Mr. Reeve, Patrick Lucey, and Frank Sims. Their expressions were grave. Afterward they declined to comment on the condition of their father.

Court Hearing Continued.

After hearing the report of Dr. Harsha Judge Sullivan granted the request of Attorney Reeve for a continuance. "We cannot go ahead now," the judge said. "We will continue the case for a week, until next Monday. Then we should know what we can do."

Prosecutor Grover Niemeyer quickly assented. "If death is imminent we do not want to force a hearing," he said.

The three Stevenses are charged in the indictments with having unlawfully diverted $1,000,000 of the funds of the life insurance company to the La Salle and Stevens hotels, which they also controlled.

Wife Tells of Illness.

At the Stevens home last night Mrs. Stevens explained the circumstances of her husband's illness.

"Last Monday he stumbled and fell," she said. "He has been in a state of constant worry and distress since the charges were made against him. On Thursday he fell again and on Saturday he suffered a stroke."

$2,500 FOR BOY'S DEATH.

Valparaiso, Ind., March 20.—[Special.]—Perry E. Swank of this city was awarded $2,500 by the Circuit court jury here against the Northern Indiana Public Service company for the death of his son, 11, electrocuted last August by high tension wires while climbing a tree to view an airplane test flight.

SUPREME COURT TO HEAR FACTOR CASE APRIL 17

Washington, D. C., March 20.—[Special.]—The efforts of John (Jake the Barber) Factor to escape extradition to England will be reviewed by the Supreme court April 17, according to the order handed down by the court today.

The issue in the case which involves thousands of British pounds, hinges principally on the question of whether "receiving money knowing the same to have been fraudulently obtained" is an offense for which extradition may be had from the state of Illinois to Great Britain, either under the American-British convention of 1889 or the Dawes-Simon treaty of 1932.

Factor, who has instituted two habeas corpus pleas, claims that the act, while admittedly criminal in England, is not criminal in Illinois. He also holds that the 1932 treaty supersedes the convention.

Promoter of the "Broad street press" in London, Factor surrendered in May, 1931, to United States Marshal H. C. W. Laubenheimer of Chicago on demand of Godfrey Haggard, British consul general. From then on Factor, known also as Harry Wise, Mr. Guest, and J. Walker, has been fighting in the courts against his return to England to face charges.

URGES 50% LIMIT ON CAB LICENSES TO ONE COMPANY

Proposal Follows Report Against Cut Rates.

An amendment to the city taxicab ordinances, providing that no one company, corporation or individual may hold more than 50 per cent of the licenses for operation of cabs in Chicago was presented yesterday to the council's joint subcommittee on taxicabs by Ald. Oscar F. Nelson [46th].

Ald. Nelson introduced his amendment after Maj. R. F. Kelker, engineer for the local transportation committee of the council, had submitted a report in which he held that taxicab companies can reduce their "flag pull" charge for the first quarter mile from 25 cents to 20 cents without cutting the income of their drivers, but that a further reduction to 15 cents for the first third mile and 5 cents for each additional third mile is not to be recommended.

Opposes 15 Cent Rate.

The 15 cent rate would not be sufficient to support an adequate and reliable city wide taxicab service, Maj. Kelker asserted. The rate is now charged by a number of independent taxicabs, who for months have been carrying on a controversy before the subcommittee with representatives of the Yellow and Checker Cab companies.

Maj. Kelker also recommended that in addition to the regular vehicle tax fee the city charge taxicabs two-tenths of a cent for each mile traveled for the use of the streets. At the present average mileage of taxicabs this would yield the city about $33 a year from each cab.

Maj. Kelker recommended that limitation of taxicabs be based upon the average mileage traveled, and that no new licenses for cabs be issued until the present average of 45 miles per cab per day be doubled. In 1923 the average was 120 miles per day, Maj. Kelker said.

Recommends License Limit.

"I think we should refuse to act on any of the provisions of Maj. Kelker's report until the committee changes the monopoly ordinance and gets some of the idle cab drivers back to work," said Ald. Nelson in offering his amendment. "If the council will adopt this amendment Wednesday, they will place the regulatory power in the hands of the city council instead of the vehicle license commission. Licenses ought to be issued at once to several hundred independent drivers, to provide competition which is now badly needed."

"The big cab companies have a lot of licenses now which they aren't using," charged Ald. James B. Waller [43d].

The so-called monopoly ordinance gives the vehicle commission, of which Police Lieutenant James Killackey is secretary, practically autocratic powers in determining whether any new licenses are to be issued for taxicabs.

SMASH WINDOW; STEAL COATS.

Two coats, valued at $35, were taken from the show window of the dress shop of Nathan Goldman, 4113 Lawrence avenue, early yesterday by thieves who smashed the windows with a brick.

SHOOTS HERSELF

MRS. ANNA DOWNS.

Mrs. Anna Louise Downs, 26 years old, wife of George Downs, south side beer runner, and a sister of Martin Durkin, now serving a life term in Joliet for murder, shot and possibly fatally wounded herself yesterday in the kitchen of her home at 6315 South California avenue.

Downs and his brothers, Hugh and John, were in the house at the time. George Downs had just been released by the police after putting up bond on a charge of assault. He had been taken into custody early Saturday after he invaded the apartment of three young women on the south side and attempted to choke one of them. Another of the trio had knocked him unconscious with a chair.

On the way to the Holy Cross hospital, the police reported, Mrs. Downs said she had tried to take her life because she believed her husband no longer loved her. Downs, who accompanied her, assured her that the escapade of Saturday didn't mean anything.

ACCUSE OFFICERS OF BELLWOOD; ASK AN ACCOUNTING

A petition seeking an accounting by the village of Bellwood and charging the officials of the village with malfeasance, misfeasance, and incompetency was filed in the United States District court yesterday on behalf of the Equitable Life Insurance company of Des Moines, Ia.

According to the petition, filed by Attorney Samuel Markham, the insurance company holds $56,000 worth of bonds which were issued by the village against a special assessment. Interest on the bonds has been defaulted and the money provided for the purpose has been diverted to other municipal uses, the petition alleges. Martin J. Frase, village treasurer, is charged with a preferential payment of $1,860 to favored bondholders.

REFUSES WIFE'S PLEA FOR 60% OF HUSBAND'S PAY

Judge Threatens to Throw Case Out of Court.

Judge James J. Kelly refused to sign a separate maintenance decree for Mrs. Eva Sullivan McAdams in the Superior court yesterday when he was informed that the alimony of $300 a month provided by the decree was 60 per cent of the income of Frank J. McAdams, engineer at the Englewood High school.

Judge Kelly postponed the case to March 27 and told Mrs. McAdams that unless she reached a more moderate alimony settlement he would throw the case out of court at that time.

Is Sister of a Judge.

Mrs. McAdams, who lives at 2860 East 76th street, is a sister of Circuit Judge Philip L. Sullivan. She filed suit for separate maintenance in October, 1931, and was granted temporary alimony of $300 a month by Judge Harry B. Miller. She presented her evidence to Judge Kelly on March 1, when he indicated that he would grant her a decree, making permanent the previous temporary alimony order.

Judge Kelly had received a letter from McAdams, who lives at 5465 Everett avenue, stating that his only income at present is his salary from the board of education, now nine months in arrears. His basic salary is $4,800, but payments for evening and Saturday work last year raised the total to $5,931.

Judge Questions Wife.

Judge Kelly questioned Mrs. McAdams about her husband's letter yesterday and she replied that in addition to his salary McAdams had the income from between $75,000 and $100,000 in building bonds. Judge Kelly pointed to McAdams' assertion in the letter that the bonds are in default and they pay him no income now. McAdams also stated that his wife required funds only for her own support, since their three children are grown.

Pronouncing the letter "very impressive," Judge Kelly continued the case and ordered the negotiations to reduce the alimony.

REPORT BROKER NAMED IN AUTO DEATH TRUE BILL

Grand Jury Acts on Killing of Woman.

Joseph R. Patton Jr., 38 years old, 421 Melrose street, an investment securities broker with offices at 120 South La Salle street, is reported to have been named in a true bill, charging manslaughter, voted yesterday by the grand jury. On last Jan. 20 Patton's car struck and killed Mrs. Margaret Murray, 55 years old, 13 West Delaware place, in front of 1025 North La Salle street.

A coroner's jury recommended that Patton be held to the grand jury when police of the Chicago avenue station presented evidence at the inquest that Patton was driving 70 miles an hour at the time of the accident.

Injured Girl Near Death.

Mabel Maxwell, 12 years old, 1050 Garfield avenue, the victim Sunday night of an automobile driver who tossed her into the street two blocks from the scene of the accident, was reported near death last night in St. Joseph's hospital. Police continued search for the driver. Witnesses said the motorist, after striking the Maxwell girl and Mrs. Giesla Veit, 2104 Seminary avenue, at Clark and Wells streets, insisted on taking the girl to a hospital.

The inquest into the death of Mary Lou Russell, 17 years old, 1013 North Ogden avenue, Oak Park, a pupil of the Oak Park High school, who was killed Friday night in a collision in River Forest, was continued yesterday until April 25, pending the condition of others injured in the accident. They are Margaret Wood, 16 years old, 300 North Oak Park avenue, Oak Park; Louis Hammel, 17 years old, and William Trexel, 17 years old, both of River Forest, and Marjorie Townsfield, 19 years old, 1429 North Massasoit avenue.

Three More Deaths.

Three deaths in Chicago yesterday increased the county motor toll since Jan. 1 to 173. The victims:

Henry Neidor, 40 years old, 9341 South 55th avenue, Oak Lawn. Died in County hospital of injuries received in a collision Saturday night.

Peter Freund, 67 years old, 1651 North Luna avenue. Died in the Swedish Covenant hospital of injuries suffered March 18 when he was struck by an automobile at North Talman and Lawrence avenues. Clifford Nordlie, 27 years old, 4825 North California avenue, driver of the car was notified to attend the inquest this morning at the hospital.

Charles Westmaster, 63 years old, 4655 Lake Park avenue, a retired waiter. Died in the Woodlawn hospital of injuries received Sunday morning when he was struck by the automobile of a hit and run driver at Woodlawn avenue and East 47th street.

Janitor Dies of Wound Inflicted by a Bandit

Anthony Kludomas, 42 years old, a janitor, died yesterday in the county hospital of a bullet wound received Feb. 27 when he walked in on a robbery in the restaurant at 1859 West 47th street, where he was employed, and was shot by one of the bandits.

Hoodlum Placed on Trial as Slayer of News Dealer

Henry Severino, a police character, yesterday was placed on trial before a jury in Judge James F. Pardy's court on a charge of slaying Martin Knudsen, a newsdealer at 856 North Trumbull avenue. The state is asking the death penalty for Severino, who was recently extradited from New York.

BEATEN AND ROBBED BY GANG.

Elmer L. Davis, 1436 Foster avenue, a decorator, was kidnaped by five armed men yesterday in front of 5157 North Clark street. He was released after he had been robbed of $60 in an alley nearby.

REPUBLICANS FOR MEASURE TO GIVE POWERS TO CORR

G.O.P. Legislators Oppose Other Emergency Plans.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

A group of Republican legislators from Cook county tentatively decided yesterday to support an emergency measure at Springfield validating the acts of Acting Mayor Frank J. Corr providing it was not wrapped up with other legislation affecting the mayoralty. The consensus at the meeting, held at the Morrison hotel at the call of Elmer Schnackenberg, minority house leader, was that support could not well be withheld from a bill to clothe the de facto mayor with powers to sign bonds, warrants, and other documents affecting the overdue city and school pay rolls.

A bill covering the situation is expected to be introduced at Springfield today. Corporation Counsel W. H. Sexton held a conference with Henry Cutler, bond expert, whose opinion is taken by banking houses on the validity of municipal issues; Thomas Marshall, attorney for City Treasurer James A. Kearns; State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney, and others.

Sexton and Horner to Confer.

Mr. Sexton is to confer with Gov. Henry Horner this morning over the question of whether a new bill should be introduced in place of the Adamowski bill, which comes up in the house on second reading today.

The Adamowski bill empowers the city council to elect an acting mayor from inside or outside the ranks of the aldermen. It gives him full powers and provides that the city council shall fix the time of the special election to fill the rest of the unexpired term, which runs to April, 1935.

As the measure stands, Republican members have objected that it would enable the city council to pick an "outside" as mayor and then let him fill out the full unexpired term by the expedient of calling the special election for the same date as the next regular mayoralty election in April, 1935.

Some of the Democratic leaders have counseled that a separate validating act be passed which would endow Acting Mayor Corr with full signatory powers on municipal documents and securities. By reason of the financial situation, they argue, this should get enough Republican support to pass as emergency matter—a two-thirds vote is necessary.

Fear Controversy Over Bill.

If the validating question, however, is incorporated in a bill dealing with the entire question of how the full term of the Cermak vacancy—two years—shall be filled, the politicians point out, a controversy is likely to ensue that might delay attempts to pay overdue salaries to the city employés. The one item now worrying the fiscal officials of Chicago is the removal of any cloud from acts performed by Acting Mayor Corr.

The Republicans at their meeting held to the position they took immediately after the death of Mayor Cermak. They oppose any bill which would do away with primaries for a special election for mayor, and they are against the holding of a special election on June 5, at the time of the judicial election.

The Democrats have favored electing a new mayor June 5, with a view to removing the coming Century of Progress exposition from the spectacle of a mayoralty campaign, and also to save the expense of a separate election.

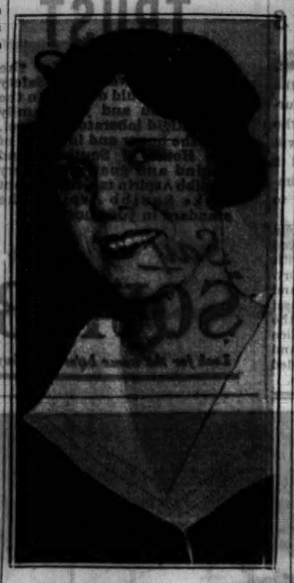
A new organization, named "Save the Primary League," has been launched. It is headed by Prof. Charles E. Merriam of the University of Chicago, who has issued a statement that a move is under way to repeal the direct primary. Newton Jenkins is chairman of the general committee.

Notables Honorary Presidents.

Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior; ex-Gov. Edward F. Dunne, and Carter H. Harrison, five times mayor of Chicago, are given as honorary presidents.

Calls were issued yesterday for the party conventions to nominate Circuit and Superior court judges and to name candidates for Supreme court justice in the 7th district. The Democrats are to meet Tuesday, April 11, at 2 p. m. at the Morrison hotel. The Republicans will meet April 12 at Hotel Sherman. The Republicans are to renominate Justice Frederick R. De Young for the Supreme court.

SEEKING DIVORCE



MRS. IRENE WALDEN.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Her husband was so jealous that he walked the floor nights, racking his brain for new accusations to make against her, and then became angry when she refused to sit up with him, Mrs. Irene Duvries Walden, 1115 Thatcher avenue, River Forest, charged yesterday in a bill for divorce filed in the Superior court. The husband is Kenneth Walden of Long Beach, Cal., piano player in a dance orchestra. Mrs. Walden also charges that her husband hired a detective to shadow her, and that he threatened her once with a knife.

CITY EMPLOYES GET PAY; SCHOOL WAGES HELD UP

Decide Corr Has Right to Order Outlay.

Payment of two weeks' salary to city employes, totaling about $2,200,000, started yesterday following a conference at which it was agreed that Acting Mayor Corr had sufficient de facto powers to order the pay day. At the same time conferees agreed that his present powers were not broad enough to carry through the transfer of city funds for a school pay day. Legislation is to be drafted permitting the acting mayor to take part in such a transaction in the hope that the city may gather sufficient funds to advance to the board of education.

Officials at Conference.

Present at the conference in the mayor's office were Fred W. Sargent, head of the citizens' committee on public expenditures; Corporation Counsel Sexton, Commissioner of Public Works Hewitt, City Treasurer Kearns and his attorney, Thomas Marshall, and Attorney Henry E. Cutler, authority on municipal securities.

"There is still some question concerning my power to perform certain functions," said Acting Mayor Corr after the conference. "Mr. Cutler, Mr. Marshall and Corporation Counsel Sexton are to draft legislation to remedy that. We expect to be in a position shortly to take care of the teachers."

Pay for Half of October.

The pay which city workers are receiving is for the last half of October, and the payment probably will not be completed until tomorrow. Employes of the city and of the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium are included, but not school employes.

Howard P. Savage, business manager of the school board, sent letters yesterday to a number of department stores and other merchants asking them if they were willing to honor wage assignments of school employes.

P. A. NASH PICKED FOR CERMAK'S NATIONAL POST

Will Represent Illinois on Party Committee.

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 20.—[Special.]—The Democratic state central committee met here today, mourned its dead, and agreed to carry on.

With complete concurrence on the part of downstate, P. A. Nash, personal choice of the late A. J. Cermak as the head of the Cook county organization, was elected to succeed the Chicago mayor as national committeeman from Illinois. No other name was proposed. As far as could be detected there was no sign of an anti-Chicago movement, such as had been forecast following the death of Mayor Cermak.

Named by Downstater.

The meeting opened with State Chairman Donovan, also lieutenant governor, announcing that every one of the 25 districts of the state was represented by its state committeeman or his proxy. With no preliminaries Harry Holland of Marion, representing the 25th district, nominated Nash for the vacancy on the national committee. His motion was seconded by Patrick G. McGuire of Chicago and John W. Yantis of Shelbyville.

The vote was unanimous and National Committeeman Nash was escorted to the front of the room.

"He was a Democratic stalwart before some of the people in this room were born," said State Chairman Donovan in presenting him. "We are in the ascendancy and I don't know anybody who can synchronize better with the national organization and hold the local organization together better than can Mr. Nash."

Will Do All He Can.

Nash, having been elected on roll call without dissent, was earnest in his assurances.

"I'll do everything I can," he said. "I shall not seek to interfere with downstate. We can take care of ourselves in Cook county. Beyond that, anything I can do to help downstate, without interference with downstate affairs, I shall be more than ready to do.

"I want to see every Republican put out of office all the way down the line. I don't want any office for myself. But the time has come for transferring the affairs of the government into the hands of the people."

Edmond J. Mulcahy offered a resolution of sympathy on Mayor Cermak's death. It was adopted unanimously. Mulcahy represents the 9th congressional district on the state committee.

TITTLE DEFENDS HIMSELF AGAINST PACIFISM CHARGE

Dr. E. F. Tittle, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Evanston, yesterday defended himself against attacks of various north shore patriotic organizations. The organizations accused the Evanston pastor of pacifism and socialistic leanings. Dr. Tittle spoke before the regular Methodist ministers' meeting at the Chicago temple. Dr. Tittle's official board recently gave him unanimous indorsement in answer to the attacks.

As he referred to the precept, "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's," Dr. Tittle said it seemed entirely right "that Caesar be advised by manufacturers, militarists, bankers, and big taxpayers, but wrong for Caesar to be advised by ministers who are trained to interpret the kingdom of God. These other groups permit us to 'render unto God such things as funerals, weddings, baptisms, ladies' aid society work, and grace before meals. Outside of these things God is allowed a very limited jurisdiction."

Shoots His Brother

Grover Piper, 32 years old, 2215 North Racine avenue, was shot and seriously wounded yesterday during a dispute in his office at 1358 Wrightwood avenue with his brother, Gilbert. The latter was arrested and charged with the shooting. The brothers recently dissolved their partnership in a heating contracting business at the Wrightwood avenue address.

Gilbert Piper told police he had fired in self defense. "He forced me out of the business and withheld my share of the profits," he said. "When I demanded my rights, he drew a revolver so I drew my gun and fired."

The wounded man denied he had drawn a revolver first. He said he had ordered his brother out of the office and that Gilbert had turned in the doorway and started firing. Gilbert is 40 years old and lives at 2648 Seminary avenue.

PORTUGAL VOTES TO PICK HEAD BY DIRECT ELECTION

LISBON, March 20.—(AP)—A new constitution for Portugal, providing for the direct election of the president, was approved in a plebiscite yesterday, returns announced today showed.

This was the first election in Portugal in seven years, with women exercising the franchise for the first time.

OTTO F. AKEN IS CHOSEN COUNTY SCHOOLS CHIEF

Commissioners Elect Him to Succeed Tobin.

Otto F. Aken was chosen by the county board yesterday to succeed the late Edward J. Tobin as county superintendent of schools. He will assume office immediately and serve out the term of Mr. Tobin, which expires in August, 1934. Mr. Aken is 63 years old and has been an assistant superintendent in the county school system for the last ten years. He lives at 1432 Henry avenue, Des Plaines.

Board Defeats Motion.

Mrs. Aken was elected after the board had voted down the motion of Commissioner Amelia Sears to postpone the election and ask the heads of the departments of education of De Paul, Loyola and Northwestern universities and the University of Chicago to advise the board in its choice of a superintendent. Commissioner Marie Plumb was the only member of the board who voted with Miss Sears on the motion. Mr. Aken was then elected without a negative vote, Miss Sears passing her vote.

The new superintendent has been a teacher and school administrator in Illinois for the last 34 years. Before his appointment to the Cook county system ten years ago, Mr. Aken had been for nine years superintendent of schools in Jackson county. He is a graduate of the Carbondale Teachers' college.

To Follow Tobin Policies.

Mr. Aken said he would supervise the county school system strictly in accordance with the successful policies of Mr. Tobin.

"I am thoroughly familiar with and a firm believer in the educational ideas of my predecessor," he said. "I will continue his plans for effecting economies and for more efficient administration. Everything possible will be done to maintain and improve the teaching standards and I will certainly continue the annual achievement contests for pupils of the rural schools."

Judge Graber of Woman's Court Rests in Sanitarium

Municipal Judge Joseph A. Graber, who has been presiding over the Woman's court since it was organized six months ago, is in the Sacred Heart sanitarium in Milwaukee for a two weeks rest, it was learned yesterday. Judge Erwin J. Hasten has taken his place on the bench.

KERNER SEEKS LAWS FOR TAX COLLECTION BY RECEIVERSHIPS

Bills designed to put more teeth in the tax collection system by empowering the county treasurer to act as receiver for income producing properties which are delinquent on their tax payments will be introduced in the legislature today by Attorney General Kerner, he announced yesterday.

The bills provide that the treasurer may seek appointment as receiver not only for otherwise solvent properties which have failed to pay their taxes, but that he shall replace receivers already appointed in foreclosure proceedings, if there is reason to believe that those receivers have not used due diligence in making tax payments.

The measure would give the county a stick with which to enforce the legal maxim that taxes are a lien prior to any other obligation of a property, including any mortgage interest or principal payments. They would not be aimed, Mr. Kerner said, at the small home owner, since residences are not considered income producing property, but only at larger office, hotel, and apartment buildings and structures of similar type.

Employés in the county treasurer's office were still engaged yesterday in recording payments of the first installment of 1932 real estate taxes received before last Wednesday, the penalty date. Payments to date were estimated at nearly $48,000,000. This total, however, includes a substantial amount of payments of the second installment of taxes, which are not due until July 1.

UNIONS DEMAND JOLIET GROCERS QUIT MILK SALES

Independent grocers of Joliet yesterday were requested by officers of the milk drivers and truckers' unions to stop selling fresh milk out of sympathy for the unionized employés of all Joliet milk and ice cream concerns who were locked out or walked out in a wage dispute last Saturday.

The officers and executive committee of the Will County Business Men's association indicated they would consider the union request in a meeting at Joliet tonight. The unions indicated that they wished to compel consumers to purchase all milk at the twelve dairies involved in the dispute, which are being picketed. Home deliveri of milk have been stopped by the dairy companies.

A meeting of representatives of the unions, the dairy farmers and the dairy companies also is to be held today. While it was said that the meeting was to arrange for paying off farmers and milkmen for the period of the bank moratorium, the lockout is expected to be discussed.

ZANGARA DIES FOR MURDER OF MAYOR CERMAK

'Brain Normal' Is Finding of Physicians.

Raiford, Fla., March 20.—[Special.]—Giuseppe Zangara's life was taken today by the state of Florida as the penalty for his having killed Chicago's mayor, Anton J. Cermak.

Zangara was strapped in the electric chair at 9:11 o'clock this morning, eastern standard time. Four minutes later Sheriff Dan Hardie of Dade county [Miami] pulled a switch that sent 2,300 volts of electricity through the assassin's body. At 9:27 o'clock Zangara was pronounced dead.

Zangara had intended to kill Franklin D. Roosevelt. Zangara had proclaimed himself the enemy of kings and presidents but not mayors.

"Lousy capitalists," he shouted in defiance to the world he was about to leave.

Find Brain Normal.

The finale of the tragedy of Feb. 15 when Zangara wounded five persons came when an autopsy was performed after his death.

"We find his brain perfectly normal," read the report of the physicians. "A microscopic examination will be made later." The report was signed by Dr. Ralph N. Greene, former chief of staff of the state hospital for the insane; Dr. R. R. Killinger, medical officer of Duval county; Dr. C. D. Whitaker, prison physician, and Dr. J. J. Kindred of New York.

"Zangara had a chronically diseased gall bladder which had adhesions. Therefore he was a victim of chronic indigestion," the physicians found. "He was, however, a healthy, well nourished individual.

"Zangara's conduct during his last moments in the execution chamber indicated clearly he had a proper understanding of his surroundings and that he realized fully the nature of the punishment about to be meted out to him as evidenced by his verbal expressions and demeanor," the doctors added.

"In our opinion this man was regard as having been sane and also regarded medically as criminally responsible for the crime for which he was executed."

Zangara's body has been asked for by several medical schools.

Denies Having Accomplices.

Commissioner Nathan Mayo, head of the prison bureau, visited Zangara this morning in the death chamber and asked about membership in any anarchist organizations.

"No," said the doomed assassin. "I have no friends. It was idea of my own. I would try kill President Roosevelt again if out of here."

Regarding Mrs. Joe H. Gill of Miami, wounded by one of his bullets, he said, "She had no business getting in way of bullet."

"Come along," Mayo directed and Zangara marched to the electric chair.

"No camera men here?" he inquired as straps were tightened about his legs and arms. It was a disappointment.

The 2,300 volts came next.

Marion Nixon, blonde film actress, yesterday obtained a divorce in Los Angeles, Cal., from Edward H. Hillman Jr., wealthy Chicagoan.

Taking the stand at the hearing which preceded the divorce award, Miss Nixon testified that her husband had been abusive on several occasions, that he had called her vile names and had struck her.

"He called me a fool and said he was tired of being married to me," she said. "Once, when I refused to go out of the house with him because I felt ill, he struck me."

No alimony was demanded. Miss Nixon, who is said to earn $1,000 a week in the movies, was given the Beverly Hills home which the couple have occupied in California, and she has leased it to Mr. Hillman for $9,500 a year. The Hillmans were married Aug. 11, 1929, and separated Jan. 30 of this year.

LACK OF HAIR is so unnecessary

MAKE THIS TEST
Cover the left half of the above picture. Note how old the face looks because the scalp is bare. Then cover the right half and notice how much younger the same face appears because the scalp is covered with hair.

NO SURE method of preventing baldness or re-growing hair was known thirty years ago. Then—men experimented with cure-all remedies which usually did more harm than good. Now—a few old-fashioned men still use their scalps as experimental laboratories for patent remedies and barber-shop treatments. But modern-minded men have learned that baldness can be avoided and hair can be re-grown, when proper specialized treatment is administered to the scalp.

Thinking men realize that the science of hair culture has advanced in pace with other scientific discoveries. They know that Thomas treatment offers the most precise, reliable method known to modern science, of overcoming the various types of dandruff, stopping abnormal hair-fall, and re-growing hair on thin or bald spots. OHIO FLOOD'S VICTIMS AIDED IN FOUR STATES

River Rising; Crest Due at Cairo March 25.

Cincinnati, O., March 20.—Naval amphibian planes, government tugs, and scows are being used in rescue work as the Ohio river rises over its banks, swollen by the rains that pour into its tributary streams. Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, and West Virginia points are suffering, with at least 8 persons known to be dead. The Allegheny river is swollen in western New York and Pennsylvania, where it joins the Monongrahela at Pittsburgh to form the Ohio.

The Ohio is pouring its flood waters into the Mississippi and the peak is expected to reach Cairo by March 25. Smaller rivers in Alabama and Mississippi already are at flood stage.

Relief Parties Organized.

The American Red Cross warned 65 chapters along the Ohio river from Wheeling, W. Va., to Cairo to be ready for emergencies, and seven relief workers were dispatched to the 600 mile front from the headquarters in Washington.

Two amphibian planes and eight pilots and the naval reserve personnel in the river valley were requested to render assistance. The coast guard at Buffalo was authorized to dispatch eighty men, with surfboats and skiffs, on flat cars.

Cincinnati was the largest city affected. Parts of its residential districts were isolated and east of the city stretched a lake two miles wide. The four trunk line roads here were forced into their new 41 million dollar union terminal 10 days ahead of time.

In Kentucky Newport was inundated and 2,000 persons were left temporarily homeless.

At Huntington, W. Va., the stage was 55 feet, five feet above flood stage, and the river was out of its banks in many places. Homes and business houses were flooded by the backwater.

The river was four feet above the flood level at Louisville and about 150 families were driven to high ground.

Higher at Evansville.

The river was rising three inches an hour at Evansville, Ind., and was expected to reach 45 feet by the middle of the week, almost equaling the record stage of 1927. The Wabash river was reported at two feet above flood stage at Mount Carmel, Ill., and was nearing the flood stage at Terre Haute.

The main roads from Indianapolis to Cincinnati and Louisville were among those blockaded, but the highway commission marked detours which enabled motorists to travel by roundabout routes.

The Wabash from Lafayette southward reached flood stage at many points and poured a large volume of water into the Ohio south of Mount Vernon, Ind.

At Memphis, Tenn., Maj. Brehon Somervell, United States army engineer, said the Mississippi would reach the flood stage of 35 feet within ten days as a result of the flooded Ohio valley. The reading there yesterday was 18.8 feet. The Mississippi reached 46 feet at Memphis during the great flood of 1927.

Other Flooded Points.

In other cities of the valley, the flood situation according to dispatches to the Associated Press was as follows:

IRONTON, O.—Six or seven feet of Ohio river water flowed in low lying streets. Red Cross and other agencies aided those forced from their homes.

MANCHESTER, O.—Entire business district and many homes flooded. National guardsmen aid victims.

GALLIPOLIS, O.—Schools closed. Ohio river continued to rise with a stage of 53.9 feet. New York Central railroad tracks washed out at Kanauga, four miles up the river from here. Many streets under water.

MARIETTA, O.—Two hundred employed were clearing the streets of last week's flood damage as the river dropped three feet. All highways remained closed. Pennsylvania railroad resumed service to Cleveland after a week's interruption.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va.—Many families homeless; fresh rains; Ohio has backed up into the streams flowing into it.

POMEROY, O.—Five feet of water in some streets.

IRONTON, O.—Families from low land moved into a school house; fed by the Red Cross.

LAWRENCEBURG, Ind.—Reinforced levy built here last summer holding back the Ohio.

MADISON, Ind.—Factories along river front suspended; Pennsylvania railroad yard under water and one state highway closed.

NEW ALBANY, IND.—Three hundred families temporarily homeless. Three highways blocked.

PADUCAH, Ky.—The Ohio here was at 30 feet, with 40 to 45 predicted while the flood stage is 45 feet.

CHICAGOANS AWAIT ORDERS.

Coast guard crews in the Chicago area were kept in readiness last night to leave for the flooded territories along the Ohio river. Orders to this effect were issued by Commander S. B. Johnson at Green Bay, Wis., district headquarters, and all leaves of the crew men were canceled.

There is precedent for the transfer of the local guardsmen to the Ohio. Last summer crews were sent to the Yazoo river basin in Mississippi and in former years have been sent to duty on the Mississippi river.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE

HOME OF CHINESE GENERAL, OUSTED BY JAPS, BOMBED

Man Who Lost Jehol Escapes Death.

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, March 20.—Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang, former Manchurian war lord, who surrendered that territory and also Jehol province to the Japanese, escaped assassination tonight when a bomb was thrown at his house in the French concession here. No one was injured. Marshal Chang, who is living here pending a proposed trip abroad "for his health," was absent.

The bombing was blamed on elements hostile to Marshal Chang for his failure to defend Chinese territory from the Japanese invasion. Chang recently received a threatening letter demanding one-third of his huge fortune to finance resistance against the Japanese. Despite a large guard about his home the assassin penetrated to the garden and then escaped after hurling the bomb.

Anti-Jap Agitation Grows.

Meanwhile anti-Japanese agitation is increasing in South China. The official Kuo Min News agency today reported that Gen. Tsai Tink-kai, leader of the nineteenth route army, which distinguished itself in the fighting against the Japanese at Shanghai last year, has been named to command a southwestern "national salvation army."

This army consists of six regiments financed at Canton and has as second in command Gen. Bei Chung-hsi, Kwangsi commander. It was asserted that this new force will soon move north to engage the Japanese.

May Mean Civil War.

It was also reported by the Kuo Min agency that Gen. Chen Chi-tang, Cantonese commander, who has been associated with Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, Chinese dictator, in the latter's anti-communist campaign in Kiangsi province, appears to be in danger of losing his grip on the southern situation. Serious runs have developed recently on the government banks, it was declared.

This development has given rise to the allegation that perhaps Gen. Tsai and Gen. Bei are not getting their army together to fight the Japanese but are merely making ready to upset Gen. Chen.

N. C. FARR IS NEW TRUSTEE IN EDITH M'CORMICK TRUST

Newton C. Krenn and Dato resigned as trustees last week, retaining their claims upon the trust as creditors. Attorney Benjamin W. Lawless has been acting as temporary trustee and will remain in the trust organization as an assistant to Mr. Farr.

The Chicago Title and Trust company, executor of the will of Mrs. McCormick, is owner of 53,320 shares of the trust out of a total of 53,350 shares outstanding, it was announced.

Cicero Board Adopts 1933 Budget; $300,000 Under '32

The town board of Cicero last night adopted its 1933 appropriation bill, totaling $673,000, a reduction of nearly $300,000 from the $913,964 budget of 1932. Town President Joseph G. Cerny said the trustees had pared expenses wherever possible to effect the economies.

SCHOOL CANDY SALE RAISES $8 TO FEED HUNGRY STUDENTS

A candy sale by the pupils of all grades of the Sherwood school, 5025 Sheridan road, added $8 to the Hungry School Children's fund yesterday. A total of $7.13 was raised by the sale of candy which was donated by the children, and the youngsters made up the difference.

Among other gifts was $1 from "A Wellwisher," who wished he could send more "to help along the splendid work." Job's Daughters of Illinois, Bethel No. 3, sent $6.

A total of $41 was received for the day, enough money to feed 320 grammar school children a hot, nourishing lunch. Five cents gives a small child an adequate lunch, while 15 cents is needed for the high school or junior high school pupil. Contributions in full are acknowledged as follows:

QUAKE RELIEF BILL CHANGED TO LOAN BASIS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 20.—[Special.]—The McAdoo bill making a direct federal appropriation of 5 million dollars for rebuilding California cities damaged in the recent earthquake was altered in conference today to a plan under which 5 millions is to be borrowed from the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Capitol observers had watched the progress of the bill with unusual interest, since its success would serve to indicate the ability of new Senator William Gibbs McAdoo as a go-getter for California. Its emergence as a loan bill instead of a direct gift was regarded as a partial but satisfactory victory for the former secretary of the treasury.

Mr. McAdoo's original proposal was for a direct federal grant of 5 million dollars to be parceled out by the President, with no thought of repayment. Balking at this plan, the house substituted the loan bill with no limitation as to the amount which could be obtained from the R. F. C. and no stipulation that such advances were for "earthquake relief" alone. In conference a limit of 5 millions was set and the loans were restricted to advances for damages due to "earthquake."

Feel Slight Shocks.

Long Beach, Cal., March 20.—[Special]—Small portions of some previously damaged buildings fell during two light earth shocks felt here this morning. No persons were injured.

SPRING ENTERS AMID DELUGE OF SNOW AND SLEET

Spring skidded into Chicago at 7:33 p. m. yesterday on slippery snow and half melted ice.

More snow, according to the weather forecast, is expected early today, and Meteorologist W. P. Day hazarded the opinion that the total might run three or four inches before the fall ceased. The minimum temperature expected in the morning is 24 degrees and the highest today around the freezing mark. Yesterday's maximum was 33 above zero.

All over the middle west there were reports of great damage to trees, to telephone and telegraph lines and to power communications by sleet and frozen rain collected on branches and wires.

In Chicago the police guarded broken electric wires to prevent persons from touching them and being electrocuted. During the early hours yesterday there were delays on the surface and elevated lines and interurban railroads on account of the icy coating on trolleys and the third rail. This trouble was disposed of by noon, however.

About twenty Chicagoans suffered minor injuries in falls on the icy streets during the morning.

Gun Toting Case Against Gangster Is Continued

A charge of carrying a concealed weapon against William "Three Finger Jack" White, gangster and labor racketeer, yesterday was continued until March 27 by Chief Justice Prystalski in the Criminal court. The delay was granted at the request of White's attorneys, W. W. Smith and Everett Jennings, who said they were preparing a motion to quash the indictment on the ground of invalidity because the case was once stricken off the court calendar.

NITTI'S TRIAL ON ASSAULT CHARGE SET FOR APRIL 3

An effort to show that Frank Nitti, alleged head of the remnants of the Capone gang, was the victim of a murderous assault by policemen who raided a loop office last Dec. 19, will be made by his lawyers on April 3 when Nitti goes on trial in the Criminal court charged with attempting to kill one of the police raiders.

This was indicated yesterday by Attorneys Benedict Short and Rocco De Stefano when they appeared, with Nitti, before Judge Rudolph F. Desort. Nitti entered a plea of not guilty and asked for a jury trial. His counsel then entered a motion to suppress the evidence on the ground that the police raid was made without a warrant and that their client was shot and wounded without provocation by the raiders.

He stopped treatment too soon and now he has lost both his health and his job!

This unhappy young man, the victim of a venereal disease, made the bad mistake of stopping treatment just as soon as the uncomfortable symptoms of his infection had disappeared. Now a serious complication has confined him to his bed, cost him his job, and made him dependent on charity for support.

There are in Chicago many thousands of men who are risking a similar fate. By stopping treatment before they were pronounced fully cured, they are running the chance of letting a comparatively harmless condition develop into an extremely dangerous one. For both syphilis and gonorrhea are likely to have destructive consequences unless entirely eliminated from the system.

Syphilis, for instance, may result in heart disease, blindness, deafness, apoplexy, paralysis, nervous breakdowns or even insanity! Moreover, it is known to be the principal reason for stillborn, deformed and feeble-minded babies.

Likewise, gonorrhea may eventually be the cause of crippling rheumatism, prostate troubles and other serious disorders. And this disease is responsible not only for most infantile blindness, but for the greater part of the mutilating pelvic operations on women.

Thus it will be seen that uncured syphilis or gonorrhea is a source of grave danger not alone to the individual but to his family. The married man who knowingly permits a venereal disease to go uncured is guilty of criminal negligence toward both his wife and any children he may have in the future!

Time and patience, as well as the utmost confidence in your physician, are needed to cure a venereal disease. The proper treatment of gonorrhea is generally a matter of months, while that of syphilis usually requires a year or more. Therefore, do not make the mistake of discontinuing treatment once the more apparent symptoms have disappeared, but continue going to your doctor until he, and he alone, tells you that you are cured!

Only quacks are guilty of carrying patients along for unnecessary treatments. You can depend on any reputable physician to tell you as soon as you have been completely cured. Here at the Public Health Institute every effort is made to release patients from treatment just as quickly as laboratory and other tests show that they are wholly free from infection.

Founded by public-spirited Chicagoans NOT FOR PROFIT but for the general welfare, the Public Health Institute has specialized in the treatment of venereal diseases ever since 1920. The medical service is of the most advanced type, yet the fees are remarkably low. For example, a complete examination for gonorrhea and syphilis, including Wassermann and Kahn blood tests, costs only $3.00, while six consecutive treatments for gonorrhea cost but $4.00. Even those pressed for funds can arrange to be treated.

If you know or suspect that your system still harbors the germs of a venereal disease, act now—before it may be too late! Go at once to your family physician or come to the Public Health Institute.

NOTE: The Public Health Institute has no connection with any other Chicago health or medical institute, and should not be confused with those run for personal gain!

A Stopped-up Nose

may start the MOUTH BREATHING HABIT

When a cold causes your child to breathe through his mouth instead of his nose, beware of the deadly mouth breathing habit.

The nose filters out the deadly germs that enter with each breath, but the mouth cannot. During mouth breathing these germs invade the lungs and undermine vitality. Body and mind are stunted. The child is dull in school. The unnatural breathing distorts his mouth.

Take no chances! Keep the nostrils open by inserting Mentholatum night and morning. This soothing ointment clears the nasal passages and promotes natural nose breathing.

RECOGNIZING MOSCOW.

A new drive to restore diplomatic relations with Russia seems to be in the offing. It has the support of such influential members of congress as Senator Borah, and an intensive propaganda has been in operation for several years to reverse the policy fixed by Woodrow Wilson and maintained under Harding, Coolidge, and Hoover. The façade of this propaganda is a pseudo-liberalism which argues that our refusal to enter into diplomatic relations with Moscow is a denial of the right of the Russian people to have any form of government they choose. It urges also that the communist régime is a noble experiment to uplift the masses which will eventually leave off, if it has not already left off, the regrettable methods of suppression liberalism is not elsewhere inclined to condone.

We do not think the flimsy character of this façade need be seriously treated. If our policy is reversed it will be for more substantial reasons. The real source of what strength the demand for diplomatic relations with the soviet possesses lies in the promise of profit. Depression conditions give a special lure to this promise. Nevertheless, it is a deception. It should be exposed.

The expectation of a substantial increase of our trade with Russia through the establishment of diplomatic relations is based on the fallacy that commerce is a matter of sentiment. When other conditions permit, sentiment plays perhaps a small part in certain trade and other profitable intercourse, chiefly in travel. But there is no régime existing in the world less likely to be moved by sentiment than that controlled by the gentlemen now occupying the Kremlin. Virtually all trade with Russia is controlled by the soviet government, which is under continuous and desperate pressure to obtain means to maintain solvency, to obtain foreign credit to proceed with its five year plan, to obtain material not to be had in Russia. The survival of the soviet régime is at stake. The soviet government is in no position to play favorites or to allow resentment to control its trade policies. It will borrow and buy and sell where it can get the best bargains. In fact, it must. If our government declared officially that Stalin is a world benefactor and the communist rule a reign of justice and liberty, the declaration would not sell a bill of goods.

The essential of increased trade with Russia is the granting of credit on terms consistent with Russian needs. It must be a long term credit. If American bankers are ready to grant such credit, American trade will to that extent be increased. Diplomatic relations have nothing to do with it. We doubt that any more adventures in foreign financing by masterful New York bankers appeal to the investment or general public of the United States at this time or that the government would find encouragement in encouraging, much less supporting, them.

The establishment of diplomatic relations, however, would have political results. We do not think they would be compensated by any such financial or commercial advantages as may reasonably be expected from them. They would give a new footing in our own country for those amiable activities in subversive, subterranean disturbance which have brought repeated protest from governments maintaining diplomatic relations with Moscow. Russian diplomacy is an international nuisance which we in America need not greatly fear, but which we ought not to suffer unless we are assured of adequate compensation. Another result would be the increase of the prestige of communism and the strengthening of communist mischief making throughout the world. In some unstable countries, such as China, the result might be serious. Moscow, with its worldwide system of agitation, would advertise recognition by the United States as evidence that capitalism, in its greatest stronghold, has been forced to bow the knee to communism. The mischief making of the Red Internationale in every disturbed country would be heartened and intensified.

This is a consequence which we ought to avoid, not merely because of altruistic considerations, but because we have a substantial interest in the stabilization of world conditions.

The establishment of diplomatic relations with Russia or any other country is not a question of international right, but purely a question of policy. We have refused what is called recognition on several occasions when every argument made for recognition of the soviet government could have been made for recognition. Woodrow Wilson, whose example will surely not be repudiated by the present administration, refused to recognize a government established by military force in Mexico, although it had as much moral and political validity as the Red régime at Moscow.

The United States is completely free to grant or withhold recognition of the soviet. It should determine that question according to the interests of the American people, and it should be careful not to be deceived by the pressure of special interests or by fallacious expectations of profit based upon interested propaganda.

THE VAGUENESS OF THE FARM BILL.

The secretary of agriculture, Mr. Wallace, attended a secret congressional hearing on the farm bill which he has sponsored. Some of the men who were present at the meeting have said that the secretary found it difficult to explain what the bill provides and had to turn frequently to Mr. Mordecai Ezekiel, his economic adviser, for answers to questions.

The secretary's difficulties will be understood by any one who has read the bill to find out what his plan is. The bill is anything but specific. It is as vague as a blanket grant of power can be. It authorizes the secretary of agriculture to impose taxes on farm products consumed in this country and to pay out to farmers the taxes collected. Neither the rate nor the total amount of the taxes is specified. The method of distribution is not described. The bill does speak of "rentals" and "benefits," terms which suggest that the government may lease land held out of production or may pay bonuses to farmers for lessened production, but there is practically no limit to the secretary's discretion. It is impossible to say what a bill provides when it provides, as this one does, for everything and nothing.

Some one has made the estimate that the bill means additional taxation on consumers of 800 million dollars a year. That amount is roughly twice the total collection of personal income taxes in the United States, but both the imposition of this vast levy and its distribution are left solely within the discretion of Mr. Wallace. It is that fact, of course, which makes his inability to explain the provisions of the bill disturbing. He is to be given vaster powers of taxation and subsidy than any one man has ever wielded in the history of this country or perhaps any other, but is not yet clear on the meaning of the bill which he has sponsored.

The 800 million dollar figure is, of course, only a guess. It may be half a billion heavy or light. The only clew to the amount which can be exacted from consumers at the secretary's discretion is found in three or four references in the bill to the reëstablishment of the average purchasing power of farm commodities in terms of the things which the farmer buys as it existed in the five years before August, 1914. Probably no two statisticians could agree on what that formula means, but the secretary of agriculture is given full power to impose taxes and redistribute the taxes collected among farmers with only that indefinite objective to guide him.

HITLERITES AMUCK.

Hitlerite outrages against the lives and property of proscribed elements in opposition, chiefly communists and Jews, occupy the attention of central Europe. In addition there is the disagreement with France over the activities of the Nazis in the delimited Rhine area. The most sensational accounts of the attacks upon the proscribed peoples of Germany present instances of brutalized terrorism, and although there is some evidence that the Hitler authorities are trying to restrain it, it is also true that much of the incentive can be derived from Hitler's own preëlection declamations.

In a political movement founded so largely on intense emotionalism and partisan fury it needs but little encouragement from the top to send the more dementate partisans into acts of extreme cruelty. An emotional partisanship will easily justify outrages on victims against whom its prejudices have been aroused to fever heat. In such cases a sense of injury, be the injury real or fancied, coupled with a sense that retributive justice is being done, with a mixture of primitive brutality added, will produce instances revolting to the better nature.

History is familiar with the consequences of this in nearly every intense civil conflict. The Puritan records of England are full of them. Our own revolution has a record of terrorism imposed alike by loyalists and revolutionists. The French revolution, of course, offers a celebrated instance, and the dictatorship of the proletariat in Russia is a current example. That the Hitlerites are using their new authority to persecute the objects of their hatred should distress but need not astonish the humanitarian. Such reflection, however, cannot be used to ease the conscience of the Hitlerite authorities. They are not, as the Reds in Russia were, defying the established world. They are not seeking to create in Germany a people with spear heads pointed to the rest of the world but a nation reorganized for better association with other countries. It is, theoretically at least, their objective to unite Germany, to free it from the limitations imposed by an unjust treaty, and to give it the place to which its natural power and accomplishment would entitle it. Much of this assumes the sympathy of the rest of the western world and consequently must outlaw a rule based on terrorism and inhumanity.

Editorial of the Day

PRICE PEGGING NOT THE ANSWER.

[Kansas City Star.]

It is vitally important to the west that farm prices should rise. The farmer must have relief on his taxes, and in many cases a reduction in his mortgage interest rate and his amortization charge. These are fundamental. In addition, he must have higher prices for his products.

The Star has the greatest sympathy with the farm leaders who have asked the President to favor a price pegging bill. But it believes such a measure would be the wrong approach to the problem and would not achieve the results desired. The country has recently finished the greatest price pegging operation in history. It failed to accomplish what was expected and it left the farmer worse off than if it had not been attempted. For it resulted in damming up surpluses at home, instead of disposing of them abroad.

Letters and other information coming to the Star indicate that farmers in this territory, at least, do not want a repetition of that experiment in some other form.

What the farmer needs most—after tax and debt relief—is a restoration of consuming power at home through business recovery, and an unblocking of foreign markets so that he can dispose of his surplus abroad. An attempt to peg prices on products domestically consumed would reduce consumption at home, lead to anti-dumping restrictions abroad, increase the difficulties in opening up foreign markets, and generally aggravate the problem of farm surpluses.

The government can help the farmer to adjust his program by financing the abating of taxes on marginal lands taken out of production. It can help him still further by pushing the Roosevelt program for domestic recovery, for international debt settlements, and for reciprocal tariff reductions. It would hurt instead of help him to start price pegging again.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. By R. C. McLaughlin

THE TRAGIC FATE OF GERALDINE McSNEER.

[The W. C. T. U. has issued a warning to the girls that beer, now soon to return, will make them fat.]

Geraldine McSneer was the pride of the younger set of the younger set, which is indeed a most exclusive social position. Her name was in all the Blue Books in the country and society editors stood day and night in front of her house and cheered whenever she came in sight. And oh how sylphlike was Geraldine McSneer. Slender, oh, slender was no word for it! She looked like a shoestring dangling in the breeze. Oh, and indeed, Geraldine McSneer's girlish figger was the envy of all our very best debutantes.

And then beer came back. Of course the W. C. T. U. had warned the girls what beer would do to their figgers. But Geraldine was young and careless. "Stuff and nonsense!" laughed Geraldine McSneer gaily as she read the solemn words of warning.

And so one afternoon at a society luncheon which was very snooty, indeed, two of the gentlemen having worn silk hats to the party and everybody knows what that means. "Mercy," said Geraldine McSneer, "I've just lapped up my last drop of gin. What have they got to drink in this joint?"

And then it was she drank a glass of beer.

After that she absorbed a few more. And the next day she drank some more beer. And the very next day as she walked down the street she met some cats who said in great surprise: "Why, Geraldine, we hardly knew you! You certainly have changed!"

A day or two later Geraldine, still drinking an occasional glass of beer, stood on the scales. Heavens! She weighed a hundred and fifty pounds!

But she would not stop drinking beer. And only a few days later in passing a couple on the boulevard she detected the woman pointing at her and heard her saying to the man: "Well, I'm not as stout as she is, am I, Arthur?"

But still Geraldine McSneer would not stop drinking beer. And then one day the butler came up and said a society gentleman wanted to see her. He knew the caller was a society gentleman because he had a silk hat and fur on the collar of his overcoat and wore patent leather shoes and purple spats.

Geraldine hastened down to greet him. "I represent Circling Brothers' Great and Only Show," he said. "Our famous Fat Lady, weight six hundred seventy-five pounds, has eloped with the Wild Man of Borneo and we wish to offer you the job."

With an awful scream Geraldine McSneer sank back on to the divan. Which just naturally ruined the divan.

MORAL.

But in case you want to get fat read our forthcoming story, "Proving Beer Will Make You Thinner than a Razor Blade."

TO E. H. R.

Remembering you in the cool and silvery morning,
When the first sweet shiver of spring was alive in the air,
You, with the winds of April blowing around you
And the April sun in your hair,

My heart, being unreleased and stubbornly mortal,
Cried bitterly out, "It is too much pain to endure;
The beautiful dead, and the springtime rising above them,
And grief which has no cure."

My heart, being full of wounds, and heavy with arrows
Lodged in its core and trembling still from the bow, Looked on your tranquil heart, and cried to it "Pity!
Ah, that it should be so!"

Pity you? I? Understand, dear heart, and forgive me;
Blindly I brought you pity, who know no pain—
You . . . a dance of silver leaves in the starlight,
A voice in the rain!

DOROTHY KISSLING.

SUNDAY is a very different day from what it used to be. It's so very different from the other days of the week that we sit twiddling our thumbs almost overcome by the strange inaction and quiet of the day. That's probably because Sunday is the one day that Franklin Delano isn't doing something new.

THE DAILY FRONT PAGE stories regarding the doing of the younger Douglas Fairbanks are becoming just a wee bit boring. Not but what we get a thrill when we see a big black scare head reading: "FAIRBANKS JR. SENDS WHITE CARNATIONS TO ESTRANGED WIFE," and burst into happy tears when we read "YOUNG FAIRBANKS CALLS CONSTANCE UP ON TELEPHONE," but the repetition of white carnations and telephone calls is getting a trifle monotonous and we do wish that Junior would go fishing for awhile or take a long trip to the north pole. We feel the change would give both Mr. Fairbanks and his public a great deal of genuine rest and pleasure.

SPORTS IN GERMANY.

In Germany there are twelve million persons between 15 and 25 years of age. According to a recent Berlin letter to the Journal of the American Medical Association, six million of these are active devotees of sports. The number has risen from eight hundred thousand since 1914. The world war and the experiences of the years immediately following were responsible for the most rapid rates of increase. Another spurt is on now in anticipation of the next Olympian contests. It is prophesied that by the year of those games there will be eight million German young men and young women engaging in athletic sports. The German entries in those games will be chosen by preliminary contests in which probably more than one-half of the entire German youth population will contest.

In that country athletics has acquired political significance. It even has some place in party politics. However, what is much more important, the German people recognize that if they are to emerge successfully from the eclipse which has been their lot for fourteen years they must build up the physique of their people and, by the same measures, must maintain the standards of their health.

They go about it with typical German thoroughness and give the movement all the financial support they can afford. They have rearranged their school schedules so as to permit the time and opportunity for physical upbuilding. In considerable measure this conservation of health and physical upbuilding is a well integrated part of their school plan. Other nations talk about doing this, but the Germans put it in operation promptly and have carried it out thoroughly. Their younger voters were trained in an educational plan of which this is a part.

In consequence we read that when the wheel turns and the Germans come into relations where they will have opportunities they will have a strong, sturdy population available for their undertakings. It is said that never before in their history have the young people of Germany been so sturdy, nor have they appeared, superficially, to be so healthy. It will be interesting to see where they will rank when the battle to improve health shifts from the field of communicable diseases to that of the degenerative diseases.

The German youth are far away from the old German wand methods, all forms of callisthenics, and even the old style turner exercises. They are undertaking long walks, living in the open air, skating, and other winter sports—running, jumping, wrestling, and boxing.

German prize fighters will have to be reckoned with. Those who do not excel in the major athletic events are doing those noncompetitive stunts that are best of all for the promotion of physical vigor.

SKULLCAP TEA.

Mrs. R. T. writes: 1. Do you recommend skullcap tea for nerves?

2. Will it cure nervous trouble?

3. My baby was born with a red spot on her forehead. It fades away with pressure of finger. The doctor told me it would disappear in one year, but it has not. Do you think it will in time? Do birthmarks fade?

REPLY.

1. No.
2. No. Faith in it might cure nerves.
3. Birthmarks of the port wine type fade in a few instances. The chances are that this one will not.

OPERATION NEEDED.

Miss H. H. writes: I am worried about my mother, who is 80 years old. She cannot hear a thing and now I am afraid she is going blind. The doctor says she has a cataract which will eventually cause blindness. She does not know it yet, although she keeps saying she can hardly see anything. Is there any way this can be cured?

REPLY.

Apparently the only way to prevent your mother from becoming blind is to have her eyes operated on. This operation is done every day. As a rule, one eye is operated on and after some months or a year the other one is attended to.

MOLES.

B. L. writes: What are the causes of moles and how may they be removed?

REPLY.

There are several kinds. The cause of no kind is known except, perhaps, one cancerous type, but properly speaking the cause of that is also unknown. As a rule moles should not be removed. Certainly removal should not be lightly undertaken. In some cases surgical removal appears to be wise.

BANKRUPTCY.

Chicago, March 15.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Thirteen months ago I filed voluntary bankruptcy. I took a pauper's petition and paid the $35 fee in installments over a period of seven months. I was unable to pay the notification charges, so I could not apply for a discharge. 1. Is the time allowed under law expired in my case? 2. Can I get a refund on all or part of the $35 fee I paid? 3. If the answer to the second question is yes where shall I apply for it? J. K.

1. Section 32 of title bankruptcy of the United States code reads in part as follows: "Any person may, after the expiration of one month and within the next twelve months subsequent to being adjudged a bankrupt, file an application for a discharge in the court of bankruptcy in which the proceedings are pending; if it shall be made to appear to the judge that the bankrupt was unavoidably prevented from filing it within such time it may be filed within but not after the expiration of the next six months."
2. No.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

DEFICIENCY DECREE.

Chicago, March 14.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am the owner of a three flat building costing $28,000 upon which a bank loaned $14,000 as first mortgage. There is also a second mortgage for $1,600. Both mortgages are due Dec. 15, 1933. Interest and prepayments are in default one year, also special assessments and taxes. I acquired title to this property as third owner from borrower who built it. Under present conditions there is likely to be a large deficit when the property is sold. 1. If so, upon whom will the deficiency judgment rest? 2. What course do you suggest I pursue in settlement of these claims? A. P. S.

1. It will rest upon the maker. You are not liable for the deficiency unless you expressly assumed to pay the mortgage.
2. No immediate steps are necessary on your part with regard to a deficiency decree, if that is what you mean to ask.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

RECORDING DOCUMENTS.

Elmwood Park, Ill., March 12.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Please let me know if I can have my property recorded while under contract. The property has been recorded under Mills & Sons. Should I also have it recorded under my name? A. M. B.

The expression "property recorded" does not make sense. You might have a deed or a contract recorded, but not "property." The advisability of recording your contract would depend on its wording, whether you are in possession, how trustworthy your venders are, etc.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 21, 1917.

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—Vice President Marshall in an address here last night declared that a state of war between the United States and Germany actually exists and made a plea for the people of Montgomery to stand behind "the sad-eyed man in the White House who is trying to determine what is best for the republic." He added that there are some things worse than war, especially peace with dishonor.

WASHINGTON. — With America "virtually at war but not fighting," the cabinet today, in a two hour meeting, voiced a virtually unanimous view that the date for the extra session of congress, fixed for April 16, should be set forward. President Wilson listened, but expressed no views of his own. While it could not be learned that he had finally determined upon the course to be pursued, it was reported that he might announce tomorrow the call for an earlier meeting of congress.

NEW YORK.—An appeal and a demand that President Wilson, in the name of the American people, immediately accept the German challenge was voiced by Elihu Root at a special "preparedness" meeting in the Union League club last night. Col. Theodore Roosevelt seconded the appeal. The meeting was attended by many men of prominence. Charles E. Hughes presided. A committee headed by Robert Bacon, former ambassador to France, presented a report calling on the country to get ready for action. Resolutions urging President Wilson to take action against Germany and pledging support and also calling for universal military service were adopted.

BERLIN.—The German evacuation of Bapaume, Roye, Nayon, and Peronne is but a part of a great strategic undertaking which promises to revolutionize warfare on the entire western front and to constitute one of the most decisive moves in the war. Just a month ago the Germans evacuated an important sector on the Ancre but kept the fact secret for a week while the British bombarded the empty trenches, so today's report shows the most important development of 1917 on any front. The sector, including the evacuated cities, virtually covers the great Somme battle front. Reports from this section of the front tell of effective work of destruction carried out before the occupied land was given back to the French and the British, so that it will avail them nothing as captured soil, according to views expressed here.

LONDON.—The Petrograd evening papers of March 20, according to a Reuter dispatch, estimate the victims of the revolution in the Russian capital as between 600 and 700 killed and wounded. The funeral of the killed has been set for March 23, which henceforth will be observed as a national fête day.

WAR SUMMARY.—A U-boat in the Mediterranean sank a French battleship of the Danton class, weighing 18,000 tons. Missing men on the City of Memphis have reached Glasgow safely. Three more allied vessels were sunk by submarines. The British continue their advance north of Arras on the western front and occupy fourteen more villages. The French occupied Targnier, an important railroad junction on the Amiens-Reims line.

IT WILL MAKE A DIFFERENT MAN OF HIM

THE CRISIS INTERPRETED.

Irwin, Pa., March 15.—The President has won the approval of all classes by his vigorous action in dealing with the financial crisis. Although the effect of this violent upheaval will be felt for a long time, we may be thankful that the situation has been met and that the worst should soon be over. If ever there was an example of the evil results of foolish partisanship I believe this banking crisis stands at the head of the list. Had 1932 not been an election year it never would have occurred, or at least its severity would have been much less.

Almost a year ago the Democratic majority in congress rejected the President's tax program and devised a set of nuisance taxes of its own. Among these was a tax on bank checks. This was passed regardless of the objection of the President and the violent protest of every banker in the country. The result was that people started to use cash to avoid the tax on checks. Bank deposits dropped, bank failures increased. So far as I know this vicious legislation has not yet been repealed.

The Reconstruction Finance corporation was formed with the intention that it should meet the crisis by freely supporting our sound banks and quasi-public institutions in much the same way as do the Bank of England and other central banks. However, Democrats in congress, under Mr. Garner's leadership, felt that private individuals who happened to be hard up should also be aided directly by the R. F. C. Being defeated on this point, they obtained revenge by passing, against the protest of the President, the R. F. C. officials, and the bankers, the famous publicity bill making public R. F. C. loan data. Thus did the R. F. C. become a political football, and its usefulness was practically suspended before it had dispersed half of its funds to banks that deserved help.

As the campaign opened the people were told that President Hoover sought only to pour in help from the top. President Hoover's plans were for the benefit of the bankers. Bankers were assailed for not lending freely enough. Almost in the same breath they were pilloried for "speculating" with people's money.

The early epidemic of bank failures washed out practically all the unsound banks. In September and October hoarding had just about ceased and bank failures were negligible. The situation was well in hand. But in the face of renewed political attacks, wild talk about "inflation," "five billion dollar public works experiments," etc., it is no wonder that people became uneasy again. The wonder is that the present crisis did not occur sooner than it did.

Let not those who were in any way responsible for this undermining of the public confidence seek to stand in a halo of righteousness and cast stones at the past administration. The Democratic majority in the last session of congress was either guilty of boring from within, with the deliberate intention of frustrating every constructive measure, or they were and still are possessed with a degree of incompetence that will make it difficult for them to redeem themselves during this administration for the mistakes they made in the last one.

Many of us will stand behind our new President with the feeling that if his light fails us the resulting darkness may be black indeed. R. E. NEWELL.

CIVIL SERVICE IN THE CITY HALL.

Chicago, March 15.—In today's TRIBUNE I notice that Senator Lewis, in urging the appointment of Mr. Szymczak as a member of the federal civil service commission, is shocked indeed to find men and women in federal positions who have never taken a civil service examination.

If Senator Lewis will enlarge his investigation and indignation at conditions to include the city hall here in Chicago he will find his own back yard in need of attention. There are at least 3,000 temporary appointees at present in the city service, and many of them are in positions from which civil service employés have been ousted to make way for temporary appointees. All of this assumption of virtue on the part of the Democrats is most amusing. The determination to cash in on the so-called "Cermak policies" is another joke well understood by the public, as witness the practical stealing of the aldermanic primaries and the high-handed method of forcing through the election of a mayor pro tem. A CITIZEN.

WAGES IN 1933.

Chicago, March 15.—Believe it or not, a group of men have declared that they will not work unless they are granted an increase in wages of 35 cents an hour. They already command a bigger weekly pay check than most skilled laborers. Can you visualize such action in 1933? I was under the impression that most of us were grateful for having a job, but after hearing this information I believe I will ask the boss for a raise—and five hundred people will report to fill my place tomorrow, and no questions asked about salary. Perhaps local No. 1 of the International Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers has not heard that we are no longer living in the grand old year of 1928. Truth is stranger than fiction, but too much is too much. WAGE EARNER.

CONTINENTAL CURRENCY.

Glen Ellyn, Ill., March 15.—I have a five dollar bill issued in 1777 bearing the following: "This Bill Entitles the Bearer to receive Five Spanish Mill Dollars or the value thereof in Gold or Silver, according to a resolution of Congress passed at Baltimore Feb. 26, 1777." On the margin is the inscription, "Continental Currency."

I might confess this bill has been in the Whittemore family for at least a hundred years. What may I expect as my punishment as a "hoarder of currency"? MYRON W. WHITTEMORE.

A STEM WINDER.

MANY a manufacturer has implanted his slogan deep in the minds of the people. Not in a day or a year, but over a long period of years: By consistently advertising a product of high standards, or a service faithfully rendered.

Such slogans are indelibly written into our language. They are more than mere catchwords, for they reflect the experience of satisfied users . . . the goodwill of millions of homes.

There is a newspaper slogan which was written by nearly all of the people of Philadelphia: It is—

"In Philadelphia nearly everybody reads The Bulletin."

It is a slogan that sums up a record of thirty-seven years of newspaper publishing. A record based upon long service to the reader . . . printing dependable news without sensational treatment; giving thoughtful counsel in editorial pages; producing a newspaper accepted by the home in a City famous for homes.

Every day, Philadelphia buys more than half a million copies of The Bulletin. Two and one-half times the circulation of any other evening newspaper; more than all morning newspapers combined.

Numerically, that circulation represents nearly every home. More important, it represents the reading interest of those homes, since no reader was ever obtained by premiums or circulation contests.

Slaugh-ghairm

History relates how Scottish clans summoned their men to battle by shouting a rallying cry. Each member took up the cry until all of a clan were assembled.

Slaugh-ghairm, they called these rallying cries, which translated freely from the Gaelic, means "cry of the host."

Slogan is the word which we have derived from it, and its uses are not so warlike.

Modern business has adopted its slogans . . . sometimes to deliver a sales message; often to express a standard of workmanship or value; frequently to secure confidence for a product; even to inspire workers with the ideals of a business.

Philadelphia stands out as a sales market today:

Because it is a home center: Most of the people live in individual homes; nearly half of them own their own.

Because of its billion dollar volume of yearly retail sales.

Because one newspaper gives thorough coverage of this great market . . . a significant advertising economy.

And because the advertising cost of The Philadelphia Bulletin has been purposely kept low: Today, it is one of the lowest among all newspapers in America.

DE ANGELIS, STAR OF STAGE DURING 6 DECADES, DEAD

Rose to Fame in Light Opera Days.

New York, March 20.—[Special.]—Jefferson de Angelis, an actor for more than sixty years and a leading figure on the comic opera and musical comedy stage, died in the Orange, N. J., Memorial hospital today at the age of 74 years.

JEFFERSON DE ANGELIS.

From 1890 until a few years ago he had made his home in Yonkers. Recently he had lived with his son, Frederick C. De Angelis, at East Orange. Last Feb. 22 he was stricken with paralysis.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Charlotte Elliott De Angelis, his second wife whom he married two years ago; his son and by three grandchildren. Funeral services will be held Wednesday under the auspices of the Actors' fund.

Vagabond Trouper.

For half his life Thomas Jefferson De Angelis was a vagabond trouper and was so proud of the fact that he so named the story of his life, which he published in 1931. For more than six decades he was identified with the stage all over the world, but mostly in America.

During that period he acquired the record of being the first comedian to play Sir Despard in "Ruddigore" in America, of being the only surviving actor at the time of his death who played in every Gilbert and Sullivan opera produced in America, who had played more rôles in those operas in more countries than any other actor, and who played Koko in "The Mikado" more times than all the other Gilbert and Sullivan comedians combined.

During the closing years of his life he was drafted for every revival of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas which was put on in this city.

Observes 60th Stage Anniversary.

His most recent appearances on the local stage were in "The Royal Family," "Revelry" and "Apron Strings," in which he played the leading part. During the run of the latter piece at the Forty-eighth Street theater on June 26, 1930, Mr. De Angelis celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of his first appearance on the stage.

Mr. De Angelis was born for the stage. His father was a famous minstrel of his day, his mother was also a performer and his uncle was an acrobat.

He was born in San Francisco, where his father was playing a professional engagement in 1859, when the gold rush was only ten years old. He was carried on the stage by his mother when he was 4 years old, and at the age of 9 he was launched as a full-fledged trooper in the pantomime, "Humpty Dumpty."

Goes Around the World.

Following his father's death, young Jeff, as he was called, gathered up the family fortune, which was as small as a strolling actor's generally is, and set out with his sister Sally for Australia at the head of a troup of barnstormers. That voyage continued around the world and the standby of the company was "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

At Cape Town, South Africa, the troupe accumulated a new member, Miss Florence Conlice, an English soubrette, and somewhat later in Bombay, India, young Jeff married her. Finally, with his troupe more or less intact, he landed in New York in the middle '80s.

In 1889 he joined the McCaul Opera company and then began his association with De Wolfe Hopper and the late Digby Bell which was to continue for years.

Rises to Stardom.

In 1891 he joined, as principal comedian, a company playing in the old Casino theater. Other members of the company included Lillian Russell, the prima donna; Fanny Rice, Edwin Stevens, Jennie Weathersby, and Eva Davenport. He next became a co-star with Lillian Russell and Della Fox in "The Wedding Day" and was the individual star in such pieces as "The Jolly Musketeers," "The Emerald Isle," "The Toreador," and "Fantana."

It was in "Fantana" that Mr. De Angelis first sang "Tammany" in 1905. He sang it thousands of times during the rest of his life, because it became associated with him much in the way "Casey at the Bat" became associated with De Wolf Hopper. In 1928 he played his first legitimate part in "The Royal Family," but continued as a singing comedian in Gilbert and Sullivan revivals until shortly before his death.

COLLEGES MUST PAY DUTIES, U. S. HIGH COURT SAYS

University of Illinois Loses Appeal.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 20.—[Special.]—In an opinion settling an appeal by the University of Illinois and of significant interest to all purchasing agencies in the several states, the Supreme court today ruled that states and their instrumentalities have no constitutional right to import foreign goods free of duty.

The case arose out of the imposition of customs duties totaling $1,603.75, levied under the tariff act of 1932 on scientific apparatus imported from Germany by the University of Illinois in 1927 and 1928. The university brought suit on the ground that customs duties were essentially a form of tax, their prime purpose being the raising of revenue. As a state instrumentality discharging a governmental function, the university claimed immunity from paying duty.

Twelve States Interested.

In their petition for a Supreme court review, the attorney general of Illinois and counsel for the university were supported by the attorneys general of twelve states, all of whom urged the interest of the various states in the question to be determined.

The Supreme court's opinion, written by Chief Justice Hughes, affirmed the judgments of the lower courts and ruled squarely against the university and its contention. Tariffs were levied, not primarily for revenue and under the taxing power delegated to congress, but through the constitutional power of congress to "regulate commerce with foreign nations," the chief justice asserted.

States Have No Control.

"It is an essential attribute of the power that it is exclusive and plenary," the opinion said. "As an exclusive power, its exercise may not be limited, qualified, or impeded to any extent by state action."

"There is no encroachment on the power of the state as none exists with respect to the subject over which the federal power has been extended," said the chief justice.

CO-ED'S DEATH NOTE TELLS TALE OF SPURNED LOVE

A note in which Miss Ada Lou Dodge, 21 years old, a freshman at the University of Chicago, told her despondency over a love affair, was introduced into evidence at an inquest yesterday into the young woman's death. A coroner's jury found that she leaped to her death from the second floor of her home at 6729 Paxton avenue Sunday night while temporarily insane.

"I have been a flop in every way a person could manage to be a flop," the note read. "It is humiliating. The man I love treated me badly. I can't make the grade at school because I haven't the intelligence. I can't get a job in any shape or form. I am a miserable flop and I know it."

Miss Dodge was the daughter of Charles H. Dodge, a dentist with offices at 25 East Washington street. He testified that his daughter had seemed cheerful Sunday. In the evening, after playing bridge for a time with her parents and a married sister, she went to her room. Some time later the bridge players heard a crash of breaking glass.

"I ran to my daughter's bedroom and found the window broken," testified Mr. Dodge. "I looked out and saw her lying on the alley pavement below."

The girl was rushed in a police ambulance to the Billings Memorial hospital. Two blood transfusions, in the first of which her father contributed his own blood, were performed in a futile effort to save her life. She died at 10:30 a. m. yesterday.

John N. McMahon of Waukegan Dies Suddenly

John H. McMahon, veteran employe of the American Steel and Wire works, who retired two years ago, celebrated his 71st birthday anniversary Sunday at his home, 419 4th street, Waukegan. Early yesterday morning he complained of being ill and died soon afterward of heart disease. Mr. McMahon is survived by his widow, a son, and seven daughters. Funreal services will be held at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Waukegan, at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Katherine Eberhardt Succumbs at Age of 97

Mrs. Katherine Eberhardt, 97 years old, died yesterday in the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mary Eberhardt, at 2108 Stave street. Old age and heart disease contributed to her death. Mrs. Eberhardt was born in Germany. She came to America twenty years ago to live with a son, now dead. Another son, Jacob, 909 Vernon Park place, survives.

Edward B. Morse, Veteran Newspaper Man, Is Dead

New York, March 20.—[Special.]—Edward B. Morse, veteran newspaper man, is dead here. He was 60 years old. After his graduation from Brown university in '96 he entered newspaper work with the Providence Journal. Later he went to Chicago as a member of the staff of the Chicago American. About 25 years ago he came to New York and thereafter served on a number of metropolitan newspapers. Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Mary Morse Woodbury of Evanston, Ill.; a brother, Frank Lincoln Morse, principal of the Carter Harrison Technical High school of Chicago; a niece, Mrs. Ruth Morse Calkins of Chicago, and a nephew, Ralph L. Morse of Cambridge, Mass.

Louis Ullstein of German Newspaper Firm Is Dead

BERLIN, March 20.—(AP)—Louis Ullstein, 70, the second son of Leopold Ullstein, founder of the great Ullstein newspaper and book publishing concern in Berlin, is dead. Although part of the Ullstein family, including Louis Ullstein, dissociated itself from the Jewish community, Nazi propaganda has been particularly directed against the Ullstein firm.

RITES TODAY FOR H. I. BOSWORTH, ELGIN BANKER

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon for Henry I. Bosworth, 78 years old, prominent banker in Elgin, who died at his Elgin home Sunday night. Heart disease was the cause. The services will be at his home.

Mr. Bosworth was a director of the First National bank, Elgin, and the Elgin City Banking Company of Elgin. He had been an Elgin banker for fifty-seven years. He was well known in financial circles in northern Illinois.

Mr. Bosworth was born in Dundee, Ill. He was graduated from the University of Chicago, and was a life member of the University Club of Chicago. Mr. Bosworth lived in Elgin for sixty-six years.

BEG YOUR PARDON

In last Saturday's TRIBUNE a picture caption gave the name of the rector of St. Patrick's church as the Rev. William J. McNamara. The name should have been McNamee.

Funeral Rites Tomorrow for Charles G. Peterson

Funeral services for Charles G. Peterson, pioneer Chicagoan and a veteran of the fire department, will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. from the chapel at 58th street and Wentworth avenue. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery. Mr. Peterson was 87 years old. He came to Chicago from Sweden in 1869, joining the fire department in 1886. He served for 19 years. An injury received in line of duty forced his retirement. Seven sons survive.

THOUSANDS SEE DUKE OF ABRUZZI BURIED IN AFRICA

MOGDISHU, Italian Somaliland, March 20.—(AP)—The duke of Abruzzi, cousin of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, was buried today with full Fascist honors at Abruzzi city, near here, of which he was the founder. Thousands of natives and Italians witnessed the ceremony.

Army planes dropped flowers as the body was lowered into the grave, and the crowd shouted "present" as the governor of Somaliland pronounced the duke's name.

The last artillery salute was given by colonial troops. The Italian monarch and Premier Mussolini were among the hundreds of persons who sent wreaths.

CUT GRADUATION TO SAVE EXPENSE, BOGAN ADVISES

A recommendation to principals that elementary school graduations be eliminated as much as possible was sent out last night by Supt. William J. Bogan. Mr. Bogan pointed out that years ago the eighth grade diplomas were important because many students went no further than that stage in education, but at present a large percentage completed their work in high school.

"In the course of time graduations have increased," said Mr. Bogan, "with the result that the completion of courses in eighth, ninth, tenth and twelfth grades was signalized by exercises that entailed considerable expense upon parents. These exercises proved expensive to the board of education also for the cost of opening the buildings at night was considerable in this large system. If, however, local sentiment is still so strong as to prevent their elimination, they should at least be simplified and reduced in cost."

The elimination of many of the diplomas and graduations in the school system was suggested recently by Ernst Buehler, a member of the school board.

L. T. M. SLOCUM, EVANSTON CHAIN STORE HEAD, DIES

Lewis T. M. Slocum of 1911 Sherman avenue, Evanston, died of heart disease last night in Pasadena, Cal. He had arrived there only a few days ago and was stricken while in the Hotel Maryland.

Mr. Slocum was 75 years old. He had been a chain store operator since 1885, dealing considerably in imported household goods. Mr. Slocum was active in Chicago church work, and in 1924 he was elected president of the Chicago Bible society. He was prominent in affairs of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Mr. Slocum was a widower, his wife, who was active in club and church work, having died in 1927. He was the father of Miss Helen Slocum and Mrs. Richard J. Thain.

ADMIRAL JERRAM, BRITISH LEADER AT JUTLAND, DIES

LONDON, March 20.—(AP)—Admiral Sir Martyn Jerram, 75, leader of the second battle squadron at Jutland, died today.

His naval career started in 1871 and he saw service in waters throughout the world. From 1913 to 1915 he was vice admiral and commander in chief of the China station. He became an admiral in 1917 as a result of his brilliant service in the early years of the war. He also served in consular and diplomatic roles, and was decorated by several countries.

Charles Henry Shedd Funeral Services Today

Funeral services for Charley Henry Shedd, 9345 South Winchester avenue, will be held at 11 a. m. today in the Church of the Holy Nativity, 95th street and Longwood drive. Mr. Shedd, who was head of the telegraph department of Swift & Co., and for thirty years in the employ of that firm, died Sunday at his home. In 1928 Mr. Shedd attended a conference in Brussels, at which international codes and cable rates were adjusted. He is survived by his widow and four children.

GILDAY ON TRIAL A SECOND TIME FOR SHOOTING

The second trial of Daniel L. Gilday, dry reformer who shot Herman Knol, 13 years old, on Nov. 29, 1931, was begun before a jury yesterday in the Criminal court of Judge Philip L. Sullivan. It was expected the case would be completed today.

Young Knol was called as the first witness for the state. He repeated his story of having gone to Gilday's assistance at 70th and Green streets, after noticing that the reformer was unable to walk unassisted. Knol was accompanied by another youth, Herman Alkema. Without warning Gilday drew a revolver and shot him, Knol testified.

Frank Fenneman, 6958 South Green street, who witnessed the shooting testified that in his opinion Gilday was intoxicated at the time.

Gilday, convicted at the first trial of the case, won a reversal from the state Supreme court. At the time of the shooting of young Knol he was the head of the Englewood Law and Order league.

Sees Physical Attributes Key to Personality

Priest Describes Studies of Scientists.

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

It's been said for generations that fat people are good natured. Slowly but surely science is knitting together the pattern of proof that physical build actually does influence mental reactions—though it hasn't yet committed itself on the relation between obesity and a good disposition. Members of the Chapel guild of the Cenacle convent learned yesterday about recent findings in this field, in a lecture by the Rev. Alphonse Schwitalla, dean of the medical school at St. Louis university.

"There was nothing to phrenology—where a man felt the bumps on your head and designated one as the bump of wisdom, or the bump of caution, and so forth," Father Schwitalla told the large group in the living room of Mrs. David F. Bremner's apartment at 1430 Lake Shore drive. "But today, by observation and careful computation of many cases, we are beginning to understand that we can measure the shape of a person's fingernails, the length of his forearm, the width of his forehead, and such, and understand something about his mental processes.

"There are intricate, interlocked factors governing the definite individuality that makes each of us so different from any one else on earth, not only in our physical makeup but in our mental response. We are beginning to understand these things, dimly, it is true, but certainly, and in some twenty years from now, perhaps, we shall be able to gauge the probable response of one person to any idea, by an accurate computation of his physical build."

There was a time, the speaker commented, when sociologists spoke of the criminal type. They no longer make such references, because they understand now that there is no criminal type; that heredity may confer on an individual the tendencies toward crime, but that such tendencies are completely modifiable by proper environment and direction.

"After all, it is truly possible to contradict the old saying that you can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear—within limits," he asserted. "We ought to be able to make almost anything out of any one. You can make a genius out of a person who starts life with a very inadequate environment—many great artists exhibit eccentricities which tend to confirm the statement that a certain amount of craziness is a mark of genius.

"No two persons have the same reaction to one thing. No mother can treat two of her children exactly alike—or there will be trouble. Some of us will always be eagles and some of us sparrows. But if we find the proper approach to each one it will be possible to effect a considerable advance in training and education.

"These principles are not yet fully formulated. They will not be found in textbooks. But in the monographs and in the findings of experimental science from which textbooks of the future will be written they can be found right now in increasing volume.

"Medicine is vastly concerned with these differences in personality. Already doctors have classified 'the tubercular type,' and they are beginning more and more to recognize what is known as 'the diabetes type' and 'the cancer type.' These are not set forms, of course, but general tendencies of physical makeup to be noted in these patients. Thus in the future, from the basis of observations and data now being collected, physicians may look at an individual and make a pretty accurate guess as to what diseases he will be susceptible to as his life advances.

"The trend toward individualizing a subject is also marked in the field of sociology. A few years ago social service workers studied types. And groups. Now they study cases, realizing that each one requires a different treatment from any other, just as doctors realize that the same symptoms in one man may not mean the same disease at all as in another.

"There has also evolved, it might be remarked here, a new science called thanatology, which is the study of the personality of death, or manner of dying. Studies are actually being made of the similarities of deaths of certain physical types, based on these same proportions, which already tend to show that there are definite possibilities of like characteristics being shown in the disease and death of persons of similar physical types."

Colman May Retire from Movies for Two Years

Hollywood, March 20.—(AP)—Retirement for at least two years from the screen is contemplated by Ronald Colman, his friends said tonight in telling of the actor's secret departure for his native England last Saturday on the Grace liner Santa Lucia. Samuel Goldwyn, the producer, holds a contract whereby Colman is not permitted to make pictures for any one else for the next two years, but may choose not to work. Friends of the actor said he told them he might not make another picture for two years.

Scene: A room in a Dublin tenement. Time, May, 1920.

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

The play that marked the debut of Sean O'Casey as a major star in the galaxy of Irish dramatists, "The Shadow of a Gunman," was staged by the Abbey Theater company of Dublin last night to start the fourth week of their brilliant engagement in the Harris theater. It added another notable performance to the story of the Chicago run, now of indeterminate length.

Like O'Casey's later and more famous "Juno and the Paycock," this piece is a tragi-comedy dealing with life among the tenement dwellers during the revolutionary period, now called by Irish historians the Anglo-Irish war. It assembles a group of fantastic creatures, representing types of lowly Dubliners, and gives them free rein to chatter in their garrulous, racial manner as the shadows of guerrilla fighting in the streets deepen about them. It depicts their surface humors and their secret terrors; brings the night-raiding "black-and-tan" soldiery into their midst; and ends its curious, exciting mixture of mirth and melodrama with the sacrifice of a gallant working girl's life to save a pair of cowards.

In certain aspects the play is the work of a fledgling dramatist whose mind was congested by his literary studies and who could not refrain from pouring a rich sauce of quotations from the classics over his dialogue. One of O'Casey's characters is a young garret poet whose tendency to lapse into passages from Shelley and Shakespeare may be overlooked.

But another major character, sharer of the poet's garret, is a frowsy street peddler, vending suspenders and cheap table ware; and certainly his excursions into the anthologies of English verse are a matter of surprise. However, between the two of them they contribute long passages of quaint colloquy to the play, and in spite of them the excitement that lurks in the background of the story steadily rises.

The performance is another manifestation of the versatility in characterization of this admirable repertory company. These players seem to possess the quality to surprise and delight their closest followers whenever they put on a new bill. In "The Shadow of a Gunman" F. J. McCormick appears in a role that is brother to his Joxer of "Juno and the Paycock," but with the definite traits that set off one member of a family from another. He is the freakish peddler of suspenders, shaggy with whiskers, gabbling endlessly and aimlessly while the gunmen prowl the streets below his tenement room. Here is an admirable actor.

The contributions of Barry Fitzgerald, Michael J. Dolan, Arthur Shields, May Craig, Maureen Delany, and Eileen Crowe also deserve their special paragraphs of comment. P. J. Carolan also has his great moment in this performance, as Mr. Grigson, a drunken Orangeman, he strikes the high note of the play's wild humor.

Joseph Connelly, minister of forests and fisheries of the Irish Free State, now on a brief visit to Chicago, visited the Abbey Theater company between acts last night to give the players his official greetings and congratulations upon the success of their American tour. Mr. Connelly was sent by President De Valera on a mission concerning the payment of bonds of the Irish republic held in this country.

Good Morning!

The ads defy you to guess who did it—and so do I!

Sure, I know whom you're going to suspect! Here, too! And vurr' clever of me, I thought. One becomes shrewd I mused, seeing so many pictures, reading so many mystery yarns and figuring out so many of Judge's cross word puzzles. Then—like the overworked "bolt from the blue" the truth hit me and let all the air out of my balloon. I hadn't brushed the real criminal by even the shadow of a doubt! And yet—had I been really on the job and as bright as per previous self-congratulations, I SHOULD have known. For clues, there'd been—and honest ones!—pointing straight at the guilty—party—or parties? I'm not telling you which.

You don't realize how ingeniously strung together "The Crime of the Century" is till the very end. Then you discover what a topping job has been accomplished by a cunning director and highly intelligent players. There's been no let down anywhere. Mentally you kow tow to the whole shebang.

True, the story is a bit hectic and far-fetched. But who shall say that anything CAN'T happen after living through these last Rooseveltian weeks?

[I'm bursting to give you one leetle tip—such a good one!—but I'd be a wicked woman to do such a thing! So to McVickers' wid yez, for one of the most enjoyable and baffling hours imaginable!]

This picture is unique in several ways. Besides completely mystifying you, it contains a newspaper reporter who neither gets drunk nor acts lousy and who does and says some really funny things. Stuart Erwin, long may he wave! Then, the action pauses, a la the "sealed mystery" novels, and the director appears to announce that the audience will be given one minute to browse over clews and decide on the murderer—or murderers. Bright idea—but believe me, you do a lot of wrong guessing as those seconds are ticked off!

From start to finish, your interest never lags in "Crime of the Century"—which I wholeheartedly recommend to you as delectable entertainment.

[The film was adapted from "The Grootman Case"—a play by Walter Maria Epse.]

'The Messiah' Presented in New Manner

Arrange Musical Numbers for Dialogue.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," was given its first dramatization at the Auditorium last night in a form that combined spoken dialogue, solo and choral singing, and the highly effective use of grouping and lighting. Almost an hour late in starting, it none the less succeeded in presenting an impressive spectacle.

The work, which will be repeated tonight, was given under the auspices of the Christian Service foundation for the benefit of the Washington Park Convalescent hospital. A speaking cast of fourteen delivered the lines written by Sophia Swanstrom-Young, the stage direction was by Alfred Stury, the two musical directors were Carl Craven and Ebba Sundstrom, Miss Sundstrom conducting the overture and interlude, Mr. Craven the singing performance.

Choruses from the choirs of many churches and choral organizations appeared as units in certain of the episodes, assembling in mass for such numbers as the Hallelujah chorus. The soloists were Ary Ann Kaufman Brown, Agatha Lewis, Louise Harrison Slade, Arthur Kraft, and Mark Love.

In order to carry through the thread of the story and to provide for the dialogue, many of the musical numbers were rearranged into a different order from that of the oratorio. This, quite as much as the effective staging, made "The Messiah" seem almost like a new piece woven around an interesting idea. It is a complex performance and one judges that its technical difficulties are many.

In tonight's performance Miss Lewis will remain in the cast, but the other soloists will be changed. They will be Helen Bickerton, Lillian Knowles, B. Fred Wise, and Raymond Koch. Like the soloists of last night, they are veterans in concert performances of the famous orutorio.

For the second successive summer Ravinia must remain silent, Louis Eckstein explained yesterday that the cost of the undertaking is greater than can be met at present and that there is no chance of raising a guarantee fund to meet inevitable losses.

His statement follows:

"There will be no Ravinia opera in 1933. I arrived at this decision with great regret and only after the most careful deliberation. To keep up the standard of twenty years of operatic development would run into a loss high in the six figures, even with rigid economies and greatly reduced salaries of the artists. Any artistic lowering of the past standard is unthinkable.

"In suspending the opera last summer I had hoped that this season would find economic conditions materially improved and that I might be able to obtain a reasonable guarantee fund, but this has not been possible.

"As the time is approaching when contracts must be effected with our artists, I am making this announcement in order that they may arrange their plans accordingly. Ravinia must for the present rest on its laurels. 'The Opera House in the Woods' will not be commercialized. I am looking forward to 1934."

Women News Scribes Roast U.S. Celebrities

Washington Correspondents Stage Dinner.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 20.—[Special.]—A woman walked into the Willard hotel ballroom this evening, fingered a brand new deck of playing cards until she had pulled out four kings and a couple of jacks, then tossed them down on the floor.

"That," she scoffed, "for mere men."

Carefully she selected a quartet of queens, waved them aloft as the new face cards in the new Democratic deal at Washington.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, first lady of the land, clapped her hands gayly. Mrs. John Garner smiled merrily, Frances Perkins, first woman in the cabinet, and Hattie Caraway, first woman senator, added their applause.

And through the ballroom 350 women, some of them first page celebrities, others of them the gals who write about the first page gals, cheered the woman's angle in politics and journalism.

It was the annual dinner and stunt party of the Women's National Press club tonight, at which the wife of a President of the United States was guest of honor. Mrs. Roosevelt saw herself taken off in a skit about "Babies, Just Babies" and she found it funny. Daughter Anna Roosevelt Dall was sung to as "You Great Big Beautiful Doll" and took a bow.

Alice Longworth and Dolly Gann heard the writing women sing a song about the proper seat at the table. Mrs. Hughes, spouse of the chief justice of the Supreme court, and the wives of five other justices listened to a lay about them—the only ones who dare give orders to the Supreme court.

Amelia Earhart, all in white, was clapped again and again. Ruth Bryan Owen, introduced as the "lame duck who flirts," stood up and acknowledged the tribute. The "cabinet wives," all save Mrs. Harold Ickes, who is down in Springfield, looked on the scene and found it gala, even when they were kidded.

Eleanor Patterson put on a stunt in which she pictured herself as Mrs. Roosevelt, reading a radio message on "Wildflowers I Have Known." Madame Debuchi, wife of the Japanese ambassador, demure in a Japanese kimono, sat at a table and smiled at a takeoff on foreign affairs. Mrs. Henry Keyes, wife of the senior senator from New Hampshire, put on a white dress, tied a bow of pink ribbon in her hair, sucked a lollypop and acted a rôle in a kindergarten for new Democrats.

To the evangelical tune of "Bringing In the Sheaves," a group of newspaper women disguised as the wives of new senators sang a song of the calling card, in a tart travesty on the Washington social whirl.

"Washington society," the bright little pupil told the teacher, "is a state of mind entirely surrounded by ice."

During the course of the dinner feminine newsies burst into the room crying "Extra, Extra" and bringing to each guest a copy of "The New Squeal." A large display ad carried a picture of Mrs. Roosevelt, another of Alice Longworth, with the legend "Hands Across the Ponds," and the following verse:

"Aye, there's the rub."

"Now, Eleanor's face knows no lotion
"And Alice's mirrors no care.
"The Ponds they have used make an ocean,
"Oh Gee, but their faces are fair.

"Oh, why is this family resemblance—
"Of distant, cousinly kin?
"It's that closet of bonds, as users of Ponds,
"They're sisters under the skin."

Then just to show that they didn't live in glass houses, the newspaper women printed a picture of themselves at their first press conference with Mrs. Roosevelt and labeled it "First Lady Visits Violent Ward at Asylum."

Asks That Schools Teach Conservation of American Plants

The teaching of conservation of animal and plant life in the schools was urged yesterday by Mrs. Edward La Budde of Milwaukee, state chairman of the department of conservation of the Wisconsin Federation of Woman's Clubs. Mrs. La Budde spoke at an institute on conservation conducted by the Illinois federation at Marshall Field & Co.

"If conservation of our national resources is to be accomplished we will need to contact the mind of the child," said Mrs. La Budde.

"In Wisconsin we are encouraging tree planting by children, working through the teachers. We are urging the establishment of school forests so that children may learn what the tree means to the economic future of the state."

Among other speakers were Dr. H. N. Wheeler of Washington, D. C., and Lewis B. Springer of Springfield.

Chicago Jews Will Meet Today to Plan German Protest

Jewish leaders of Chicago are expected to gather at the Covenant club at 12:30 o'clock today to formulate a program of action to protest against alleged outrages against Jews in Germany, according to an announcement made yesterday by Meyer W. Weisgal, executive director of the Zionist Organization of Chicago.

Louis Lipsky, national chairman of the American Palestine committee, who is in Chicago attending the Midwest Zionist conference and making plans for participation of Jewry in A Century of Progress, will address the luncheon meeting. His subject will be "The Destruction of German Jewry."

Mr. Lipsky will visit the World's Fair grounds this morning to confer with officials on a proposed Palestine exhibit and a mass demonstration to be held at the fair by American Jewry next summer.

White Gloves Bring Cheers in Style World

Long Cuffs Have Double Ruffled Edge.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

After last week's diversified and exciting headlines and goings-on, most of you will be afraid of that much advertised after-calm . . . however, nothing like that seems to be scheduled. What with shopping for new spring wardrobes, snooping around for nice new little gadgets that will transform rather weary in-between season clothes, any excitement hunter ought to be satisfied with the prospect of good shopping.

Have you seen the new white pique gloves that arrived without the cheering welcoming committee that they deserved . . . they are very much spring, 1933 . . . clean, crisp, spanking white gauntlet gloves, made of fine piqué, a piqué with pencil line, wide wales. They will wash like nobody's business, emerge from soap suds as tailored and smooth and smart as they are now. They are expertly fashioned, with all the infinitesmal details that you see in your best French gloves.

If you had a vague fear that these ballyhooed fabric gloves were going to remind you of certain distressing affairs worn by furnace tenders, you can park your fear elsewhere. These new arrivals are stunning and should be tremendously successful all spring and summer. The double ruffled edge to the long cuff keeps them feminine . . . a proper gloved accent for all daytime clothes, whether severely tailored or made with frills and flutings.

They are showing a new silk slip-on glove called "silksheen," and if you think you can tell a soft fine suede glove at a first glance, try your eagle eyesight on these and be fooled. Even the tone of these "silksheens" cleverly duplicates the velvety luster of dress parade white suede slip-ons, and again you can swish these gloves through soapsuds without anything but pleasing results.

All perforating machines must be perforating overtime, judging by the new glove cuffs . . . lacy effects, involving most of the cuff area . . . tricky maze designs twining around the center section . . . quaint little edges of the stuff, and sometimes long wavering, intertwining designs that wander high over the knuckles, all achieved with series and rows of tiny holes. These merely hint as to what we may expect this coming season. And fabric gloves are going into dressmaker details with a strong desire to accentuate the many feminine details in frocks and dressmaker suits, for new gloves show tucks, pleatings, ruffles, rows of French knots, hemstitching and tiny pearl buttons, as well as lacy insets.

Striped, dotted, and checked fabric gloves are a bit backward in making an appearance, but all the eye filling combinations and contrasts are on the way. Some scarf and collar and glove combines, that feature the same fabric, will do wonders for a simple dark street dress or tailored suit.

Perky white and colored pique get-togethers of gauntleted gloves and neck scarf are going to be spectacularly fashionable. Think what you can do with yellow, powder blue, dusty pink, and even mauve pique accessories such as these? Some of next season's most colorful contrasts will be achieved with crisp organdies and these clever pique accents that are arriving every day with modest price tags.

Hasten Plans for Century Club at Fair

Prominent Residents Join New Organization.

BY JUDITH CASE.

WITH the trees and shrubs in Grant park bending double yesterday under their glistening load of ice, a well rounded imagination was necessary to picture wide verandas swept by gentle breezes, gay striped beach umbrellas sheltering smart creations in swimming apparel, and sailboats casting lazily about in the lake. But this was just the setting officials of A Century of Progress painted when they talked of last minute developments for the Century club which is to be society's fashionable rendezvous this summer.

In one of three low moderne buildings on the south end of Northerly Isle devoted to Hollywood and its exotic sets and movie cameras there are to be a half dozen rooms with their adjoining porches set aside for the Century club . . . that is, according to present plans. Large, comfortable lounges, a dining room, and undoubtedly a bar . . . now that beer is almost here . . . will all be a part of the equipment. And when the members of this exclusive club, which was first announced at holiday time when invitations were issued to a thousand of the city's fashionables, are seeking entertainment, they will undoubtedly find it at their very doorstep, for Hollywood plans to film some movies in the neighborhood of its three exposition buildings.

Rush Plans for Club Headquaretrs

The plans for the clubrooms were hustled up yesterday as the result of the announcement Sunday that the articles of incorporation for the club had been filed in Springfield. According to these articles Arthur Meeker, who started out as chairman of the committee that extended the thousand invitations, is the president.

The Changeling Bride

By Martha Ostenso

SYNOPSIS.

The Hendersons—Meryl and Margaret, sisters; Flint, their brother, and Andrew, the father, have lived for twelve years in poverty in a fishing settlement on the shores of Lake Superior after losing their fortune in Chicago. Andrew went to pieces after the death of his wife. Great-Aunt Letitia, formerly dean of a girls' school in Ohio, is the tieup between the Hendersons and a cultured past. Flint and his friend, Ned Bremner, hope to build up a great export business. Ned is in love with Meryl, but she dreams of a better future. A forest fire brings Blake Lawrence, injured and lost, to the Henderson cottage. There were two great names in nearby Agate Bay and its environs—Lawrences and Greer. Blake is in love with Greer's wife, Christine, and is glad to have two weeks in seclusion with the Hendersons while his broken ankle mends.

INSTALLMENT VIII.

POLITE CURIOSITY.

The Hendersons had remained almost as great a mystery to Blake Lawrence as they had been on the harrowed night of his arrival. He had sensed in Margaret, the youngest, a roguish impudence only slightly tinged with respect. In the boy, Flint, aloof pride had amounted almost to hostility. In Andrew Henderson there had been little beyond a dreamy indifference. Blake surmised he was a man who had put behind him a past that was quite different from the life he was living now. But it was no small surprise to him when conversation revealed one evening that Andrew Henderson had been a printer of fine books in Chicago before he had retired into the north country. In Letitia Gaylord there was an amusing tendency to depart from the immediate which was more revealing than any other feature of the Henderson family. They had been discreetly civilized far beyond his hopes or expectations. They had respected his request that his presence among them be kept a secret, and they had shown a decent absence of curiosity about it all. With obliging simplicity they had acceded to his suggestion that they should call him "Blake," and almost at once he had been made one of them.

He had been too immersed in his own physical misery at first to give much effort to getting behind the family reticence. Later his mind had been too much occupied by the dark problem which had sent him off on his ill-fated jaunt in search of solitude.

When, finally, he was able to turn from himself and give thought to the life that was being lived in this little world into which he had come it was Meryl who claimed his immediate attention. The girl had baffled him completely from the first. It had not taken long to convince him that she was not the "child" he had believed her to be. There was this young fellow, Ned Bremner, who had very obviously grown sentimental about her, but for the life of him Blake could not tell whether she was avoiding him discreetly or merely trying the lad's mettle. With his light tousled hair and his blank and yet somehow intent eyes, young Bremner reminded Blake of the doomed romantic youths whom Housman wrote about. His fate was in his eyes.

"I do mean it, Ned. I can't marry you."

One night the two had come home late from a dance and had stood talking for a moment at the door. Blake, lying awake, his mind bitterly and intensely upon Christine, had unwillingly overheard a part of that conversation.

"I do mean it, Ned," Meryl had told the youth. "I meant it that morning after the fire. I can't marry you. It wouldn't be fair to you—and it wouldn't be fair to me. This life isn't enough for me. I want—something different."

A deep, evidently argumentative voice had replied, but Blake had buried his head in the pillows and heard no more.

On a morning that rained lavish gold on the still blue of the lake and the brightened rocks Blake rose and dressed in the clothes Lew Trevor had brought out from town. He picked up his crutches and made his way outside, his dog, Don, following faithfully. He stood a moment before the doorway and looked down upon the curve of the little inlet that came in along the southern shore of the Point. Strung along the shore were two or three crude sheds or storehouses. One, they had told him, was the boathouse, another the building where they packed fish and kept nets and equipment, and a third, a low sod covered shack with dry grass gently stirring on its roof, was the vegetable cellar, scarcely more than a hummock of the earth. To the left were the racks on which nets appeared to be perpetually drying. A number of brown hens pecked industriously in the dooryard, and a small plump Guernsey cow, whose name, he had learned, was Diane, gazed at him.

There was no sign of the Henderson menfolk or the hoydenish Margaret. At this time of the day they were ten miles out on the lake gathering their nets which had been laid the night before. He had heard Meryl's voice in the house, but he had slipped away before she had come in to tell him that his breakfast was ready.

He hobbled uncertainly down the incline to the east shore, away from the house, and seated himself on a smoothly polished rock, stretching his legs out carefully before him. Don ran off to explore the water's edge. In a few days, Blake reflected, there would come an end to this strange life of the last three weeks. Why should a man not dream out his allotted years in some such place as this?

He heard a light footfall on the rocks above him. Turning slightly, he saw Meryl standing above him. She smiled.

"You haven't had breakfast, Blake," she reminded him.

"I wanted a sniff of this air first," he told her.

"It's all ready," she announced, "but I'm going to bring it out here. I haven't had mine yet."

"That's too much trouble," he protested.

"It will only take a minute," she said, and was gone.

An odd type, Blake thought, as he watched her hurrying toward the house. If he hadn't been such a self-centered egotist he might have learned something about the girl. He might have found out something of what was going on behind those eyes that had looked at him always as though she were politely ignoring all that was wrong with him. He could scarcely think of her as beautiful; interesting, rather, with her fair silky hair and her golden hazel eyes with the darked flecks in them. Her skin, though extraordinarily fine, was too brown, and her short, rather broad nose was frankly freckled. Her eyes were so widely spaced as to give her a look of almost childish wonderment. Her mouth, however, full and bright and proud, might be disturbing to one who had not known the long, slender, and intoxicating lips of Christine Greer. But it was in her slim, deliberate carriage of herself, the poise of her head, the graceful, half childish shape of her legs and arms, that the girl Meryl possessed true beauty. He wondered how old she was.

She returned presently with a tray tidily arranged with blue linen cloth and serviettes. Toast, scrambled eggs, bacon. Blake beheld it all with pleasure.

"I'll go back for the coffee," she said. "You go right ahead and eat before things get cold."

This was far from disagreeable, Blake mused as he attacked his breakfast. In fact, but for his deeply underlying unhappiness, he might be enjoying himself.

In another moment Meryl was beside him pouring coffee into two blue cups. "Poor Aunt Letty said I was inflicting one of my crazy notions on you," she laughed. "Please tell her you like it."

"It's what an Englishman would call jolly," Blake replied.

When they had eaten Blake lit a cigaret. Then, remembering, he offered one to Meryl. She accepted it without remark.

"You know," he said, "I was surprised when I first saw you smoking."

"I've been with Flinty so much on the lake," she explained.

"But you seemed a trifle young," Blake added.

"How young do you think I am, anyway?"

BANDS OF FATE.

Prof. Fordney stood gazing down at the human bit of wreckage lying on the floor in a cheap flophouse. Word had just been brought to him that this drug-ridden derelict had killed himself. Hardened as he was by close association with violent death, a shudder escaped him. He had known Ralph Simpson when he was one of the most promising architects in New York.

With a sigh the professor walked over and from the back of the man's right hand picked up a small rubber band, noticing as he did a red mark around the wrist. He lifted the band and slipped the rubber over it. Yes, it fitted. He must have been wearing it for some time. But WHY, wondered Fordney?

A bullet hole in the temple, an automatic nearby from which one shell had been fired, told the story of death.

While the cameramen were busy the professor, noticing some letters lying on a small table, studied them a moment, then stacked them together. The sides were marked as if they had been bound in a bundle. Slipping the rubber band around them he murmured, "I wonder now——"

Removing it, he read through the letters. To the last, apparently, Ralph Simpson had not betrayed a confidence, for here was enough dynamite to blast the reputations of some of the most prominent people in town.

When Reynolds called, "There's no question but what it's suicide; shall we remove the body now, sir?" Fordney replied, "Not yet, sergeant. I wonder if Simpson's MURDERER got HIS letters from this pile?"

"MURDERER?" gasped Reynolds. HOW DID FORDNEY KNOW SIMPSON HAD UNDOUBTEDLY BEEN MURDERED?

Fay Wray Has Unique Place as Thrill Actor

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., March 20.—[Special.]—Fay Wray never has played in serial pictures but she could tell the old time serial queens like Pearl White, Kathryn Williams, and Ruth Roland some experiences that would make their hair stand on end.

Fay has had a run of parts in thrill films that is unusual. I'd like to know what percentage they hiked her as a life insurance risk.

Her most recent one, "Beneath the Sea," for Columbia, showing Fay facing an octopus in a diving bell below the surface of the ocean, and it was a real diving bell, real water and a real octopus, was only one of Miss Wray's sequence of venturesome experiences.

Before that, in "King Kong" Fay was the toy of the gigantic ape which carried her to dangerous heights. The giant ape may have been a fabrication but the dangerous heights weren't, and some of the situations the studio had to put her in for this film were just about as nerve wracking as the completed effect would indicate.

She also had a creepy part in "Wax Museum," in which she was almost made into a dummy in wax by a madman, and in "The Most Dangerous Game" had to run thrilling chases through the fog [in the studio stages] pursued by dogs that looked as big as bears and had mouths like crocodiles while bow and arrow experts and a Yaqui Indian knife thrower used her for a moving target.

Fay says her larynx is twice as strong as it used to be—it got that way from much screaming.

Lona Andre, at Paramount, was a surprised young lady to find the studio was not paying for the luncheons she ate in the studio café during the recent bank holiday, and signed with her name because she was out of cash.

Verna Hillie reminisces about the time that her family, Finnish in origin, invited the famous runner, Paavo Nurmi, to dinner. He came and sat silently, taking no part in the conversation. Then he took a package from under his arm, went into the kitchen, took a steak out of the package, broiled it, ate it, and went home. Almost his only words were that he had to be careful what he ate and to get to bed early.

Faye Pierre, leading woman for Andy Clyde in Educational comedies, flew to Mexico City last week with her husband, who is an aviator—Novelist Richard Halliburton.

Lillian Moore, 17 year old Los Angeles high school girl, has been signed to a Roach comedy contract. She was born in Fort Worth, and was a child toe dancer.

Shirt Waist Blouse, Wrap Around Skirt Make Smart Outfit for General Wear

BLOUSE AND SKIRT.

Here is an outfit that will be nice for school, college, and general daytime occasions. The skirt is the new wrap around, and was made of an oxford gray soft angora woolen. A pale gray silk crêpe was used for the shirt waist blouse. One material will also make up prettily.

The pattern, No. 3330, comes in sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 36 and 38 inches bust measure. Size 16 requires 1¾ yards of 39 inch material for the blouse with 2¾ yards of 35 inch material for the skirt.

How to Order Clotilde Patterns.

Write your name and address plainly on dotted lines, giving number and size of such patterns as you want. [Inclose 10 cents in stamps or coin [coin preferred: wrap it carefully] for each number, and address your order to Clotilde Patterns, Chicago Tribune P. O. Box 537, Grand Central station New York City.

Note—Clotilde patterns are made in New York exclusively for THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE. They are perfect in fit, up to date in style, and the easiest of all patterns to use.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative, safe and pleasant.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation—you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Toddler Fails to Understand 'Hurry Up, Now'

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Once again I stood waiting for a bus. It had begun to rain and a deep school entrance four steps up provided comfortable shelter.

A young woman carrying a baby at the O-so-heavy age came almost staggering along, trying to hurry. Close at her heels followed a little girl of possibly 3½.

I heard the mother call back, "Wait for Bobby." The little girl slowed up. Down the block a little woolen clad gnome—they look that way, don't they, in their winter suits?—of about 2 staggered and waddled happily along.

"Come on, Bobby," called his sister. "Come on!"

Bobby looked at her from far away but kept his same speed.

"Come on, Bobby. Hurry! Mama's way ahead," called his sister again.

Bobby looked at her blandly. "Awright," he said good naturedly.

But just then Bobby came abreast of one of those big fire hydrants with chains and covers. They're the delight of small children, so Bobby stopped to hug it lovingly.

Well, to shorten the story, little sister went back part way to dislodge Bobby with small success. And eventually his mother had to retrace her steps, take Bobby firmly by the hand, and lead him along—unprotesting, but unperturbed by the silly moving world that has to make time, keep appointments, and hurry itself out of the rain.

A perfect example, I thought to myself, of the little child's attitude toward time and convenience and the business of life.

Hit that COLD a Knock-Out Blow!

Don't Merely Tap It!

Many cold remedies merely pat a cold. They don't "put it out for keeps." That's why colds keep coming back and why they often develop into something serious. Many a case of influenza has started with a "slight" cold.

A cold calls for a COLD remedy and nothing less. Preparations good for half a dozen things besides colds can't be equally effective for colds. Many of these preparations actually make a cold more difficult of relief because they are constipating and also make the system acid.

An Internal Infection Calls for Internal Treatment

A cold calls for internal treatment because a cold is an internal infection. Local or outside applications only allay a few of the symptoms and do not reach the real seat of the trouble.

At the first sign of a cold you can do nothing wiser than take Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine.

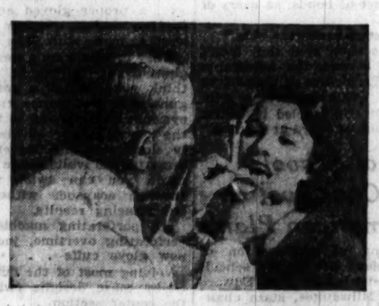
Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine soon puts an end to a cold because it does the four things necessary. First of all, it opens the bowels. Second, it kills the cold germs and fever in the system. Third, it relieves the headache and grippy feeling. Fourth, it tones the entire system and fortifies against further attack.

This is the treatment a cold requires and anything less is taking chances.

No Penalty!

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine may be safely taken by young and old. It contains nothing harmful and may be taken with impunity whether you are going to stay indoors or go out. For more than forty years Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine has been the standard cold and grippe tablet of the world, the formula keeping pace with Modern Medicine. Your doctor couldn't write a better prescription if he wanted to.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine now comes in two sizes—30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and look for the initials L B Q stamped on every tablet. Reliable dealers will not try to sell you a substitute.



PAINFUL TEETH or GUMS

are an urgent warning to

GO TO YOUR DENTIST

DON'T be one of the eighty per cent. Eighty per cent of the people do not take proper care of their teeth.

Have your teeth properly attended to at regular and frequent intervals; you thereby assure permanent good health. Imperfect teeth and gums may free virulent poisons into your system and cause serious diseases. Get the watchful help of your dentist.

And when pain occurs, use a Poloris Dental Poultice and see your dentist as soon as possible. Poloris has been prescribed by dentists all over the world for 19 years.

treasurer; Robert McCormick Adams, secretary, and Louis C. Sudler, assistant secretary.

Mr. Meeker has had no cause at all to "follow up" his original invitations, for acceptances have been received daily [together with checks for the membership fee]. To date Mr. Meeker reports that approximately 700 or the 1,000 "prominents" invited are members.

Gay Party Given by James Keeley

"Fifty years 'Count 'EM' 50 years" in this country were celebrated by James Keeley with the assistance of about ninety of his friends last night at a dinner party given by this ex-newspaper executive and present vice president of the Pullman company in the house on the roof of the Hotel Sherman. It was one of the jolliest and most original parties of the season.

The host had invited his friends to help him "evaluate this half-century of so-called progress," and if the cordiality and good fellowship manifested last night were indicative of the evaluation his friends place on the half-century that Mr. Keeley has lived in the United States, forty-two of which have been spent in Chicago, we'd say that they evaluate it very highly indeed.

Gayety was the keynote, and unlike most golden anniversaries the evening wasn't replete with sentimentality and reminiscences, although they had their place in the entertainment, of course.

The phrase, a favorite of Mr. Keeley's, with which we started this story, was across the top of the souvenir menus which were decorated with a photograph of the young "Jim" Keeley when he left his native Whitechapel in London and sketches depicting his arrival on March 20, 1883, in New York, and things pertinent to the dinner. The phrase also was used as the motif of the frieze the hotel had installed around the walls of the corridor on the twenty-third floor where the guests left the elevators preparatory to climbing the winding staircase to the house on the roof.

James Weber Linn was the spokesman for the guests in evaluating, in verse last fifty years. Kellogg Fairbank was the toastmaster and performed his task with grace and charm. "Dick" Little entertained the guests with characteristic comments, his own version of some of Mr. Keeley's reportorial exploits.

Others who spoke or read verses were Mrs. Cecil Barnes, Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, Arthur Meeker Sr., Mrs. Ambrose Cramer, the three Keeley girls, their three husbands, Arthur Meeker Jr., and Mr. Keeley himself.

In addition for entertainment there were an accordion player and a Russian baritone who sang "Old Man River" in Russian.

Daughter Arrives from 'Frisco

A trained nurse with a thermometer in her hand greeted the guests, ready to take their temperatures and count their pulses, and she was on hand all during the party in case she was needed, and so were two doctors, both guests of course, Dr. Paul B. Magnuson and Dr. Cabot Brown, who with his wife, the former Peggy Keeley, had flown from San Francisco for the occasion. They left California Sunday morning, expecting to reach Chicago yesterday morning, but due to bad flying conditions they had to land in Iowa and come the rest of the way by rail, so they did not reach here until 8:30 o'clock last night. Their coming was a complete surprise to every one at the party except the host and his family.

There were fifty kinds of hors d'oeuvres and the waiters were probably the most "spendiferous" ever seen in these parts, dressed like English butlers of bygone days in blue and scarlet. Yellow and white flowers decorated the tables and in the living room and other rooms of the bungalow were great vases of golden acacia carrying out the color scheme.

Some of those who enjoyed Mr. Keeley's party and expressed the hope that they would be present for the seventy-fifth anniversary of his coming to America were his two other daughters, Mrs. Graham Aldis and Mrs. Luther S. Hammond Jr. and their husbands, Mrs. C. Morse Ely, Mrs. Richardson Dunham, Mrs. Francis Johnson, Mrs. Leverett Thompson, the Arthur Bissells, the C. Barney Goodspeeds, the David A. Crawfords, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Hutchins, the Tiffany Blakes, the Samuel T. Chases, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Meeker, Col. and Mrs. George T. Langhorne, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Swift, the James L. Houghtelings, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Dewey, Mr. and Mrs. Eames MacVeagh, the Howard Eltings, the Morris L. Johnstons, Robert F. Carr, Frank Knox, Augustus S. Peabody, and Lewis E. Myers.

Culver Alumni Meet Tonight

Col. Noble Brandon Judah will preside and Brig. Gen. Leigh B. Gignilliat of Culver Military academy will be the speaker tonight at a meeting of Culver alumni and friends of Evanston and the north shore, which will be held at the Georgian hotel in Evanston at 8 o'clock. The meeting is one of a series being held throughout the country by the Culver Legion (alumni association of the academy) to acquaint the alumni of the development of the school in recent years.

Tomorrow night at the Union League club there will be a reception for Gen. Gignilliat. At both these affairs sound pictures of the academy will be shown. I. Newton Perry is chairman of the Chicago committee of fathers of present Culver cadets.

The Women's Faculty club of Northwestern university medical school has taken over the sale of boxes for the Lily Pons concert at the Auditorium theater on April 3, and the club also will sell other seats for the concert to raise funds for the medical clinic of the university.

Lecture Series Starts Today

Another Lenten lecture series will be introduced at 11 o'clock this morning when the members of the Woman's Athletic club hear Mrs. Anthony French Merrill speak on "New Books and New Affairs." Mrs. Merrill is to continue the series with a talk at the same hour on March 28 and a third on April 4.

The South Shore Country club has requested that all its members who like a bit of song and dance attend the casting rehearsal tonight for the South Shore's Follies. The rehearsal will be held at 8 o'clock in the ballroom and the new and old talent will meet John Hall, the director. Mr. Hall directed last year's Service club production.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Armour and their four children and two nursery governesses are leaving today for three weeks of Florida sunshine. They will be in Miami Beach. The youngsters are on vacations from their schools in Chicago and Lake Forest.

Mrs. Francis P. Butler and her daughter, Deborah, are at home after a vacation at Boca Rapon, Fla.

Mrs. George A. Ranney left yesterday to go to Philadelphia and New York before she gathers up her family—George A. Jr., who is at Yale, and Cornelia, who is at Dobbs Ferry—to spend Easter in Hot Springs. Miss Dorothy Ranney went south some time ago with Miss Eleanor McCormick and she may join the Ranneys in Hot Springs. Mrs. Ranney will be at home again after the middle of April.

Mrs. Robert Hall McCormick, Miss Eleanor's mother, arrives today from a week-end trip to New York.

Students Plan Vacation Trips.

News of the younger generation that is away at schools and colleges: Miss Honore White, the Howard W. Fentons' good looking daughter, will arrive home Saturday to spend 10 days with her parents. Miss Eleanor Cheney, daughter of the F. Goddard Cheneys, who made her debut last fall at a tea in her parents' Winnetka home, will pass her vacation from Bryn Mawr visiting friends in New York.

Miss Betty Gillies, also a debutante of the last season, is to spend the ten days' holiday from Hollins college at a house party at the home of Mrs. George Price in Montclair, N. J. She is a daughter of the James P. Gillieses of Winnetka, and is the only Chicago girl in this southern school, where so much attention is paid to horsemanship. Miss Frances Bell will not be at home with her parents, the Laird Bells, for she has gone to Bermuda on her vacation.

Bride Today

[Strauss Peyton Photo.]

Miss Carol Hemingway, daughter of Mrs. Clarence E. Hemingway of Oak Park, is to wed John Fentress Gardner today at Kitzbuehel, a small winter resort in the Austrian Tyrol. The ceremony will be performed in the Pension Hoelzl. After a short honeymoon the young couple will make their home temporarily at Dormach, Switzerland, where they plan to study at Goethe Amum.

Mr. Gardner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Fletcher Gardner of Orlando, Fla. Ernest Hemingway, the novelist, is Miss Hemingway's brother.

Marshmallows Ably Glorify Ordinary Dish

Particularly Good with Fruit and Meat.

BY MARY MEADE.

Are you on the lookout for the coolest, most shimmering and delectable of fruit salads to grace Sunday's dinner or create a veritable grand slam at next week's bridge festival? Then scoop your friends by being the first to bow in Mardi Gras salad.

This salad may be served in smooth green and gold blocks on crisp lettuce or piled gayly into a slim stemmed sherbet glass and offered with a cherry and a fluff of whipped cream for a luncheon finale.

MARDI GRAS SALAD

1 package lemon flavored gelatine
1 cup hot water.
1 cup ginger ale.
2 cups canned diced pineapple or pineapple tidbits.
¼ cup maraschino cherries.
¼ pound diced marshmallows.

Dissolve the gelatin in the hot water. Add the ginger ale, drained pineapple, cut marshmallows, and one-half the cherries, diced. Let the mixture cool, stirring occasionally, till it starts to thicken. Then chill in a shallow square or oblong pan till firm. Cut the salad in 3 inch squares and serve on crisp lettuce with a topping of mayonnaise which has been flavored with a little of the drained off pineapple juice. Mount a plump whole cherry or two as a garnish on the mayonnaise and serve very cold.

But while we're talking marshmallows and fruits and such lusciousness, I wonder if you've yet been introduced to this last word in buffet supper desserts:

ALPINE ICE BOX CAKE.

4 tablespoons cold water.
½ cup sweetened condensed milk.
2-3 cup chopped dates.
½ cup chopped nut meats.
2 1-2 cups rolled graham crackers.

Using wet scissors, cut the marshmallows into dice and combine with the water. Then add the chopped dates, nuts, and condensed milk. Mix all these together and then add the cracker crumbs a little at a time, kneading them in as the mixture stiffens. Pack into a loaf mold and let stand in the refrigerator for 14 hours before serving. To serve, turn out the loaf and either slice and serve the pieces with a topping of whipped cream and a cherry for garnish, or place the cake on a platter, pile whipped cream lightly over the whole top and garnish with cherries or scattered whole pecans.

"DOWN SOUTH" HAM SLICE.

4 slices pineapple.
2-3 cup pineapple juice.
12 marshmallows.

Select a ham slice which is nearly all lean. Bake in a moderately hot oven [380 degrees F.] for half an hour. At the end of that time drain off the fat, pour the pineapple juice over the meat, and place the pineapple slices over the top. Return to the oven and continue baking at a moderate heat [350 degrees F.] until the ham is tender, turning the pineapple to brown both sides, and basting frequently with the juice. Just before serving place four marshmallows on each slice of pineapple and slip the dish back into the oven until the marshmallows are browned delicately and are fat and puffy. Serve at once on a hot platter garnished with parsley sprigs.

Toilets glisten AND WOMEN REJOICE

SANI-FLUSH marks the end of work and worry with waterclosets. Sani-Flush means the end of ugly stains and odors in the toilet. Use Sani-Flush. Toilets sparkle like new. Odors and germs are killed.

Don't scrub! Just sprinkle a little Sani-Flush in the bowl. (Follow directions on can.) Then flush the toilet and notice how perfectly clean it is. No ugly yellow film. No odors. The unseen trap that you cannot scrub is purified. And Sani-Flush can't harm the plumbing.

At grocery, drug and hardware stores, 25c. (Another use for Sani-Flush—cleaning automobile radiators. See directions on can.)

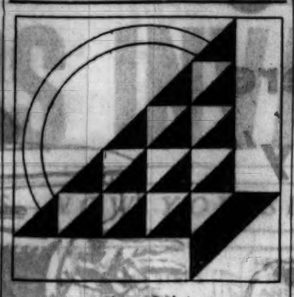
Design Honors Friendly Habit of Other Days



Cherry Basket.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Just as we made May baskets of fragile tissue and ruffled crêpe paper and filled them with wild flowers to be left mysteriously on the doorsteps of our childhood sweethearts, many years ago it was customary to weave baskets cherry baskets, of shiny glazed paper strips and fill them with ripe cherries to be presented as gifts to friends. Today's quilt pattern, the "Cherry Basket," honors that neighborly custom, now obsolete.

For a quilt pattern of this design, send five cents in stamps or coin to Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, printing your name and address clearly. Or call at the Tribune Public Service Office, One South Dearborn street.

Doris Advises Young Couple to Get Married

They're Level Headed; Much in Love.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

She is 19. He is 23. Recently talk of marriage is the dominant theme at their meetings.

"It seems," the girl says, "the more we see each other, the more we want to be together. In other words, our romance has come to a point where a decision must be made. But the trouble is breaking the news to the family. We know they'll object on grounds of youth. We have a little money in the bank. I've been working—and saving—for two years. He has worked and saved for six.

"He earns $45 a week. And we are certain our marriage would be happy in every respect. I would give up work and run my home right.

"Do you think we should marry? And, if so, how should we go about breaking the news? DOT AND JIM."

There always will be those who argue against the early marriage. Yet we believe it to be the normal, healthy, and sane way of arranging one's life. We believe that two young people, old enough at 19 and 23 to realize what they are going into, can do nothing better with their lives than to set out on the great adventure.

We argue that two young people who in their respective two and six years of working have established the savings habits, and who ponder the step seriously, realizing it is a vocation as well as a happy adventure, are the very material marriage needs to restore it to its old desirability. It's the heedless, rushing in of youth unprepared that's brought about criticism against early marriage. No money, instability of character, selfishness, and the refusal to try to make marriage go have done the young marriage idea wrong. It's not the idea, itself.

The idea has nature's sanction. It has the sanction of sane minds, who see in the usual postponement of marriage reason for the lax behavior and morals of many young men and women.

However, in this era it requires a pair of level heads set determinedly in the direction of making their marriage go to offset the temptations to renege on the job. Our judgment would be that you two young people, go ahead and tell it! In no round-about way! Let the folk recover from their shock. They always do.

Here's Exercise to Strengthen Neck Muscles, Improve Posture

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

In correcting posture pupils are often told to throw the shoulders back, raise the chest, pull the chin in, and hold the head up. Such orders often result in the chin being drawn back unnaturally, the shoulders thrust back stiffly, and the neck still out of line.

Now, the West Point way of attacking head carriage is to charge on the neck muscles and strengthen them first. Unless this is done the head will flop and no particular remedy will be effected, Maj. Harold W. Rayner, head of physical training at West Point, insists upon the neck strengthening exercises first. In fact, all of the academy's training is based on the rule of exercising and strengthening muscles and then letting this "rejuvenated" muscle do its own rightful job in its perfectly natural way. In this manner stiffness is avoided.

Probably nothing matters so much to appearance as the carriage of the head by the neck muscles, we must add. Note any man or woman in a crowd who stands out in a distinguished way and you'll see the head is held up well. Women ought really to be fanatics about this business of carrying the head well.

There is a West Point trick of head bearing volunteered by Maj. Rayner which you might bear in mind. The head order is not alone "Up!" It is "Back and Up." This does not mean raising the chin and forcing the head back and down toward the collar. It's merely arranging the back of the head in line with the spinal column on the "Up" command.

But, as Maj. Rayner says, the neck muscles must be strengthened first, and today's exercise is recommended for the purpose. Note particularly that you must "resist" with the head as you press forward with the hands while turning the head. This is to better strengthen the muscles. In addition to getting the neck muscles in shape for a snappier head carriage these exercises will reduce double chins, prevent them, and generally tone up that whole chin line.

For Strong Muscles

a. Feet apart, arms at sides.

b. Hands at the rear of the head, elbows to the side horizontally.

c. Press forward with the hands, resist with the head while turning the head to the right, then the left.

d. Relax and resume postion "a".

Now You Can Buy This Standard FULL Size, FULL Power

KELVINATOR for $98.00 INSTALLED

THIS is not a "built-to-a-price" model. It is a standard 1933 Kelvinator, with over four cubic feet of food capacity.

It is a beautiful, quality-built electric refrigerator. It is a quiet-running, economical—good for a lifetime. Its gleaming porcelain-lined interior has room for all the food the average family needs. Its freezing trays hold a generous supply of ice—or delicious frozen desserts.

It carries all the standard Kelvinator guarantees. It represents no compromise in performance or in quality.

To-day's Low Costs Brought This Opportunity

While materials can be bought at present low costs, the price of this Kelvinator to will be $98, installed. We guarantee this price for 40 days.

If, at the end of this period, we have to pay more for materials (and we hope we will, for that will mean better times for you and us and everybody else), we will have to advance the price. We shall not cheapen the refrigerator.

No Compromise on Any Detail

You can know that there has been no compromising on quality—no substitution—no cheapening of the product to make possible a low price.

The public expressed a desire for a good electric refrigerator at a price of $100 or less. A number have been built down to this price, but people look at them—some have used them—and found them wanting.

Now, for the first time, a pioneer manufacturer—in fact, the oldest manufacturer of electric refrigeration for the home—picks from its brand new 1933 line a beautiful, full sized, full powered standard model, and says, "The price is $98."

There is only one condition to this offer—one important thing to remember. The $98 price is guaranteed for 40 days only. We have enough materials already bought to protect that promise. After they are gone, we can't say.

BUT THIS PRICE IS GUARANTEED FOR 40 DAYS ONLY

A Word to Prospective Purchasers of Electric Refrigerators

"In the building of this refrigerator there has been no compromise on the Kelvinator standards of the past 19 years. It possesses the same high quality and performance found in every Kelvinator model, whether priced at $98 or $1,000. It could not be otherwise, for this is a standard Kelvinator."

G. W. MASON
President, Kelvinator Corporation

FULL Power—The compressor is no experiment that somebody hopes will be all right. It's the same powerful, time-tested and proved power plant used in the higher priced Kelvinators.

Having an abundance of power, it runs only about a third of the time. This means longer life, less wear and greater economy. It actually uses less electricity than other compressors having but a third of its capacity. And it is quiet—remarkably quiet—the result of fine engineering and precision manufacturing. No compromise here.

FULL Size—The cabinet is large, roomy, beautifully designed. And behind it is more than half a century of cabinet building experience. It is a heavy one-piece steel exterior over a rugged steel frame. It has 2½ inches of Kelvatex insulation all around—2½ inches of waterproofed, odorless insulation to keep the heat out and the cold in. Substantial. Permanent. Non-destructible. The full size of the cabinet permits it to be fully insulated. No compromise here.

Constant Cold While Defrosting—Another exclusive feature is the compensating defroster—the unique engineering device which permits refrigeration while defrosting the unit. Ice cubes remain hard, food safe. No compromise here.

Many Important Features—The door is massive and fully insulated. The modern hardware is chromium and the exterior finish of the cabinet is a gleaming "permanent white" lacquer enamel. There is a Temperature Selector with 8 freezing speeds and Kelvinator 3-Zone Cold gives 3 distinct types of refrigeration in the one cabinet. And there are many other features which give this model greater value and utility. No compromise here.

Easy Terms—Here is unquestionably the greatest value on the market to-day. A full sized, full powered, full quality standard Kelvinator at a price everyone can afford to pay—especially on the easy ReDisCo Monthly Budget Plan where the monthly payments are actually less than the money you save on the saving of foods (otherwise spoiled) and quantity buying. See it now. And get yours before prices go up.

NEW YORK BOXERS INVADE CHICAGO THURSDAY

SOX ROOKIE IN CAMP; PRESTO! HE'S GONE AGAIN

But There Really Is a Joe Chamberlin.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pasadena, Cal., March 20.—There really is such a person as Joe Chamberlin, billed on the White Sox training roster as an infielder. His whereabouts had been a mystery since the Chicagoans went into training here three weeks ago, but today, that is this morning, he was actually occupying quarters in the camp. However, he vanished almost as abruptly as he appeared and didn't even take the trouble to introduce himself to Manager Lew Fonseca.

CLARENCE FIEBER.

The first chapter in the story of the youngster's temporary return from wherever he had been was recorded late Saturday night. Clarence Fieber, the rookie southpaw, found his boyhood pal wandering aimlessly along the main atem of the town.

Somewhere for Three Weeks.

Chamberlin had been away from his home at San Francisco for three weeks, but just how or where he had spent the time he refused to say. He must have been in good company. His wardrobe, barring the sweat shirt, pants and a pair of shoes he was wearing, had disappeared. Fieber spirited the prodigal through a side door of the hotel and secreted him in a room.

This morning, after arrangements had been made for a new wardrobe, Chamberlin was to make his formal appearance before the manager. The athlete's brother, upon being informed of Joe's presence in camp, came down from San Francisco and took the lad into Los Angeles for a new suit of clothes and what goes with it.

After the fresh attire had been assembled, Joe mentioned that he would like to have a couple of bucks for some underwear. He was given the bucks and promised to be back in a minute. He neglected to return, so the brother hustled out to Pasadena to furnish Fonseca with the latest news.

What to Do?

Chamberlin might come back and then again he might not. But just to be prepared Fonseca has wired the Chicago office to learn what Owner Louis Comiskey wants to do in the case. Comiskey's reply is likely to be that the mysterious fellow should be turned back to some minor league club. Chamberlin was purchased from Waterloo, Ia., of the Mississippi Valley league.

The practice today was not exactly strenuous, despite the sins committed by the Sox in their week-end series of two games with the Giants. Their most glaring weakness in those battles was around second base, particularly when double plays were possible. Hence Shortstop Appling and Second Baseman Hayes were given an hour of work on the handling of grounders under situations which offered chances for the double plays.

Mule Haas, the former Athletic, was not among those present while the boys were sweating under a torrid sun. Haas slid into second hoping to break up a double play in the sixth inning of Sunday's game, and suffered a wrenched ankle. Today he remained in his room to treat the ankle under a baking lamp.

Time—Afternoon; Place—Georgia; Event—Bus in Ditch

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Augustine, Fla., March 20.—Accounts agree that the omnibus was bound north and that, just after crossing a wooden bridge over a little slough quite a right smart of a way out of Brunswick, Ga., there was a fellow driving a New York sedan car who didn't pull over when signaled, but instead swerved out into the middle of the narrow, razor-back road.

Well, some say it was a man driving the New York car, but they's some say it was a woman driving it with the man just sitting alongside. And you couldn't rightly swear on the Bible that it was a New York car, but the license was sort of yellowish, or possibly orange colored, with black characters. It could have been an Ohio car, or a Delaware. Delaware has yellow with blue numerals. But it was a sedan anyway.

Yes, Sir, the Bus Went Right in the Ditch.

Accounts also agree that as the New York sedan—or possibly Ohio or Maryland—swerved out into the middle of the road instead of pulling to his right, the bus driver had to jam on his brakes. This made him slue around on the crown of the road, and before he could break down his momentum, why over the bank he went, into the burrow-pit from which the convict laborers had snitched the dirt to build up the road grade. Over she went completely, landing on her side with the passengers on the right side tumbling out of their seats and landing all over those on the left side. And there she lay, with her wheels spinning and her exhaust chambers and gear housing and all exposed.

They say the New York car—or, anyway, it had a yellowish kind of license—stopped and the man came back in a minute and asked the relief driver: "Is anybody killed?"

"No," said the relief driver from the inside of the bus, "nobody killed. I don't think they's anybody killed, anyway. But help us up out of her, will you please, sir?"

And, at that, apparently much relieved that nobody had been killed, the man got back into his sedan and drove away, leaving them all imprisoned in the overturned bus.

A couple of other cars came along now and stopped, and a man ran down to the tourist camp with a colored field hand and together they fetched up an old soggy pine ladder. They raised this against the side of the bus just as the relief driver popped up out of the side door and reached down to haul up the woman with the jaw. She was pretty shaky but not excited. The active driver's pants pockets had become hitched over a door handle, and he like to had to take his pants plumb off, ladies or no ladies, in an emergency like that, to wiggle free and hand up the injured through the door to the little relief driver.

This way they passed them up to the side of the bus. First the lady with the jaw. She was from near Providence, R. I., and it developed that she was a widow-woman of independent means who just goes around the world, traveling and enjoying life.

What an Eye! You Never Saw the Like.

The woman with the big lump on her forehead and the bruised arm, she was hurt worst, apparently, and her legs and voice were feeble. Number three out of the hole was the poor guy with the eye. Such an eye you never saw. He had his false teeth in his hand and was hanging onto his eye. Now the lady with the knees, and next the fat old Italian woman who seemed to have lost a couple of front teeth. Her emergence from the hole was very laborious. Her back hurt and she cried for the bambino. The old lady was bound for Brooklyn with the little boy. She had taken him south for his health. The bambino was next up, not at all hurt.

A little blonde drove up in a run-about flivver with a New York license and a bulldog beside her. The bulldog's name was Cupid. The little blonde lit a cigaret and said: "I can haul one of them into Brunswick to the hospital, but I can't carry any-

PETROLLE LACKS OLD TIME SPEED DURING WORKOUT

Maybe He's Covering Up for Ross Tomorrow.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Billy Petrolle, the old Fargo Express, is either under wraps as he gets ready to battle Barney Ross of Chicago tomorrow night at the Stadium or he has lost some of the pep he displayed as he prepared for important bouts in other years.

A jury composed of old-time ringsiders watched him work at Howard's gymnasium yesterday. Then the old-timers deliberated for some minutes and returned that sort of a verdict. Petrolle was at last down to weight before this drill started. His heavy training clothes were on the side lines. Four rounds of boxing were ahead of him and if he was to show his old dash and punching ability it was expected to come at this rehearsal.

He went two rounds with Prince Saunders and two more with Red Chinski. The old dash wasn't there. Petrolle, who always has been noted for his short snappy rights which carried much power, wasn't using that punch often. He mixed it up with swinging rights, which is something he never did before while training in Chicago.

Maybe It's a Dodge.

There are few better ring workmen than Petrolle, however, and maybe he wanted to send out the impression that he might not be as good as he was a few seasons back. If that was his idea, he was most successful. It caused Ross' stock to boom. Instead of being a short priced favorite, Petrolle probably will be about at even money when the fight begins.

Ross, already scaling less than 135 pounds, took it rather easy in his training yesterday. He engaged in floor work only and the same program will be followed today. He looks the picture of condition. So does the Fargo Express, for that matter, even though there has appeared to be a lack of vim and vigor in his drills.

Ross hopes to complete his work in time to drop in at the Illinois Athletic club gymnasium and pay a friendly visit to the members of the Chicago Golden Gloves squad. Ross is the first Golden Gloves graduate to fight his way so near to the top of a division in the professional ranks. The members of the Chicago team will be his guests at his fight with Petrolle.

Stadium Posts Forfeit.

The bank roll of the new Stadium Operating company came in handy yesterday. Manager Sam Pian appeared before the Illinois athletic commission and posted $1,000 as a weight forfeit for Ross. Then he demanded that Petrolle's forfeit go up. The latter's manager could not be located, so a representative of the Stadium promotional group hurried to the commission's offices to post the forfeit.

Tony Canzoneri, who more than likely will risk his lightweight championship against the winner of the Ross-Petrolle struggle, is to arrive tomorrow morning to see his rivals fight it out. Should Ross whip Petrolle, his meeting with the champion no doubt will come to Chicago.

A FEW OF THE ACES IN GOLDEN GLOVES PACK

Chicago's Golden Gloves boxers, nearing top condition for the intercity bouts with New York at the Stadium March 29, take time off for card game at Illinois Athletic club, their training headquarters. FIGHT MARCH 29 AT STADIUM FOR INTERCITY TITLE

It's Climax to Year's Golden Gloves.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The Chicago Golden Gloves squad went to work with new enthusiasm yesterday, spurred by the announcement that the New York fighters are to start westward tomorrow. The invaders will arrive in the city Thursday and will be quartered at the Medinah Athletic club, where they will polish off their training in preparation for the intercity matches which will be held at the Stadium March 29. There will be 45 in the New York party—35 of whom are boxers.

Chicago's squad began its final week of practice with an intensive workout yesterday, though Fred Caserio, Jack Kranz, Harry Diesch and Adolph Wiater were unable to take part.

The snow and sleet canceled the morning outdoor run, but the squad assembled in the Illinois Athletic club gymnasium and played indoor baseball for an hour and a half. There were no home runs, but the boys proved their ability to hammer an assortment of doubles and singles which matched their skill in the ring. Chicago has a prize set of athletes to meet the New Yorkers in the series which will break a five year deadlock between the nation's two largest population centers.

Van Der Heyden In Action.

Caserio was excused because of his injured eye. George Van Der Heyden, who until yesterday was prevented from boxing by the same kind of an injury, moved into the front line trenches. Wiater's absence from the ring was due to his work Sunday with Marek when all others were relieved from ring service. Kranz complained of a sprained wrist, originally injured in the sectional trials at Gary, Ind., and he spent an extra hour under the lights following a gymnasium workout. Diesch did not box because his nose is sore from Saturday's bouts.

Don Pedigo, light heavyweight from St. Ambrose college, was a visitor in camp yesterday. He is a friend of John Pacek, the heavyweight champion. They worked out for two rounds. Pacek weighs only 180 pounds, so he did not have much of a weight advantage. The pair put on a real scrap notwithstanding the big gloves, and were he eligible Pedigo would be given a job immediately with the Golden Glovers. Pedigo will be back again this afternoon.

Rates Boys A or B.

Coach Behr marked the boys A or B on their showing in the training bouts. All boxed two three minute rounds. This afternoon the ring workouts will be three rounds. The champions led off in each weight division for two rounds, one each with the others in his class. Then these rivals of the titleholders finished with a round.

Johnny Baltzer was marked A for his drill with Lennie Cohen and Walter Matthys. While Matthys was given a B against Baltzer he was scored an A in his one round with Cohen. Bud Ginter, the bantamweight champion, also drew an A rating against Robert Iverson and Jack Smith. Leo Rodak, the 126 pound champion, was the first of the aces to fall to a B on his two round workout. Both Irving Goldstein and Van Der Heyden rated A, but Goldstein dropped to B against Van Der Heyden.

King Wyatt and Johnny Dobler outboxed Eddie Ward, the lightweight champion. Then Dobler went one round with Keith Graves. Graves is in poor condition. He will be given extra supervision at meal time, although until new minimum requirements have been laid down.

Henry Rothler boxed with Graves and Billy Celebron, after which Wyatt came back with Celebron. Billy was good yesterday and he seems headed for the runnerup position in the welterweight class against New York. Celebron lost a close bout last year in New York and he is determined to make his average .500 with this year's shot at the eastern team.

Middleweights Are Tough.

With Caserio on the sidelines, Bill Treest and Jim Cummings had the middleweight class to themselves. It would be difficult to find three better 160 pound amateurs in the country. The coaches are confident Chicago will win the two intercity bouts in this class. Cummings has an advantage in height over Treest, but Bill packs a little more weight. Both are under the limit of 161 pounds. Making a choice here involves much consideration.

Caserio took a group of the boxers last night to the Union League club, Lincoln and Emmerson avenues, to the annual trophy banquet of that organization. Tomorrow night the squad will attend the Billy Petrolle-Barney Ross fight at the Stadium.

Caserio's vacation from the ring ends this afternoon.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

JUST GOSSIPING.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., March 15.—Friend Arch: I received your letter telling about the Golden Gloves finals and I certainly want to congratulate you on having such a large crowd despite the bank holiday. It just shows the public fully realizes that Golden Gloves bouts are more interesting than any other show produced. Now defeat the New Yorkers March 29. You know we've never lost a series in Chicago, although tied in the first tourney in 1928.

Say, Arch, you must have published one of my personal letters to you; anyhow the one in which I gave my address here, for it has produced several callers. Tell Louis Rose a newsdealer told me 2,600 TRIBUNES are circulated daily in Miami and they come through from Chicago faster than letters, so that's pretty good for our circulation department, isn't it?

One of the first visitors was Ray Schalk, White Sox manager in 1927-'28. Cracker, as we used to call him, is now leading the Buffalo team, which is training here. He looks fine and certainly belies the 40 years which he admits to old friends. Buffalo finished third in the International league race last year, but Cracker, of course, expects it'll do better this season. Although Schalk still lives in Chicago, I hadn't seen him for a year or more and we spilled some interesting reminiscences of those "Black Sox" games in 1919 in the world series against Cincinnati.

With him were the business manager, Leo Miller, and a Buffalo newspaper man. I asked Mr. Miller how much it cost a ball team to train here and he told me in confidence they stopped at a hotel, European plan, and had their meals at a restaurant on party rate basis of about $2 per day all told. He didn't want me to publish it because it might sound sort of cheap, but they were here last year and liked it so much they wanted to return for the climate and, of course, the price helps some in these times.

Having traveled once with baseball teams myself and knowing the spring appetites of ath-a-letes, I don't see how the restaurant can make any money on that basis, although the hotel might.

While Cracker and I were fanning on our front porch who should drive up but Jack Hendricks, former Cincinnati and Indianapolis manager. Jack used to go to old West Division High school in Chicago at the same time I did. He played on the baseball team and I was editor of "Voice," the school paper. Funny thing, he and I were born on April 9 in the same year. I wouldn't mind mentioning the year, but he might be sensitive. Jack has a son who's head of an auto sales agency in New York City, but I didn't ask if he was selling any cars, and another son at Indiana university. Jack lives in Indianapolis now.

Down here Jack lives at Hollywood. Every one talks about how cheap everything is. It's part of the Florida propaganda this season. So when I said we were paying only $50 a month rent for our 5 room cottage, Jack came back by saying his apartment at Hollywood cost $25 a month. So I was one down.

With Hendricks was Clyde Robinson, whom I once met at an Indiana society dinner in Chicago which was wet enough, so after several years I still know him as Clyde. He was treasurer of the county in which Indianapolis is located, I think Marion, until the Democrats attended to his case last fall. Now he's resting from the election. In their party also was Tom Hause of Westport, Ind., whom I had met as a judge of kennel shows in Chicago. Uttering an old triteism, "How small this world is after all."

Say, Arch, that was all a mistake about my friend Brown, the former Hoosier who owns the leading restaurant here, giving me only "limited" credit for meal tickets. Why, I'm calling him Logan [his first name] now and he's calling me Harve, and I guess you'd call him Logan, too, if you could or if you had no money and needed to eat.

Here's explanation of why I thought he was less cordial than one Hoosier should be to another. It seems he was a traveling salesman for 27 years and had some grouch on Evansville and he thought I was born there. When I told him my birthplace was Brazil—now don't add "Yes, that's where the nuts come from"—which isn't far from Indianapolis, everything was "oke." Why, we became so chummy he even said if worst came to worst he'd let me have a sawbuck in cash, but not to tell any one, so I won't. Well, I must close now, as we're going over to Logan's for dinner. Regards.

CUBS MEET SEALS TODAY

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

San Francisco, Cal., March 20.—The Chicago Cub pitchers today failed to get in on the holiday declared by Manager Charley Grimm. After telling all hands they could relax all day today, Mr. Grimm decided the pitchers are too far behind schedule to enjoy a complete day off. So the pitchers worked out.

Tomorrow the Cubs will open their first series against minor league competition when they face the San Francisco Seals. The series is to be celebrated as a back to health carnival. All the cripples are expected to see at least a little action against the Seals.

Grimm Plans to Play.

Manager Grimm, whose playing activity so far this year has consisted of appearing twice as a pinch batter, says he plans to do some first basing during the series.

Beryl Richmond, reported to be a left hander, who hasn't pitched an inning, has advised his boss that he has recovered from his sore arm and wants to do some pitching; Gabby Hartnett wants to catch a few, sans the nail on his right index finger; Pat Malone, another sore arm lad, wants to do some bearing down, and Zack Taylor's charley horse has trotted away.

Earl Nikkel Is Named Captain of Yale Quintet

New Haven, Conn., March 20.—[Special.]—Earl Harold Nikkel of Joes, Colo., was tonight elected captain of the Yale basketball team for [illegible]. His selection, which was unanimous, took place [illegible] banquet following the scheduled games.

Chicago vs. New York

It's always a battle when America's two leading cities come together on the baseball field or in the boxing ring. There will be no exception when the Golden Glove champions of Chicago and New York match knuckles at the Stadium, March 29. The annual inter city bouts are boxing's biggest treat.

The show always has been a sell-out. Make sure you will not be disappointed at the last minute. Get your tickets now.

The prices are $1.10, $2.20 and $3.30.

Tickets may be purchased at The Tribune Public Service Office, 1 South Dearborn from 9 a. m. to midnight, or at Room 530, Tribune Tower, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Address mail orders to Golden Glove Ticket Manager, Chicago Tribune.

Hoppe Leads Cochran in Cue Match, 100-88

Welker Cochran, world's champion, won the second block of his 600 point three cushion billiard challenge match with Willie Hoppe at the 131 South Wabash Avenue recreation last night, 56 to 50. Cochran had a high run of 12 to 6 for Hoppe. In total points Hoppe still leads the champion, 100 to 88. Hoppe won the afternoon block 50 to 32.

Hoppe opened the evening match by counting two more points to complete his unfinished run of four in the 49th inning of the afternoon game.

He continued his spectacular play to pile up a lead of 29 to 10 at the end of the 22d inning. However, Cochran then found the stroke that won him the world's title at this style of play and whittled down the score steadily by scoring 39 points in the next 14 innings.

The third and fourth of the twelve blocks will be played this afternoon and evening.

Score by innings, second block:

WARNER OFF FOR TEMPLE; STAGG NEARING COAST

Palo Alto, Cal., March 20.—(AP)—Two of football's oldest and most famous coaches were headed toward new fields of endeavor tonight.

Glenn Scobey Warner said good-by to Stanford and left for Philadelphia, where he will take over the coaching duties at Temple university. At the same time, Amos Alonzo Stagg was traveling westward from Chicago to Stockton, Cal., where he will become head coach at the College of Pacific.

Their trains will pass somewhere along the transcontinental route.

"I'd like to see Stagg en route," said Warner. "I'd wish him good luck. Maybe he would do the same for me. Probably we'll both need it."

Delaware Senate Defeats Race Horse Betting Bill

Dover, Del., March 20.—(AP)—The state senate today defeated the house bill which would legalize betting on horse races in Delaware.

Talking it Over

BY ARCH WARD.

SPORT pages are beginning to simmer with hot news from the baseball camps. For instance, Bud Tinning of the Cubs is having trouble keeping his weight down. Mr. Tinning is a pitcher and his effectiveness on the mound is measured in direct ratio to his poundage.

Tinning is a member of a championship ball club and the dimensions of his girth naturally are of national interest. Chicago reporters peer critically at his waist line every time he goes to the firing line and telegraph their observations 2,300 miles to readers awaiting the news with feverish interest.

If Tinning were a ditch digger or a piano mover nobody would care how much weight he had put on during the winter. But the anxiety he has stirred is one of the penalties an important public figure must pay.

If we can believe neighborhood correspondents, folks all over the south side are gathering in little groups to discuss the failure of Al Simmons to knock the ball out of the lot with expected frequency. Simmons is the man on whom Louis Comiskey has been counting to revive interest in the White Sox. There have been disconcerting reports about Simmons' physical condition. Beer or no beer, there will be no real joy on the south side until Al begins to slap the ball over the fence. When that time arrives a great tension will snap, men can go back hunting for jobs and children will sing in the streets.

Spring baseball news doesn't change much from year to year. Youngsters come up. Old timers go out. Maybe this sort of reading is of interest only to baseball enthusiasts, but as there are thousands of these enthusiasts there can be no denying the value of the news.

The first important prizefight Chicago has had in a long time is scheduled for the Stadium tomorrow night. One of the principals is Barney Ross. He's a fellow you can talk about. The other is Billy Petrolle, whose future is behind him. In other words, he's a little shopworn.

Barney ought to win. His friends rate him a champion. If that appraisal is correct, he will win decisively even from such a troublesome opponent as Petrolle.

Ross is a Golden Glove graduate. He was an intercity champion in 1930. Maybe that is why we are so enthusiastic about him. He will have at least 24 rooters pulling for him tomorrow night, for the 1933 Chicago Golden Glove squad, which is now in training for the bouts with New York will be at the ring side. There will be many others, however, for Ross has a larger individual following than any professional boxer who appears at the Stadium.

Ross has crowd appeal. He isn't exactly a showman, but he has built up a feeling that when he steps into the ring he is interested in only one thing—to win as quickly as possible. He learned that lesson in Golden Gloves. Logically enough, this is what the fans pay to see.

Jim Browning Tosses Lewis; Keeps N. Y. Title

New York, March 20.—(AP)—Jim Browning, burly Missouri farmer boy who holds the world heavyweight wrestling title in New York state, swung Ed [Stranger] Lewis, former title holder, around in his powerful legs tonight and deposited him, flat on his back, in 59 minutes 58 seconds, in a championship match.

THREE MAROON FOOTBALL MEN RECEIVE DEGREES

William Beveridge Cassels, who was elected by his teammates as the University of Chicago's representative in THE TRIBUNE's most valuable football player competition last autumn, will receive the bachelor of philosophy degree at the university's convocation exercises this afternoon.

Two other Maroons, Ray Zenner, guard, and Bernie Johnson, half back, also will receive degrees. Cassels will continue his studies in the university's law school.

Michael Drennan, Scout for A's, Is Dead at 61

NICHOLS' EYE CUT; SCOZZA WINS IN 5TH

Buffalo, N. Y., March 20.—(AP)—Lou Scozza, 173½, won a technical knockout over George Nichols, 165, former N. B. A. light heavyweight champion, in the fifth round tonight. Referee Jimmy Goodrich halted the bout when Nichols suffered a deep cut over his left eye. The bout was even to that point. Steve Halaiko, 140, defeated Sam Bruce, 141, in a ten round bout.

KILBOURNE BEATS MORAN IN EIGHT ROUND WINDUP

Levine Wins Over Stewart at White City.

Jack Kilbourne, South Chicago middleweight, defeated Jack Moran, Chicago, in the eight round windup of the professional boxing show at White City last night. It was Kilbourne's first appearance in a Chicago ring since last fall. Eight hundred watched the bouts.

Sammy Levine was awarded the decision over Jackie Stewart, Louisville, in the six round semi-windup. In the four round preliminaries Ralph Lubansky beat Johnny Terry; Joe Palazzolla beat Frank Keevil; Fred Dolph beat Phil Pernice, and Eddie Stiegal beat Jack Ripp.

Results of the professional boxing show at Loyola university gymnasium last night follow: Solly Dukelsky beat Bill Connell [8]; Biff Bennett beat Bob Stone [4]; Young Scotty beat Ted Trocke [4]; Steve Selgrat beat Jack Robinson [4]; Guy Schriver beat Jack Delaney [4], and Art Donovan beat Ed Rayford [4].

Boxing will make its debut at Northwestern university tonight when the first annual all-university boxing championships get under way at Patten gymnasium. The tournament, which has attracted an entry list of 75, will close tomorrow night when the champions in eight divisions will be crowned.

Tentative plans already have been made for a match with the University of Wisconsin to be held at Madison, Wis., March 28. Winners of championships in the university tournament will meet the Badgers. Other matches with Loyola, Iowa and Michigan are in prospect.

George Getz presided as chairman in place of Joe Triner at a meeting of the Illinois Athletic commission yesterday. Triner has been confined to his home with a touch of influenza since last Friday. His physician, Dr. Frank A. La Gorio, will permit him to leave the house today.

Sammy Wolff, Coliseum promoter, last night canceled his boxing show scheduled for March 31. . . . The 15 round bill is scheduled to come up for third reading today in the house of representatives. . . . Larry Johnson, south side heavyweight, is in Cleveland where he faces Patsy Perroni tonight. . . . Teddy Yaroz, Pittsburgh welterweight, has been reinstated by the N. B. A.

Billy Cepak, Cicero Stadium promoter, is arranging a match between Dick Sisk and Johnny Phagan, local welterweights, to head his show on March 31. . . . Pete Wistort, South Chicago heavyweight, yesterday canceled his match with Otto von Porat of Eau Claire, Wis., Friday. . . . Jack Kilbourne is to leave this morning for Louisville, Ky., to meet Henry Firpo there tonight.

What Happens When a Bus Takes a Dive

ody's baggage; the back end of my car is full of baggage."

O, yeah? Baggage, eh?

The woman with the egg on her forehead and the hurt arm was elected. She was bound from Miami to somewhere in Maine to the deathbed of her mother. She got in and Cupid started to eat her hat. "Lay off, Cupid," said the blonde, and started away.

The wisecracker came up, feeling himself for hurts.

"How do we get down from here?" the lady with the shoulder asked, querulously.

"How do you get down from an elephant?" said the wisecracker. "You don't get down from an elephant; you get down from a duck."

Hurry! A Bottle of Gin!

He eased the lady with the jaw down the ladder and helped her limp up to one of the roadside cabins, telling her it was his St. Christopher medal that had saved them all. It had carried him through three accidents. The lady with the knees said she carried one, too. A St. Christopher medal and a 32d degree Masonic emblem. She was not a Catholic herself, but the bishop up home had suggested it. Then if anything happened and a Mason saw the emblem he would help her, and if a Catholic saw St. Christopher, he would help, too.

The old guy with the rib felt faint and a bottle of gin appeared from one of the cars. He took a medicinal belt at the bottle and felt revived. The lady with the jaw took a thimbleful, too. She hadn't tasted gin for years, but she wanted to know the name of this so her daughter could get some. It was delicious. It was Gilbey's. Off a boat. The poor guy with the eye took a noggin of gin and so did the wise-cracker. They were beginning to feel better, although the guy with the eye kept asking for a glass for his false teeth.

Still no doctor appeared and then it developed that nobody had phoned for a doctor. The relief driver had phoned, but only to his boss in Jacksonville to report the accident and give the claim agents a jump on the ambulance chasers.

Where Is Gent with Stimulants?

The old guy with the rib sent a colored boy over from the camp to report that he was feeling faint again and where was the gentleman with the stimulants? By luck, he had taken out an accident policy the moment before leaving.

After two and one-half hours, the claim agent arrived, beating the ambulance chasers to it. The victims were taken away. At half past four, the situation was well in hand.

Caserio Can Take Punch or Deal One Out

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Fred Caserio, middleweight champion of the Chicago Golden Gloves team, has learned how to stand up against any style of fighting he is likely to encounter in the intercity bouts with New York, which are to be held at the Stadium March 29.

During five years of amateur boxing he has met many opponents who were easy and many who were tough, but no one has ever been able to knock him out. He has fought in Central A. A. U. tournaments, in National A. A. U. tournaments, in Olympic trials, in Golden Gloves tournaments, in intercity matches, and in international matches.

Proves He Can Take It.

His boxing career has carried him from Boston and New York to San Francisco. He has swung his fists in New Orleans, Kansas City, and in many towns of the central states. Sometimes he has been beaten, usually he has won, but either in victory or in defeat he has proved himself a fighter who can deal out punches like a champion or take them on the chin like a good sport.

It is an axiom of the ring that no fighter is any good unless he can take it as well as dish it out. In the recent Golden Gloves tournament of champions at the Stadium, Caserio showed how well he could stand up under punishment. In the first of five bouts, he received a blow on his left eye which nearly closed it. He won that fight and the next two. Several days of rest before the semi-finals and finals were insufficient to allow the injury to heal, and when the big night arrived he was at a disadvantage before he started.

Can't See, but He Can Hit.

In Caserio's semi-final fight his left eye was hit repeatedly, but he won. At the end of the first round of his final encounter, the eye was closed entirely. Fred was dazed and almost unable to see his antagonist, but he stood up under a rain of punches and dealt so many in return that the referee raised his arm in victory as the last gong struck.

Caserio is no stranger to the fight fans who follow Golden Gloves competition. He was middleweight champion and captain of the 1931 Golden Gloves team which beat New York in the intercity bouts.

Wins 176 Bouts in 203.

In 1932 Caserio won the Central A. A. U. middleweight championship for the second time, having taken it in 1930. In the same year he took the National A. A. U. championship. In winning this title Fred beat Carmen Barth of Cleveland, who subsequently became the Olympic champion. Fred went into the Olympic trials at San Francisco with a badly injured eye and lost a decision to Barth in the finals.

Caserio has fought 203 bouts and has won 176. During the last year he has been developing a knockout punch which has enabled him to put away many opponents in the early stages of his fights.

TAFFY ABEL OUT OF HAWK LINEUP FOR LAST GAME

Taffy Abel was definitely removed yesterday as a possible starter in the Blackhawks final game of the season Thursday night at Toronto. Abel is suffering from a spinal injury. This leaves the Hawks short on defense men, Burch, who filled in for Abel against Detroit Sunday afternoon, having suffered a broken leg. Burch will be confined in the Garfield Park hospital for three weeks.

After the Toronto game, some of the Hawks will return to Chicago, but the majority of the squad will scatter to various parts of Canada. There will be no practice prior to the team departure for Toronto tomorrow night.

GRABINER BACK FROM SOX CAMP; STILL OPTIMISTIC

Harry Grabiner, vice president and secretary of the Chicago White Sox, arrived yesterday from the spring training camp at Pasaneda, Cal. Grabiner, who was accompanied by Mrs. Grabiner, shivered as he discussed Chicago and California weather.

"This sure is great weather here. I thought I had remained on the coast long enough to miss all the snow," he said. Despite defeats in exhibition games Grabiner still is optimistic about the Sox' chances this season.

"This should be the best Sox team in ten years," he declared.

LOYOLA, PEREZ MEET TONIGHT IN K. OF C. PLAYOFF

For the third successive year Loyola-Hyde Park and Perez will play a post-season game tonight at White City to decide first place in the south division of the Knights of Columbus Basketball league. Two other games will be played tonight—Calumet vs. McHale and Dowling vs. Ridge.

The playoff of the tie will pave the way for the opening of the annual championship round of the league Thursday night at the 132d Regiment armory, Madison and Rockwell streets.

Fort Sheridan Soldier Bowls 300 in A.B.C.

Columbus, O., March 20.—[Special.]—Jack Karstens, a private in the United States infantry at Fort Sheridan, Ill., bowled a perfect game in the American Bowling congress tournament today. He achieved it in his last game of the doubles event. It was the third 300 game in A. B. C. history.

Approximately 1,500,000 games have been rolled in the tournaments, since the first one at Chicago.

Billy Knox of Philadelphia bowled one 300 game in the singles division in 1913 at Toledo, and Charley Reinlie, Racine, Wis., shot the other in the same town in the doubles division in 1926.

Starts With 208.

Karstens opened his doubles series with a 208 game. He followed with 186. Then he chalked up twelve consecutive strikes, crossing over to the left side for a "one-two" hit only once.

Karstens has rolled five previous perfect scores, but none was in league or tournament competition. His score will bring him an A. B. C. gold medal and an extra cash prize.

J. McBride of Joliet, Ill., took third place in the individual event with 667. McBride's 1,882 in the all events was good enough for third place.

Louis and Bernard Muller of Jersey City, N. J., stepped into second place in the doubles standings of the tournament during the day with a 1,274 total. The brothers scored games of 427, 424, and 423. It was the only change in the rankings of the leaders.

Krumsike Bowls 652.

Poor first games prevented two Chicago bowlers from vaulting among the singles leaders. Paul Krumsike opened with 188 and then registered scores of 213 and 251 to total 653. Jimmy

RAILROAD STOCK PRICES STRONG IN DULL MARKET

Most Other Groups Drift Lower.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 20.—Devoid of its post-holiday flush of excitement, the stock market became an exceedingly dull affair today, with the majority of active issues working fractionally lower. Activity slowed down to a turnover well below a million shares.

The list spent the day backing and filling without definite direction. Some strength developed around noon and at that time small gains outnumbered losses. The sluggish price drift, however, soon resumed a lower course and held it until final dealings when quotations stiffened slightly on the news of an agreement between senate and house conferees on the beer bill.

There was no liquidation of any consequence to account for the setback and it was plain that the market settled lower of its own weight.

Confidence Holds Up.

Interest in stocks, however, remains at a pitch somewhat higher than prevailed before the banking moratorium, and there has been no lessening of new found confidence. Rather, it was pointed out, the market's colorless performance merely indicates that the speculative community after its first frenzied antics has come to recognize the fact that the road ahead toward better times is not entirely a smooth, unobstructed one.

In one respect the market ran off form in that it responded most feebly to the further easing in money rates.

Heavy as it was, the list was not without redeeming strength in one group. Railroad issues continued to lean toward quiet strength, as they have done since trading was resumed. Keeping alive reports that the administration at Washington would soon come forth with relief legislation, carrier shares were in persistent demand all day at small price markups. Also behind this popularity of the railroads were an expected rise in traffic and a rise in the net of Chesapeake and Ohio for February over the same month last year.

Leading Rails Gain.

The Illinois Central, New York Central, and Union Pacific found enough takers through the session to wind up transactions with fractional gains. Trifling net recessions were the rule elsewhere in the group.

As the beer bill sprinted toward enactment in the congressional conference there was a flurry in the stocks in and related to the brewing industry. Owens Illinois Glass set the pace with a rise of more than 2 points.

United States Steel and other shares in the industry were strong for a time around noon on the recovery in steel operations to 15 per cent, but interest in the group relaxed, followed by a mild price recession which acted as an ancher on other members of the pivotal industrial group. Utilities were heavy.

Receivership news was a blow to Studebaker and the motors generally. Studebaker common closed off a large fraction and the preferred was down more than 6 points at one time. General Motors and Chrysler were soft all day.

Howard P. Preston Resigns from R.F.C. Chicago Agcy.

Howard P. Preston has resigned as manager of the Chicago agency of the Reconstruction Finance corporation and will be elected a deputy governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago at the regular meeting of the board of directors Friday, March 24, Eugene M. Stevens, chairman of the board of the reserve bank, announced last night. Mr. Preston is a former president of the American Bankers' association.

Calls for Gold Bring Jewelry to Be Melted

Dealers in old gold report that the recent banking crisis was responsible for a sharp increase in their business. More and more persons are bringing out old rings, bracelets, watch cases and various kinds of jewelry to convert them into ready cash.

While there has been a steady gain in this type of business—starting about a year and a half ago—the banking troubles gave it a renewed impetus, according to Sam L. Adelsdorf, secretary of Goldsmith Brothers Smelting and Refining company, one of the largest gold houses in the country.

"We are receiving shipments from every part of the country daily," Mr. Adelsdorf said yesterday. "Many persons are taking advantage of the present relative high value of gold in terms of what it will buy. Others are forced by circumstances to dispose of family heirlooms and jewelry."

How Gold Is Handled.

Mr. Adelsdorf said that while the public has not brought forth its gold on the scale that England has been doing, still the increase in numbers of persons selling their gold possessions is very noticeable. He estimates that his company is doing twice as much business as it did during the days of prosperity.

Gold purchased from the public is handled in several ways. Where it comes in large amounts and is of high refinement, it may be sent to the treasury to be converted into money. Or the gold may be refined here and used for commercial purposes. Dentists, fountain pen manufacturers, jewelers, etc., take a large part of this gold.

"When we melt up old gold and refine it," Mr. Adelsdorf said, "we are practically converting old gold into new gold. Some of the gold melted may be of low karat. When put through the refining process it may be 999.0 pure, depending on the use to be made of it. The government pays $20.67 a troy ounce for fine gold, which is pure to the 1,000th part.

Karat Mark Explained.

"We find that many jewelers making rings, watch cases and other objects in years past frequently stamped gold with higher carat than it actually was. The law is very strict on this point now, and generally jewelry manufactured in recent years bears the actual number of karats."

The company takes the sweepings of companies using gold in manufacturing and burns them. Often sizable quantities of gold are recovered in this way. The company has a precipitator at its large smelting and refining works on the south side which even removes gold from vapors and gases in the plant.

BANK PUBLISHES LIST OF ALL OPEN THROUGHOUT U. S.

Great has been the demand during the last week for lists of banks that have reopened. Business men holding checks from out of town and firms desiring to do business in other cities have been flooding the banks with thousands of inquiries every day. All bank directories published prior to the banking holiday are out of date and practically useless.

The federal reserve banks have endeavored to meet this incessant demand for information by publishing weekly lists. The Chicago reserve bank published its first list last Thursday and will bring it up to date each Thursday.

Reserve List Covers 7th Area; Bank Publishes Full List.

This list covers the Chicago reserve district, which embraces all of Iowa, northern and central Illinois and Indiana, southern and central Wisconsin and the lower peninsula of Michigan. Every member bank in the Chicago district will be sent a copy of this list each week. In addition, thousands of copies are shipped by air mail each Thursday to each of the other federal reserve cities, so that every member bank in these other districts may be supplied.

The other eleven reserve banks are reciprocating by sending out copies of their own district lists, with the result that every member bank in the country should have a fairly up to date list of all reopened banks in the nation.

The Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company yesterday began distributing among its customers 10,000 copies of a booklet containing the names of all banks throughout the country reopened up to the end of last week. Forty clerks worked day and night for several days preparing this list, which contains approximately 12,000 names.

Volunteer Informers Turn In Names of Gold Hoarders.

The names of dozens of gold hoarders have been turned into the federal reserve bank by volunteer informers. The informers seldom reveal their identity. Some telephone, some write, and others come in person to tell the bank officials of friends or acquaintances who are hoarding gold. This source of information has been a valuable one to the reserve bank in its campaign to combat hoarding.

Chesapeake & Ohio Earns More than in February, '32

New York, March 20.—(AP)—The Chesapeake and Ohio railway today reported an increase in net operating income for last month over February, 1932, while gross was almost equal to last year's. The February net operating total was $2,404,010, against $2,249,267. Gross aggregated $7,626,139, against $7,682,749.

Climax Fight for Thompson Chain Today

The proxy fight for control of the John R. Thompson company, national restaurant chain, will be decided today at the annual meeting of stockholders. John R. Thompson Jr., son of the company's founder, is seeking to wrest control from the present management headed by William D. Collins, president.

Thompson was ousted as president last December. He had been a figurehead in the company since the summer of 1930 when a group of Chicago capitalists including Charles A. McCulloch, John D. Hertz and the late William Wrigley had acquired a large block of the company's stock. Collins was made president by the McCulloch group.

Thompson has charged the present management with responsibility for the decline in earnings during the depression. Collins replied that Thompson was so interested in activities outside of the business that the company suffered. He stated further that an investigation was being made of the transactions between the restaurant company and the John R. Thompson Securities company, which is also headed by young Thompson.

The meeting is scheduled for 2 o'clock this afternoon at the company's offices, 350 North Clark street.

HOUSE PASSES BILL FOR LOANS TO STATE BANKS

Would Extend Scope of Asset Money.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 20.—[Special]—The house today passed the Robinson-Steagal bill opening the way for non-member state banks to obtain the "sound asset" currency authorized ten days ago in the Roosevelt emergency banking law.

REP. HENRY B. STEAGALL. [Acme Photo.]

But so great was the confusion in the chamber and so unexpectedly did the measure come to a vote that several members present at the time expressed surprise when informed shortly afterward that the bill had been passed.

Materially altered by treasury officials, the measure now returns to the senate where it was originally introduced by Senator Joseph T. Robinson [Dem., Ark.]. As passed by the higher body, the bill, treasury experts found, did not accomplish what it set out to accomplish and a new bill was written to be brought up in the house as the Steagall bill. Senate agreement to the new version is expected without opposition.

May Borrow from Reserve.

The measure provides that state banks not members of the federal reserve system may borrow from federal reserve banks with the same privilege as member institutions. The eligible security offered by them for such borrowings would be used as backing for the new currency legalized in the emergency banking law.

Representative Carroll Beedy [Rep., Me.], member of the banking and currency committee, opposed the bill today with the same bitterness he exhibited on Saturday when he forced its delay until today. But with even more bitterness he assailed the tactics of Chairman Henry Steagall [Dem., Ala.], of the banking and currency committee, who, he declared,

Expect Bank Dividend Cuts; Stocks Decline

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Sharp declines in Chicago bank stock quotations yesterday were attributed to anticipation of dividend cuts or omissions by leading banks.

Directors of both the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company and the First National Bank of Chicago are slated to take up dividend action at meetings during the next few days. The First National meeting has been set for this afternoon. At the Continental Illinois yesterday it was stated that the date for the directors' meeting had not been definitely set, but that it would take place this week.

Both banks were scheduled to hold meetings earlier this month, but they were postponed because of the holiday.

Stock of Continental Illinois, which on Saturday closed at 61 bid, 63 asked, yesterday closed at 50 bid, 51 asked. First National stock closed yesterday at 86 bid, 89 asked, compared with Saturday's final quotation of 113 bid, 116 asked.

Strong Enough to Cut.

Traders' anticipation of downward dividend revisions arose out of a realization that in their present strong position Chicago's biggest banks can reduce dividend payments or suspend them entirely without disturbing public confidence.

The big loop banks in the first week after the expiration of the nation-wide bank holiday enjoyed an aggregate increase of about 125 million dollars in deposits, according to authoritative estimates. Increases were as high as 15 per cent in individual instances.

For two years the trend in bank dividend rates in Chicago, New York, and other cities has been steadily downward.

CREDIT RATES EASE

Additional evidence of the return of confidence in banks was seen yesterday in a further easing in credit. Rates on bankers' acceptances both here and in New York were cut seven-eighths of one per cent on all maturities. There has been a rapid series of reductions in money rates since the banking holiday. Dealers in bankers' acceptances reported yesterday a "large demand and small supply" of such paper.

EXPECT NO INFLATION

Throughout the country in financial circles the conviction is growing that the money program of the new administration at Washington is not even slightly inflationary.

The treasury, to be sure, has authorized the printing of two billion dollars' worth of "asset currency." But this money is merely to be available if

U. S. BORROWS 100 MILLIONS AT 1.83% RATE

Interest Is Less than Half Week Ago.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 20.—After skyrocketing to an all time high a week ago, interest rates on government short term borrowing have returned approximately to their pre-banking holiday level.

A new 100 million dollar bill issue sold tonight at an average discount rate of 1.83 per cent, Secretary of the Treasury Woodin announced, compared with a rate of 4.26 per cent on a similar issue a week ago. The rate on the new issue sold still is considerably higher than the rates that prevailed before the banking disturbance.

The issue, which will mature June 21, was over-subscribed almost four times, Secretary Woodin announced. Total subscriptions were $386,906,000. The treasury actually accepted bids totaling $100,569,000.

Reflects Easier Money Market.

General easing of the money market was reflected in both the rate and total subscriptions, according to officials here. It was pointed out that the banks had bought the bills at an average rate well under the rediscount rates of the reserve banks.

The treasury netted a paper saving of more than $600,000 in interest charges because of the recession of the discount rate. At the rate prevailing last week, 100 million dollars in 91 day bills would have cost the treasury $1,065,000. At tonight's rate the cost is only $457,000.

Proceeds of the issue, which is wholly new borrowing, will go to replenish the treasury's cash balance, which amounted to 443 million dollars on March 17. In effect, the borrowed money will replace income taxes not collected because of the two weeks' extension in income tax payments.

800 Million Notes Oversubscribed.

The treasury also announced that despite the difficulties faced because of the bank holiday the double-barreled offering of about $800,000,000 of certificates of indebtedness made to meet maturities of about $694,000,000 and for other current needs had been largely oversubscribed, the total of cash and exchange subscriptions reaching

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 20.—Foreign bond issues stole the lead from domestic issues in today's trading. German bonds went up 1 to 3 points, apparently on the statement of the new head of the Reichsbank, Dr. Schacht. There was also a more helping hand rendered by the Mussolini plan to build a permanent peace structure for Europe.

Both the Young and Dawes plan loans, as well as most of the German municipal and corporate issues, participated in the upswing, which followed gains of similar amount on the Berlin exchange. Buying of German dollar issues in this market was not aggressive, but came from Europe, apparently in recognition of the improvement in Berlin.

Domestic Bonds Dip.

Domestic bonds were easier, with declines occurring in both high grade and speculative issues. Of the former group, United States government loans and high grade corporation bonds were included in the downward movement; among speculative issues there was an irregular lower trend.

Inability of the domestic list to continue its gains is due in large measure to the absence of institutional buying, which usually provides the main force for a prolonged upswing of investment issues.

Some uncertainty also exists in regard to possible liquidation from banks placed in the hand of conservators.

Easier Trend in Money Rates.

Further sign of returning easy money was a drop of ⅞ of 1 per cent of the bill rate, presaging a possible cut in the federal reserve bank rediscount rate on Thursday.

Losses in United States government issues ranged from small fractions to about ½ point, which was regarded by dealers as no more than a technical movement following naturally after the extreme gains of last week.

Besides German bonds, foreign issues showed improvement in such instances as Italian Public Utility 7s, British 5½s and French Republic 7s. All four countries under the Mussolini plan would hold a parley soon for "an understanding on larger political questions." With especial reference to promoting the cause of peace.

URGES BUYING CAR BY APRIL 1 TO SAVE 3% TAX

Prospective buyers of new automobiles were urged yesterday by Lafayette Markle, president of the Chicago Automobile Trade association, to buy before April 1 in order to avoid payment of the 3 per cent sales tax which becomes effective on that date.

"All orders formally entered before the first of the month will escape the addition of the tax," he said, "in the case of higher priced cars the saving will be considerable."

Some Junior Mortgage Problems.

TO THE EDITOR: Will you kindly answer the following questions:

1. What would be the best way for a person holding a junior mortgage to protect himself in case of a foreclosure? This is a frame bungalow bought in 1924 for $6,700 with a first mortgage of $2,000 and a second of $1,000.

2. Could we be held for any taxes or attorney's fees?

3. Does the first mortgage holder get all?

Any advice will be greatly appreciated as we have no funds for a lawyer. F. S.

ANSWER: 1. The holder of a junior or second mortgage can protect himself in case of a foreclosure by taking up the first mortgage or redeeming during the twelve months after sale of property. The holder of the second mortgage could get a judgment for the sum owing him against the signer of the note. This assumes that the latter still is the owner of the property. A judgment may be taken at any time within the fifteen months' period of redemption in the event of foreclosure.

Within twelve months the holder of the second mortgage as such can redeem; after the elapsing of the twelve months and within, of course, the subsequent three months, he can redeem as a judgment creditor.

The holder of the second mortgage can ignore the property if he wishes and collect only the sum due him by judgment. This may involve garnishment of wages. If the second mortgage holder offers the sum necessary for redemption, the first mortgage holder must comply.

2. Not unless your name is signed to the notes or you have expressly assumed the first mortgage.

3. You get no share of the proceeds of the foreclosure sale unless those proceeds are more than sufficient to pay the first mortgage plus charges, if that is what you mean to ask.

UPTURN IN HOGS VIEWED AS OMEN OF BETTER DAYS

Three Weeks' Rise Sends Average to $4.15.

The eyes of the business world are again turning hopefully toward the hog market, which for several weeks has been headed in the right direction. Twice last year, it is recalled, the hog market led substantial rallies in live stock and earned for itself the distinction of being regarded as a good business barometer by those connected with agriculture.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Liquidation of the government owned line of May wheat was under way again yesterday on both the Chicago and the Kansas City exchanges, according to reports in the grain trade. The selling was fairly persistent from the start until near the close, when the nearby future dropped to 51⅝ cents, or 1 cent under Saturday's finish. Comparatively little wheat was said to have been sold under 52 cents.

The selling of May wheat was absorbed early by commission houses and local professionals, and it was not until the last half hour of trading that the nearby future showed a disposition to weaken sharply. Selling by some of the buyers early was said to have been responsible for the break to the inside figures of the day.

Net Loss ⅝ to ⅞ of a Cent.

Buying against bids helped to check the decline, with the close about the bottom. Net losses were ⅝ to ⅞ cents, with May leading. The latter was 51⅜ to 51¾ cents; July, 52⅛ to 52⅝ cents, and September, 53⅜ to 53½ cents.

Numerous operators expressed themselves as friendly to the buying side of wheat, but were inclined to limit their operations until the end of farm board liquidation is in sight. Part of the May wheat sold at Kansas City was understood to have been taken by commission houses, who sold the July as a hedge.

Farm Board liquidation and the prospective farm relief legislation are the main topics of conversation in the wheat trade at present, and other influences are attracting little attention.

Winnipeg closed ⅛ to ½ cent lower, while Liverpool was ⅜ cent higher to ¾ cent lower. Export sales were estimated at 400,000 bushels of Manitobas.

No Pressure on Corn.

Failure of farmers to sell cash corn on a liberal scale, despite the recent advance in the futures, has become a market influence, and there was relatively little pressure throughout the day. Downstate reports indicated outside points were outbidding Chicago as much as ¾ cent per bushel, which tends to restrict shipments to the local market. All dips brought in buying and the close was unchanged to ¼ cent higher, with May finishing at 27⅝ cents; July, 29⅝ cents, and September, 31⅛ cents.

Houses with eastern connections were on the selling side of rye, which developed independent weakness as compared with wheat, closing with net losses of ⅝ to 1⅝ cents. May was 37⅛ cents, and July, 38⅛ cents at the last. Oats were unchanged to ⅛ cent higher, with May at 17⅜ to 17⅝ cents, and July, 18¼ cents. Barley was ½ cent lower, with May at 30⅛ cents. Trade in all grains was somewhat restricted, as there is considerable uncertainty as to the effect of the proposed farm relief legislation on the markets.

COTTON HOLDERS UNLOAD EASING MARKET VALUES

Recent buyers of cotton in the south and east were credited with liberal selling in the various markets and while prices rallied at times the trend was irregularly lower within a small range. The close was at the bottom, or a few points above, with losses in Chicago of 3 to 5 points on the active futures, with January off 10 cents and March unchanged. Other markets were 1 to 3 points net lower on futures, with spots in New York unchanged at 6.55 cents; New Orleans 6.35 cents; Galveston 6.35 cents, and Houston 6.30 cents. Liverpool closed 3 to 5 points net lower.

PRESSURE ON LARD PUSHES PRICES LOWER

An easy undertone prevailed in the lard market despite the strong and higher prices for hogs. Buying orders were not numerous and there was sufficient selling to lower prices and make a close 2½ cents to 10 cents lower than Saturday. March led the weakness, due to deliveries of 150,000 lbs of cash lard. Regular cash lard was $4.50, with loose $3.90, and leaf $3.87½. Liverpool lard was 3d to 6d lower, and export clearances $10,170 lbs.

Bellies were handled sparingly at 2¼ cents decline for May while July was neglected and unchanged.

U. S. BORROWING NEW 100 MILLION AT LOWER RATE

Treasury Sells Bills on a 1.83% Basis.

Of these the New York federal reserve district was responsible for $1,140,440,500, representing bids from banks in the areas and their customers. Total allotments were $942,504,500, of which $626,828,500 went to the New York district.

The allotment of the 4 per cent treasury certificates of indebtedness of series TAG-1933, maturing Aug. 15, 1933, was $469,131,000, of which $309,559,000 went to the New York federal reserve district. The allotment of the 4¼ per cent treasury certificates of indebtedness of series TD2-1933, maturing Dec. 15, 1933, was $473,373,000, of which $317,269,500 went to the New York federal reserve district.

May Appeal to Public.

Sweeping changes in the United States treasury financing calculated to eliminate the great dependence on banks and to enlist the support of private investors, large and small, may be adopted at once by the Roosevelt administration, according to reports today.

A nation-wide drive, reminiscent of the Liberty Loan campaigns, is envisioned to have individuals displace banks as the principal creditors of the treasury and to place the government's debt on a more permanent basis. Use of the postoffices, postal savings system, and other governmental agencies to facilitate sales directly to investors is believed to be under consideration.

With the balacing of the federal budget, it is pointed out that the treasury would be in a strong position to address itself to private investors and market issues of comparatively long maturities which would "stay put" to a far greater degree than the present short term and even intermediate term issues which have been used in the financial community to the extent of many millions of dollars daily.

New York Money Rates Ease.

New York, March 20.—(AP)—Credit conditions continued to ease today with a lowering of rates in several branches of the money market.

Rates on bankers' acceptances, regarded as the most accurate barometer of credit trends, were lowered another ⅜ of one per cent, affecting all maturities. This followed a cut of ½ of one per cent on Friday.

The official renewal rate for call money was 3½ per cent, but later the rate was lowered to 3 per cent, which was even with the closing quotations of last Friday. Time funds continued nominally quoted at 3 per cent for all maturities compared with 4 per cent on Friday.

Commercial paper was quoted at 3½ per cent, against a previous rate of 4 per cent.

Chicago bank rates were lowered immediately after the New York announcement.

DETROIT AWAITS WORD NEW BANK HAS U. S. BACKING

Organization Discussed at Washington.

Detroit, Mich., March 20.—[Special.]—Official announcement is momentarily expected from Washington that definite plans for a new Detroit bank, to be founded on the structures of the First National bank and Guaradian National, and underwritten by Chrysler corporation and General Motors corporation, have at last been adopted.

The bank, said to be capitalized at $25,000,000, is expected to be open for business not later than Monday, March 27, if not before. Of the capital stock the Reconstruction Finance corporation will purchase one-half, the remaining $12,500,000 to be subscribed locally.

Reorganization of the two banks on their old structures have been rejected, the report says. Complete details of the proposed plan may be announced in Washington at any time, it was unofficially indicated late today as the R. F. C. continued its conference.

Jesse H. Jones, director of the R. F. C. to whom President Roosevelt delegated the task of ironing out the situation, said the announcement would settle the city's banking problems.

Seek Support of Ford.

Control of the bank, if the plan is finally accepted, will rest principally with the common stockholders, and the financial institution will match every dollar of deposits with cash assets.

It is said that every effort possible is being made to draw the Fords into the picture, inducements for his doing so being offered by General Motors, and it is reported that a statement by President Sloan is ready for release as soon as the new bank received the official governmental O. K.

The two national banks, in charge of federal conservators, began today the disbursement of $32,000,000 representing the unpaid balance upon the 10 per cent withdrawal limitations announced some time ago of unencumbered trust funds.

Murphy Asks City Moratorium.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 20.—Urging President Roosevelt to support legislation favoring a two year moratorium on municipal bonds, Mayor Frank Murphy of Detroit, said today that something must be done to prevent the complete collapse of local governments. He said there are 1,000 cities and villages insolvent.

The plan Mayor Murphy suggested to the President was an amendment to the bankruptcy law recently passed to protect railroads and individuals from being forced into receivership. Under it cities would be permitted to go into federal courts, declare their insolvency and get a two year moratorium. The moratorium could be continued ten years by an executive proclamation. A bill to this effect has been introduced by Representative McLeod of Detroit.

"We are proposing a plan that is just to every one and possible of operation," Murphy said after his talk with the President. "The object of the plan is two fold:

"1. To prevent a multiplicity of lawsuits by bondholders against cities and

"2. To premit an orderly levy and collection of taxes to preserve the functions of government.

"This plan does not involve repudiation or default. But under existing conditions revenues are insufficient to meet the needs of government and at the same time pay off principal and interest charges in indebtedness."

Start Cleveland Reorganization.

Cleveland, O., March 20.—[Special.]—Harold H. Burton, former acting mayor of Cleveland and law director under former City Manager Daniel Morgan, late today was elected president of the Guardian Trust company and chairman of a committee of six which will direct reorganization of the bank.

J. Arthur House, who had been president of the Guardian for sixteen years, voluntarily submitted his resignation in order to give Burton and the new committee full power to reorganize the bank.

The Guardian is a state chartered bank, a member of the federal reserve system, which has not received federal license to reopen for normal business.

Directors of the Union Trust company, Cleveland's other big unlicensed bank, are to meet tomorrow to consider reorganization plans and a high official tonight stated that they "hoped to have an announcement."

STATE BANK BILL WIDENING LOANS PASSES IN HOUSE

Adds Scope to Asset Currency Law.

failed to call a committee meeting on the bill even after Mr. Beedy's protest last week.

Referring pointedly to Senator Huey Long's fight against the emergency banking bill because it did not include state banks, Mr. Beedy insisted today that the Robinson-Steagall bill was a palliative to the demands of the Louisiana Kingfish.

"I surmise," he declared, "that this bill was hastily thrown together to satisfy a certain vociferous member of another body." It was introduced by Senator Robinson, he added, "for expediency's sake."

Since under the original banking bill nonmember state banks could obtain federal reserve loans through their member correspondent banks, Mr. Beedy said, the measure passed today was unnecessary.

"I object to multiplying these legislative enactments when they are not going to amount to anything," he asserted, "simply to make a gesture to satisfy somebody who is going to make trouble if he does not get what he wants."

Give State Officials More Power.

New regulations intended to bring about a more uniform functioning on a limited basis of banks not yet reopened under license were issued today by the treasury department.

The new regulations followed on the heels of an executive order issued last night by President Roosevelt. The effect of the order is to permit state authorities to appoint conservators or supervising officers over state banks that are members of the federal reserve system when it is felt that this action is necessary to conserve assets. Similar authority in the case of national banks was given to the controller of the currency in the emergency legislation.

Permits Limited Withdrawals.

The first regulation issued today by the treasury—No. 27 in the series—authorized state banking officials to grant to unlicensed state member banks the privilege of permitting withdrawals by depositors and payments to creditors, not in excess of 5 per cent in either case. The withdrawals and payments will cease if a conservator or receiver should be appointed.

Another new regulation cancelled the effect of regulations 6 and 10 after the close of business yesterday. They permitted limited withdrawals for the shipment, transportation or delivery of food or feed products, and to meet the needs of communities for food, medicine, other necessaries of life, the relief of distress, pay rolls and currency expenditures for maintaining employment.

WOODIN LAUDS PEOPLE, PRESS FOR THEIR AID IN ENDING BANK CRISIS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 20.—Secretary of the Treasury William H. Woodin paid a flying visit to the federal reserve bank of New York today, the first since he resigned as a director of the bank to undertake his new duties. He said it seemed like a hundred years since that day. He returned to Washington late in the afternoon.

Greeting financial reporters at their regular afternoon meeting at the bank, the secretary expressed great relief that the banking situation had been clearing up so rapidly. He talked freely of his enthusiasm for the manner in which the people and the press have cooperated to make the solution of his difficult problems easier.

He told of his surprise at the application required of him in his new position. Before he went to Washington, he said, he expected it was a place where one rose about 10 o'clock, had lunch with an ambassador, dictated a few letters and quit about 4 o'clock for a round of golf.

"Instead," he said, "we all work until 4 o'clock in the morning, and get back to the office by 9 in the morning."

STOCKS OF BANKS DECLINE; EXPECT CUT IN DIVIDENDS

Two Loop Institutions Hold Meetings This Week.

needed. A report at the close of last week showed that there had been less than seven millions of it put out by the reserve banks and that entirely in the New York district.

The mere fact that this money is available has made its use unnecessary in most cities. The knowledge that this additional bulwark exists has caused people to bring other money, previously withdrawn, back to the banks. If there is to be a reversal of price trends, therefore, it will probably be the result not of the creation of new money but will be due to the return to the banks of hundreds of millions of hoarded currency.

Deflationary Influence Strong.

There is a decidedly deflationary influence in the failure to reopen of some 4,000 banks throughout the United States. Although most of these are small institutions, nevertheless a sizable portion of the nation's credit machinery is at least temporarily out of service.

The opinion of the majority of bankers is summed up by Moody's as follows:

"Although the effect of the currency provisions of the new law could easily be inflationary, the policies of the Roosevelt administration as so far revealed do not indicate any intention toward this end.

"In addition, deflationary forces are still strong in that the loss of bank deposits resulting from banking reorganizations is bound to force revision of the debt structure and to curtail purchasing power for a certain period.

"This loss of bank deposits may be partly offset by a feeling of greater confidence on the part of those whose banks have reopened intact, by a somewhat greater willingness to spend, and a higher rate of turnover of existing bank deposits."

DAYTON RUBBER.

Dayton Rubber Manufacturing company's report for the fiscal year ended Oct. 31, 1932, shows a net loss of $230,842 after taxes and charges. This contrasts with net profit for the calendar year 1931 of $279,151.

SUES BACKERS OF PICK-BARTH FOR $10,300,000

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 20.—A $10,300,000 suit was brought in the Brooklyn Supreme court today against Nathan S. Jonas, Ralph Jonas, the Manufacturers' Trust company and a group of other defendants by Jacob Gold, a stockholder in the bankrupt Pick-Barth holding company. The amount was lost, according to the complaint, by the operation of the company, which filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in Illinois last December.

In October, 1927, Gold charged, approximately $11,000,000 of the funds of the Pick-Barth companies were diverted through the purchase of various concerns controlled by Irving Isaacs and Ben Lauterstein and by the defendants "all of which were then operating at a loss and were then either insolvent or likely to become insolvent."

The money involved, the complaint says, was borrowed from companies controlled by various of the defendants at excessive interest and the loans were secured by chattel mortgages.

The list of defendants includes Robert C. Skaffner, David B. Stern, James H. Becker and Moses E. Shire, all four individuals, and also as copartners trading under the name of A. G. Becker & Co., Chicago.

ORDERS INQUIRY ON NEW STRAUS SECURITY FIRM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 20.—An immediate investigation into the business activities of the newly organized Straus Securities Company, Inc., 60 Wall street, dealers in securities of real estate, municipalities, public utilities, industrial companies, and banks, was ordered today by John J. Bennett Jr., state attorney general.

His action is the result of an assertion by the resigned receivers of S. W. Straus & Co., Inc., dealers in real estate mortgage bonds, that the company, after consenting to a receivership and injunction restra

AN OPPORTUNITY SELDOM OFFERED.

We are looking for five thoroughly experienced specialty salesmen, one each for Philadelphia, Boston, Louisville, St. Louis, and Kansas City. The successful applicants will be men away above average in ability with past records that prove this ability. They should be between 30 and 45 years of age, should drive their own cars and be prepared to start work at once. Their work will be calling on the executive heads of oil companies and owners of chains of gasoline filling stations. The product is a tried and proved plan that is increasing sales of hundreds of gas stations under present conditions; not advertising or premiums but a complete sales promotion plan. The appeal is unique and results obtained most convincing.

Territories are fully protected—our men are given a thorough training—earnings are far above average, but to qualify you must have solid high grade specialties successfully.

Our firm is highly rated with a record of thirty years of successful operation and a clientele of over 12,000 leading American firms. If you can measure up to our requirements phone Raymond 7855 Tuesday or Wednesday and ask for

MR. C. H. STRONACH.

SOLUTION TO BANDS OF FATE

Fordney knew it was not suicide because of the rubber band he found on the BACK of the man's hand. Had he killed himself it would have been IMPOSSIBLE for this to have occurred. The murderer had unknowingly dropped the small rubber band after searching through the letters. Fate directed its course!

BUT, O VAIN BOAST!
WHO CAN CONTROL HIS FATE?
